On our first page will be found the President's message. We have not had time to read it, but he is all right. Put on your glasses and read it.

Kentucky's seventy-six millions dollars internal revenue to the government last year. Prohibitionists ought to take courage at this. A few such pulls will break up every distiller in the State.

Hon. W. C. Owens of Scott, is a candidate for Congress. Mr. Owens is one of the best lawyers and speakers in the state, and would make a model congressman. He may be guilty, but he has not been caught, so the old Kentucky district could well afford to trust him awhile.

Mr. C. E. Bowers, business manager of the Elizabethtown News, is a candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms of the Democratic caucus. He is a fine young gentleman and is well worthy of the position, and we do not know of the leading candidate in the race.

The Kentucky Equal Rights Association have set out petitions to be signed by the people, asking the Legislature to change the law in regard to woman suffrage. They want to raise the age of "consent" from 12 to 18 years. We hope the Legislature will heed the request. The seducer should be shown a very little, if any favor.

J. J. Yantis, whom Mr. Cleveland appointed Minister to Italy, has resigned. The Republican papers are accused him of giving $50,000 to the Democratic campaign committee, and have claimed that Mr. Cleveland appointed him simply because he did give the money. Mr. Cleveland insisted on Mr. Van Alen withdrawing his resignation, but he refused to do so.

Mr. E. B. Blaine, the distributing clerk of Chief Clerk Colonel Wm. Collier, of Lexington, has resigned. Mr. Blaine has been in the service for a great many years and has been retained through political changes. We hope Colonel Collier will find and contemplating closing his office when Mr. Blaine goes out.

The Lexington Leader professes to believe that the Republicans have a chance of electing the next Governor of Kentucky. If the Leader will only improve that idea on the people of the State, the Democrats will end up a regular Tilden majority. The only reason for the apparent decrease in the Democratic majority in Kentucky is that we have had nothing to fight.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

Last year twenty-six men were killed playing football, and this year twenty-six men will be murdered.—[Boston Ledger.

Not half this number were killed at prize fighting, and yet people go to the thousands to see the game and follow up their scores at a principle. Just so, think of the difference in the men that were killed!

Polk Johnson is a lucky man. Most men have to die to get a monument erected to them, but Polk got a big monument for his, and the people of Kentucky press is saying as nice words about him as if he were dead. We don't want to be left, so we will say he got nothing worse than he deserved, and we hope he may live and the legislature may be kind, in order that we may go to Polk. "Long live our noble actors; long may they perform, for we have never met them."

Dr. Jno. M. Lollar, of Carlisle, and Mr. Jno. Lollar, of Paris, are mentioned as possible candidates on the Republican ticket for Commissioner of State in this district.—[Evening Post.

"Mentioned" will be about all that will be done about gubernatorial timber. The Democratic party will be by one set of the best men in the commonwealth, so we will hasten to congratulate them this district in the next 2500 Democratic majority.—[Bourbon News.

The United States mint received $25,000,000 during November, the largest coinage in a single month of any month since 1891, when $32,000,000 of silver was coined.—[Louisville Dispatch from Washington.

Looks like the Democrats are not going to cut silver out after all. Where the mints are prepared for it and the work silver will be coined by the millions and it is feared that the mints were clamoring for more silver will get it.

The inquest men on the world's day in this city, which was held Monday under his view and fig free authorities by the way of the great city. Each fall, railroads go into the hands of receiver, becoming home owners and all business stagnates; but the wise farmer can reap his fingers of the things. He is necessary of all to our wage on hand, and the party of the party of the hogs and the party of the party of the party of
