The great gathering of the year in the Kentucky Young Men's Christian Association is the coming State Convention, which meets at Winchester, February 23d-26th.

The following Knights of Pythias from this and Moorefield Division donned the white helmeted cap, with their graceful feathered plumes, arrayed in gilt-buttoned uniform with belt and sword, joined in the celebration at Lexington Tuesday, which was the 29th anniversary of the K. of P. organization.

HOOP SKIRTS.

They say, are coming into fashion again. If fashionable let them come, even if the city Council will have to pass an ordinance compelling everybody to widen their pavements. But while the fashion dictators are settling the hoopskirt question we are "hooping" up trade by our prices on our entire stock.

✠ GREAT SALE ✠

OF

TROTTING HORSES.

On Saturday, February, 25th, 1893.

I will sell at the J. W. Thomas, Jr. farm, near Spear's Mill, thirty head of superior horses, including ten handsome Harness Geldings, broken and ready for track or road.

Two four-year-old Stallions, as well bred as any in the world; three two-year-old Stallions; excellent Brood Mares in foal to Wellington 2716; Fillies by Wellington and other sires.

A splendidly bred three-year-old Saddle Mare; two excellent Saddle Mares by Montrose; and two of the fastest and most useful leading ponies in the State.

At the same time and place I will also sell ten Work Mules, as good as can be found anywhere.

About 200 high grade young Ewes just beginning to lamb to Southdown bucks.

A flock (about 60 head), of pure Southdown Ewes, descended from Webb stock, and perhaps the equal of any flock of Southdown sheep in Kentucky.

Six or eight head of good yearling steers and several superior young Milk Cows.
