The Carlisle Mercury

Covers Nicholas

VOLUME LXXXIV. ESTABLISHED 1867 CARLISLE, KY., MAY 3, 1951 PRICE FIVE CENTS NUMBER 17

Blue Star Nursery Opens In County

The opening of the Blue Star Nursery, a new business in Nicholas county, is reported by Charles M. Law. The business is located five and one-half miles from Carlisle, adjoining US 68, on the recently dedicated Blue Star Memorial highway.

The nursery will specialize in production of evergreens, shade trees, flowering shrubs, and broad-leaf evergreens.

The opening sales date is announced for the autumn planting season of 1951.

Fifty-five thousand trees and shrubs of over 100 different kinds have been planted. Mr. and Mrs. Law said the business will eventually occupy 50 acres.

In preparing for transplanting of trees on a continuous cultivation basis, the land has been terraced to control moisture and erosion, and Edward Sanders, of the Soil Conservation Service, and Ed Law, county agent, assisted in planning the terraces and the nursery layout.

The terraces were constructed by George Ronkin Carter. Nursery rows will be maintained on the contour. Of interest to conservation minded farmers, the nursery will propagate multiflora rose, the living permanent fence.

Stock sales will continue throughout the day until all the stock is sold, and highlight of the day will be the giving away of a heifer calf by the stockyard company. The calf will be given away to someone who has sold stock that day at the yards, and will come at the end of the days sales.

Homemakers Observe Sixth Annual National Home Demonstration Week

The sixth annual observance of National Home Demonstration Week, April 29 to May 5, calls attention to one of the high points of the county homemakers program as Nicholas county under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy K. Neal, home demonstration agent. As a result of the program carried on by county officers, club officers and project leaders more than 356 rural families improved their homes this past year, or adopted one or more of the high score practices.

An important link in distributing this information from the college were 168 volunteer leaders taught in 10 training schools. A good program cannot exist without good leadership.

The county homemakers project goals for this year were: (1) to attain better standards in their personal grooming, (2) to improve menu planning and learn new methods of food preparation through the lessons on a meat cookery, b milk cookery, and c. vegetable cookery.

Community conscious, Nicholas County homemakers have taken an active part in improving the health, safety, welfare and recreation in their own communities. This year each club donated food to our new hospital.

Also the Ellisville club helped to buy a new sewing machine for the 4-H clothing girls, East Union homemakers donated a sewing machine for 4-H girls; Sunnyside club gave sewing supplies to the Mayes 4-H clothing project group; Parks gave Xmas packages to patients at the county farm; Carlisle West club had the sewing machine repaired at the Henryville school.

These are just some of the things they have done in their citizenship program this year. They plan to make some improvements at the county rest room this month.

The program is now being outlined for the year 1951-52. At a council meeting held on April 25 it was voted by the advisory council members to have a project study on hooked rugs, business affairs of women, textile painting and glass etching.

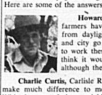
From Daylight Until Dark!!

Last week The Mercury ran a series of comments from local "city people" concerning the annual problem of whether or not to adopt "Daylight Saving Time" in Nicholas county and Carlisle.

For the most part, these men seemed to be in favor of it, and expressed their arguments for it accordingly.

We went out again Saturday and asked the identical question to farmers that we had previously asked the businessmen, "What do you think about Daylight Saving time for Carlisle and Nicholas County?" Here are some of the answers they came up with.

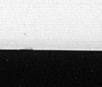


Howard Wells, Carlisle Route 3 farmer. "The farmers have only so many hours to work. That's enough daylight dark. Whether or not the county and city go on Daylight Saving Time, we will have to work these same hours anyway. However, I don't think it would be of too much help to the farmers, although the city people would probably like it."

Charlie Curtis, Carlisle Route 3 farmer: "It don't make much difference to me one way or another. With the rest of these neighboring counties on fast time, it makes it kinda' mean if we remain on the slow time. If we want to go somewhere and do something outside of Nicholas county it get the timing way off."

W. D. Hall, Headquarters pike farmer. "I don't do much farming anymore, but it is my general impression that on the whole, the farmers of this county will be against it. I think that all the farmers, or at least the majority of them, would prefer to stay on the same old time that we are now on."

County Judge Spencer Taylor, Barbtville farmer. "I don't like it. The men that work in the fields won't like it if we go on fast time. It will make it hard on the farmers all theway around. I don't think the county will adopt the Daylight Saving Time. Personally, I hope we stay on the slow time."



Lloyd Earlywine, Barbtville farmer. I don't like the idea of this fast time. If the city goes on fast time, and the county stays on slow time, it will make it hard on the farmers when they want to knock off for a while and come to town, to go to the bank or do some shopping and other things."
