Worst Storm In Thirty Years Hits Carlisle; Central Kentucky

Mercury Falls To 22 Below; Everybody Cold

Last week a snow and ice storm hit Nicholas county that was perhaps the worst that has been seen in this area since the heavy snows of the winter of 1917-18. Temperatures were below the freezing point most of the time and the lowest temperature recorded in Carlisle was 22 degrees below zero, according to A. E. Fisher, local unofficial weather forecaster.

The snow and ice began to thaw Monday and Tuesday, with Wednesday brought snow flurries and a drop in temperature. More cold weather was forecast for later in the week.

Carlisle bend the dubious distinction of unofficially recording the lowest temperature of any town in central Kentucky.

Much damage resulted due to the storm. Ice broke tree limbs, causing them to damage electric wires, or, in some cases, caused the roads to be extremely hazardous, water pipes freze and burst, and melting snow caused interior damage to some stores.

Limb Falls

Most damage caused in the city by the falling of tree limbs was to the home of Miss Jimmie Henry, East Main street. (See photo). The limb hit the electric wires leading into the house and jerked the meter and conduit from the wall.

Miss Henry was without lights and heat for sometime. Mr. G. E. Duncan, Duncan and Son Electric Shop, repaired the damage, and estimated it to be around $35.

Several limbs fell in the city, and McCracken street between High and Morgan was blocked by limbs as was Locust street between Mulberry and North one day last week.

Maintenance Crews Summoned

The Kentucky Utilities reported that much damage was done to electric wires in this area. This was especially true in the county and particularly so in the Sharpsburg and Moorefield regions. Two maintenance crews were summoned to Carlisle Friday from Cynthiana and Paris to aid in the repair work.

In the rural areas, travel was difficult, and mail was slow. It continued for a few days last week in some sections of the county, due to the impassable road conditions.

Mr. R. D. Collins Dies In Lexington

Mr. Richard Durbin Collins, 85, died at 7 a. m. Wednesday at the St. Joseph hospital in Lexington. Mr. Collins had lived in Lexington for the past few years with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. George Tucker.

Mr. Collins was born in Dry Ridge, Kentucky, in 1865, the son of Mr. Richard Lewis Collins and Elizabeth Durbin. He was a cousin of Lewis Collins, author of The History of Kentucky, and was a student of history himself. He was a member of the Methodist church in Georgetown.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Warren Fisher, Carlisle and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and Mrs. Harry M. George Tucker, Lexington. Other survivors include one grandson, Mr. Warren Fisher, Carlisle, and three grandaughters, Mrs. Teofilo Nuno, Carlisle and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil and Mrs. Walter Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Rosa Johnston Tucker, Lexington.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 11 a. m. at the grave in the Georgetown cemetery. Dr. Robert Miles, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Lexington, will conduct the services. The grave will be at the home of Mrs. Tucker in Lexington.

Pallbearers have not yet been named.

Miss Harper Named Chairman Of Drive

Property Sold In Bourbon

Four tracts of land from the estate of the late T. M. Gillespie were sold Monday at a commissioner's sale at the courthouse in Paris. Russell and Tom Prather were the buyers of a tract containing 129.9791 acres on the Long Boone creek on the Gillespie pike near Little Rock. This property was bought for $189 per acre.

E. B. Lashbrooke was the purchaser of a 103.66070-acre tract designated as the Gillespie home place. This property brought $245 per acre. The third tract, 104.83842 acres was bought by Richard L. Hinkle and E. L. Burden at $127 an acre.

The fourth and smallest tract, 47.73997 acres, was bought by Emmett R. Davis Jr. for $150 an acre. All of the farms front on the Gillespie pike.

Mr. Reina, who is preparing to go to Japan as a missionary under the United Christian Missionary Society, will speak on the topic, "There is still a place."

The morning speaker brings an outgoing background to the Moorefield pulpit. Himself a product of the mission work of the United Christian Missionary Society, which is sponsoring the Moorefield church, he in turn has dedicated his life to mission work in foreign lands.

The son of a minister, he came to the United States when he was twenty-two; a graduate of the University of London, he received his Master's degree at the University of Michigan and was granted an AB. then an MA. degree at Yale. Senator Chapman Appointed To Appropriations Committee

Senator Virgil Chapman received his sixth assignment to an important committee Tuesday when The Kentucky senator was appointed by Chairman Russell of the Armed Services Committee to serve on a special three-man subcommittee within the Appropriations Committee.

This new assignment means that on appropriations for the Army, Navy, and Air Force, Chapman will have as much of a vote as any member of the Appropriations Committee.

The unusual number of front rank jobs to which Chapman has been appointed are evidence of the extent to which Senator Chapman is emerging as an influential member of the Senate.

Local Man's Parents Overcome By Fumes; Condition Critical

Mr. and Mrs. Cleary Fightmaster were still in critical condition at the Massie Memorial hospital, Paris, where they were taken early Monday after they had been overcome by gas fumes in their home in East Paris. Neither had regained consciousness Wednesday.

Fightmaster was 70 years old today, his wife is about 65.

Their son-in-law, Miller Kiser, found them unconscious in bed shortly before 6 a. m. He broke a rear window to gain entrance to the house when he noticed that their grocery store next door had not been opened at the customary hour and he was unable to arouse them by telephone. Kiser said the house was filled with gas fumes.

A physician and city firemen attempted to revive the couple before they were taken to the hospital. Hospital attendants said they had been placed under oxygen tents but neither had regained consciousness and little hope was held for their recovery.

The couple's store is located at the intersection of the Maysville and North Middletown pikes. A clogged vent on their gas furnace was blamed for the fumes.

Miss Lawrence had not regained consciousness as of Tuesday, and little hope was held for her recovery. She suffered head injuries in the accident.

Judge Dedman To Retire Soon

Circuit Judge James Clay Dedman, Cynthiana, judge of the 18th district which is made up of Nicholas, Pendleton, Harrison and Robertson counties, will retire from the bench and will not seek re-election at the expiration of his present term this year.

Judge Dedman holds a record of having never been opposed for public office in the 48 years that he has served as commonwealth's attorney and circuit judge in this district.

And until January of last year, when illness confined him to his home, he had never missed a scheduled term of court in the four counties in his district.

Judge Dedman, now 81 years old, is a direct descendant of Henry Clay. He was born in Woodford county October 23, 1869, the son of Robert and Mary Remington Dedman.

He has two living children, Mrs. Colvin Rouse of Versailles and Thomas Dedman of Cynthiana and five grandchildren. His wife, Mrs. Mary Ashbrook Dedman, died 12 years ago.

Graduating from the Cincinnati Law College, Judge Dedman was admitted to the bar in 1892 at Cynthiana. Judge Dedman entered public service May 9, 1902, when he was elected commonwealth's attorney.

After 18 years as commonwealth's attorney, Mr. Dedman was elected circuit judge and has served in that capacity for 30 years.

Judge Dedman recently recalled that during his terms as commonwealth's attorney there were more troubles in court then than in recent years. He said he always used the Golden Rule of "doing unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Local Schools Tangle Friday In Annual Grudge Battle

While most things have been quiet on the local basketball scene this past week because of postponements, its like the lull before the storm.

Friday night in Carlisle's gym the Carlisle Mustangs will be out to avenge the setback handed to them in December by their county rivals, the Nicholas County Blue Jackets.

In their first encounter of the season, the Blue Jackets, placed by Dennis Guanse and Ward Shannon, led all the way to defeat the Mustangs, 40-35. However, Carlisle missed on 17 of 26 free throws and a better percentage at the foul line Friday night, will make the contest shape up to look like a toss-up.

Neither team was able to get much practicing done last week, but due to the postponements of games last Friday and Tuesday night, both teams have had the opportunity to devote most of their time toward getting ready for Friday night's battle.

Adding to the color of Friday night's game will be the crowning of the Carlisle High School basketball sponsor, Miss Vera Walker, senior at the high school.

A B-team game will precede the main event between the two schools. It will start at 6:30 p. m.

The varsity game will probably begin around 8:15 p. m.

The probable starting lineups for the two teams are:

NCHS		CHS
Clark	G	Shannon
Hardin	G	H. Fryman
Shepherd	C	Grimes
Cavanaugh	F	L. Fryman
Booth	F	Gaunce

LIVESTOCK DIE

Among Nicholas county farmers reporting livestock losses during the current cold spell was Hamer Miller, who lost three stock, valued at $300, by pneumonia. Miller, owner of a farm in the Bald Hill section, valued the cattle at $1500 apiece.

R. M. Smith, Carlisle, owner of a farm near Headquarters, reported the loss of six lambs, all of which froze to death. He estimated the loss of the animals at $180.

An ambulance of the Mathers-Shearer funeral home which was sent for a woman reported ill on the Lower Jackstown road Thursday morning was halted by snow drifts and was not able to reach her. However, a vehicle of the State Highway department got through and the woman was able to get to Nicholas County hospital Thursday night.

Several Carlisle merchants and home owners were bothered by the snow melting and leaking into their stores and homes. Tubs, pans, and buckets were used to catch the water that leaked through. A main water pipe in the Fedback hotel was frozen for sometime before Johnny Fedback was able to thaw it out. Many water pipes froze and burst.

Several Auto Accidents

Slippery roads took their share in the local storm picture. Several cars were damaged as chains weren't helping too much to insure safe driving. Last week Powell Neal's car had its side and fender damaged near Buntin's Garage. Dan Rich had his car sideswiped
