John S. Juett Announces For Senator

Mr. Juett was born and raised on a farm near Williamstown, Grant County, Kentucky. He graduated from Williamstown High School and attended Centre College and University of Ky. He is a member of the board of trustees of the Williamstown Methodist Church and teaches a Sunday School Class of young married people. Also he is a member of the Williamstown School Board, a member of the board of directors of the Bank of Williamstown and on the board of regents of Eastern State College at Richmond, Ky.

Mr. Juett is a member of Lodge 45 Free and Accepted Masons, Scottish rite at Covington and the Otseka Shrine at Lexington, Ky. He is a past president of his home rotary club and has been active in all civic affairs.

Four years ago Mr. Juett made the race for Senator and due to the fact that a very popular man from his home county was also in the race and a few other unfortunate circumstances he was defeated by seven hundred and thirty-three votes in the whole district of the six counties. This time having a clear field it would seem that he could win provided it is the will of the people

He does not intend to make a lot of promises that will never be filled, only to do the best he can with the judgment that God gave him and to be able, if elected, and willing to talk and advise with you at any time you wish to call upon him.

Mr. Juett would be glad for anyone that desires to talk into his past and learn if he is qualified.

He served two terms in the legislature and believes he left Frankfort with the respect of all that knew him.

We are sure that Mr. Juett would appreciate your vote and influence.

To Voters of Nicholas

The rumor has been circulated over Nicholas County that I have not been a resident of this county for the length of time required by law to qualify me for County Judge. I was born in Nicholas County and have always considered Nicholas County my home.

My work has caused me to be away from my home for a great part of the time during the last ten years, but there has never been any doubt in my mind regarding my home.

Threats have been made that immediately after June 16, the last day for filing, legal action would be instituted to keep my name off the ballot. I have consulted my own lawyers in connection with this question. It seems to be the law of Kentucky that if one is absent from his place of residence for an indefinite period of time his right to hold public office is doubtful. If it were not for the considerable expense involved in litigation I would have no hesitancy in submitting my cause to the voters of Nicholas County and litigating the matter to the Court of Appeals of Kentucky. The costs of litigation, however, is heavy and I cannot afford it. I have, therefore, decided to withdraw as a candidate for County Judge in the 1953 elections. I shall take immediate steps to remove whatever obstacle there is to my Nicholas County residence and I shall certainly, in these elections and in future elections, take a lively interest in the political affairs of my county.

I am indebted beyond expression to those voters who so willingly offered me their support. I hope always to retain these friendships and to increase them, for under no circumstances do I ever intend to be a resident of any county except Nicholas or of any state except Kentucky.

Spencer C. Payne

Hundreds Honor Dr. B. F. Reynolds At Ceremony Here Saturday Afternoon

Several hundred people gathered on the spacious Nicholas county court house lawn Saturday afternoon in sweltering 90 degree temperature to pay tribute to Dr. B. F. Reynolds, who recently completed 50 years of the practice of medicine here.

Many more people lined the south side of Main street across the way from the courthouse and others look'ed on from windows and third floor building windows nearby.

Dr. Edie Ashbury, prominent Cincinnati and Carlisle surgeon, praised Dr. Reynolds on behalf of his professional life and stated that Dr. Reynolds had been a "real doctor in every sense of the word."

Mr. E. E. Planteel, former superintendent of the Carlisle city schools, paid tribute to Dr. Reynolds' community life, pointing out the various activities Dr. Reynolds had engaged in over a half century here and gave a brief review of his life. He concluded his address with a poem, printed elsewhere in this issue.

Recognized along with Dr. Reynolds was the grandaughter of the first baby he delivered, two-year-old Donna Mardis, and the latest baby he delivered, two-week-old Virginia Alene Fryman. Miss Mardis is the granddaughter of Paul Walden of Covington, who has the distinction of being the first of several thousand babies Dr. Reynolds delivered.

Little Virginia Alene Fryman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fryman of Route 3, Millersburg.

Interspersed throughout the crowd gathered to honor Dr. Reynolds were numerous children and their mothers. When Rev. J. J. Whitehouse asked for a show of hands of those brought into the world by the doctor hands shot up all over the crowd and up and down the street from where people were listening.

On behalf of the community, Mrs. Eda. Taylor presented Dr. Reynolds with a television set and Mrs. Reynolds was given an orchid. The couple were introduced by Rev. J. A. Alexander and gave a brief response to the tribute paid them.

Honored Sunday

Rev. J. J. Whitehouse further honored Dr. Reynolds Sunday morning at the Christian church services with a special "Father's Day" program in his behalf. At the conclusion of the service, Dr. Reynolds was presented a vase of roses.

Dr. Edie Asbury entertained at his Forest Retreat Farm Friday night members of the medical profession from Nicholas and adjoining counties with a dinner in Dr. Reynolds honor.

Tevis's Resign From CHS Faculty

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stone Tevis, faculty members of the Carlisle high school for the past year, have resigned their positions with the school and left Saturday for Lexington where Mr. Tevis will enter summer school at the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Tevis taught English and dramatics at CHS and Mrs. Tevis was home economics instructor at the school.

GROUTING STARTS AT CITY RESERVOIR

The Mott Core Drilling Co. of Huntington, W. Va., started grouting the leaks on the upper lake dam last Thursday, according to Water Superintendent Joe Clay. The grouting is expected to be completed within 30 days. Three men are doing the work.

HONOR GUESTS— At the Dr. Reynolds Day celebration staged here Saturday to commemorate Dr. Reynolds completion of fifty years of the practice of medicine here were the above. On the left Dr. Reynolds stands next to ten-year-old Donna Mardis, granddaughter of the first baby he delivered. Rev. J. J Whitehouse, master of ceremonies at the event, holds two-week-old Virginia Alene Fryman, the most recent baby tax of last Saturday's that Dr. Reynolds had delivered. Several hundred persons gathered on the courthouse lawn Saturday afternoon to pay tribute to Dr. Reynolds.—The Carlisle Mercury photo.

PLEASANT SURPRISE

Mrs. Retha Wills received a pleasant birthday surprise Monday which came from several thousand miles away. Mrs. Wills and her mother, Mrs. Odetta Miller were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Wills of Headquarters, who, unknown to Reba were expecting a call from their son and her husband, Pfc. Calvin Wills called from Frankfort, Germany, to wish his wife a happy birthday. Quite a pleasant surprise.

Vets' On-Farm-Training Program Traced By Teacher At Rotary Meeting

Foster Pumphrey, assistant teacher of agriculture at Nicholas County high school was in charge of the Carlisle Rotary Club program last Thursday night. He traced the development of the Veterans On-Farming Training Program in Nicholas county. Some of the highlights of his talk follow.

The Veterans On-Farm Training program in Nicholas county started February 13, 1946 with the organization of group A under Glenn Ed Spradlin by John P. Pattle, then head teacher of agriculture at Headquarters.

In September of 1946 the program was expanded by adding group B with Jimmy Williams as instructor. Further expansion was made a year later by adding group C under John Adams and Group D under Noel McDonald. The first change in instructors came in January 1948 when Mr. Pattle resigned to move to Hardin county. John Adams took over his duties as Head Teacher and Roscoe Jenkins was hired to replace him.

Group E was started in April by Douglas Lowry and the program reached a peak in September of 1949 when group F was organized under David Lykins who was the first associate teacher. This made a total of six chapters of veterans and although no new groups were added there was a constant change in both instructors and students.

Three Groups

The local department is set up on a three teacher basis at the present time with John Adams, as head teacher; A. J. Thaxton, instructor for group A; and Foster Pumphrey, instructor for group B. Other teachers who have taken part in this work who are no longer connected with the program in Nicholas county are John Soper, Richard Howard, Kenneth Boone, Marion Roberts, Oscar Stats, George Campbell, Ollie Adams and Albert Lee.

This program of adult education conducted by the Nicholas County Board of Education through cooperation with the state department of education and the Veterans Administration, has brought over $135,000 annually into the county in subsistence payments alone, but the results of the training already show that the many times that amount will be realized in increased farm production.

Louisville Magazine Cites Mercury Efforts

"Louisville," the magazine publication of the Louisville Chamber of Commerce, carried an article in its latest issue on"the newspapers which received awards for excellent community service in their respective communities in recent contests.

After citing the efforts of the two winning publications the article continued: "While the two publications were declared winners, judges pointed out that two other publications should be given honorable mention. These are The Carlisle Mercury, published by Warren R. Fisher Jr., and the McLean County News, published by Landon Wills and Cashman Ayer. Both papers gave much in community service to their respective communities during the contest months."

The article also carried a picture of the winning publications.

Also pictured in the magazine was a portion of the Carlisle high school band while the group was playing during the Louisville Chamber of Commerce's "Get Acquainted-Tour" here.

Man Vanishes Sunday After Knifing Woman

Mrs. Maymie McKilbreth of Carlisle received an eight inch cut across the abdomen Sunday night about 9 o'clock in Hopkinsville and was taken to the local hospital where several stitches were required to close the wound.

Tells Neighbors

Officers reported that the cutting was done by Bert Hawkins, about 55, who disappeared immediately after the incident. The officers stated that the cutting came after an argument between the two and as soon as it happened Hawkins told neighbors to call an ambulance, then got into his car and drove away.

His whereabout has not been determined by investigating officers.

Farm Group To Survey County On Fire Problem

The Nicholas County Farm Bureau had one of its most enthusiastic meetings of the year Monday night as they met to discuss the possibility of establishing a county fire department here.

The group decided to make a survey of the county to find out if the people want fire protection and how much they would be willing to give to help get one established here.

Also Attends

Each Farm Bureau director will conduct the survey in his district.

Also attending the meeting was City Fire Chief Paul Coatney, who is chairman of the County Fire Department Committee of the Carlisle-Nicholas County Development Association. He addressed the group on what would be needed in the way of equipment and finances to get such a project going here.

State Health Department Lists Polio Precautions For Youngsters

Polio precautions are as important in 1953 as in previous years, stresses B. M. Drake, M. D., Director of Communicable, Preventive Medical Service, Kentucky State Department of Health. Kentucky has been allocated only 2400 doses of gamma globulin, the blood derivative with antibodies that give a five-week partial immunity to poliomyelitis, Dr. Drake said, but it will be given only to family contacts under 30 and to pregnant women of any age. Family contacts are the other members of the family in which there is a diagnosed case of polio

Dr. Drake stated that since gamma globulin is so limited, parents should not depend on the possibility of obtaining it, and practice polio precautions as always.

1) Avoid a sudden chill or overtiring. Both lower resistance.

2) Avoid crowds or contacts with strangers. Lead a normal life.

3) Children should swim only in chlorinated pools or clean streams.

4) Practice habits of cleanliness and sanitation. Wash hands regularly.

Although headache, sore throat, low fever, nausea, listlessness and pains or stiffening in the muscles may appear slight and similar to other ailments, consult your family physician immediately if these occur. If it is polio, immediate rest and immediate treatment are necessary.

Polio is serious because some cases die and some are paralyzed. Fifteen to 25 per cent are left handicapped. In 1951, however, it should be noted there were 323 reported polio cases in Kentucky, compared to 1366 cases of whooping cough, 8881 cases of measles and 148 cases of diphteria. The latter diseases also cause death and severe though not always obvious handicaps.

In 1951, also, in the age group under 20, there were 132 deaths due to accidents which occurred in homes, and an estimated 528 home accidents which left children and youths permanently crippled. In this same age group only 13 died of polio that year, out of 273 cases, with an estimated 55 crippling.

In The Service

On 15-Day Leave Here

Airc Ward Shannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Shannon of the county is spending a 15-day leave with his parents before reporting for duty overseas.

Goes Overseas

HMC Paul Bishop, Mrs. Bishop and two children, stationed at Pensacola, Fla., with the U. S. Navy, arrived last week for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Spencer Bishop and Mrs. Bishop's parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Trimble of East Union. They will return to Pensacola July 5.

Nicholas FFA Wins Top Rating

WINNERS—E. R. Murphy, left, U.K. farm service director, is shown after presenting cash-award "gold emblem" certificates to the presidents of eight of the top Future Farmers chapters in the state. The chapters, who will share in the K. U. awards, received "gold emblem" ratings at their F.F.A. State convention held June 15-17 in Louisville. Representing their respective chapters are, kneeling, from left, Frank Pollick, Simon Kenton, Kerry Kendy, Corydon, Kenneth Bruce, Cuba; and Robert Campbell, Drakesboro. Standing, same order, Murphy, Vernon Waggoner, Nicholas County, Gerald Oliver, Lafayette-Bryan Station, Wendell Oast, West Louisville, and Robert Gordon, Wingo.

The Nicholas County Chapter of Future Farmers of America was one of the 16 chapters to receive the top "Gold Emblem" rating at the 24th annual state convention at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville, June 15-17.

More than 1,000 Future Farmers were welcomed to the event by chief of the Bureau of Vocational Education, James L. Patton. Laverne Shrine, Dry Ridge state FFA president presided at the convention.

Fifteen members of the Nicholas County Chapter attended the convention. They were Harold Hamm, Kenneth Baker, Charles Rose, Billy Keen Anderson, Billy Lynam, Billy Shrout, Earl Smith, Gary Shrout, Mark Brady, Frank Conyers, Edgar Boyd, Vernon Wagoner, Billy Grimes and Donnie Lynam. John Adams, vocational agriculture teacher and FFA chapter adviser, accompanied the group on a school bus furnished by the Nicholas County Board of Education.

Special convention honors went to Vernon Wagoner for winning the second place award in the

Festival Plans Near Completion

Plans for the Fourth of July Blackberry Festival shifted into high gear this week as the American Legion completed final arrangements for one of the biggest celebrations held here in years.

More concessions than ever before will dot the court house square and booth space around the Main stem has been completely sold, according to the booth sale committee.

Voting on candidates for queen of the Festival began this week throughout the county and a close contest is predicted.

Former Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler will be the principal speaker at the celebration and a mammoth display of fire works is set for Saturday night, July 4.

Children's contests and prizes have been planned for the occasion and will furnish plenty of entertainment for the youngsters.

Dancing Each Night

Round and square dancing will be held each night on Main street as the street will be roped off from Locust to Broadway to provide plenty of space for the dancers. Jimmy Gilpin and his orchestra will play for the strictly round dance scheduled for Friday night, July 3. A string band from Lexington will play intermittently thruout the Festival.

Candidates for public offices will have banners across the street. Those having banners will be John Anderson, Cassius Clay, Spencer Taylor, Sen. H. Stanley Black.

Firms and individuals purchasing booth space were: Legion Auxiliary, American Legion, True Mackey, Harper's Garage, Stanley Galbraith and Son, Gene's TV, Doyle Motor Sales, Galbraith Buick, Cynthiana Motors, Square Deal Grocery, Buntin's Garage, Carlisle Volunteer Fire Department, Dampier Motor's, Duncan and Son, William Blanton, Kash Ratliff, Jno. F. Sugg, Standard Oil Co., Rex Shell Station, Rose Service Station and the Carlisle Rotary club.

The program will open Thursday afternoon, July 2.

Car Overturns Injuring Ecton

John Allen Ecton, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ecton on the Cane Run road was seriously injured about 10 o'clock Saturday night near Mt. Sterling when the car he was driving overturned.

The auto skidded on some gravel at a filling station at the corner of the Stoneridge and Sharpsburg road and overturned. Ecton received a deep cut across the forehead, a leg laceration and numerous bruises.

His companion, Bruce Ring, 16, also of this county, escaped with bruises, and did not require hospitalization. Ecton was taken to the Mary Chiles hospital in Mt. Sterling for treatment.

He is on leave from the U. S. Navy in San Francisco and was supposed to return to his base Saturday. He has been granted a three-week extension of leave to recuperate from his injuries.

Loans Available On Sacked Wheat

Because of a shortage of warehouse storage facilities for the 1953 wheat crop in Kentucky, the Production and Marketing Administration Grain Branch has authorized regular chattel mortgage loans to farmers on sacked wheat stored in tobacco warehouses of other structures found suitable by county PMA Committees.

Authorization of this type of storage for 1953-crop wheat under the farm price support program was announced here today by the State PMA committee.

County PMA committees will be responsible for approving storage structures for this type of storage. They may be approved where available for storage of wheat of two or more producers under supervision of a custodian. The custodian will be required to preserve the identity of each producer's wheat and assure its protection from rodents, insects, and other hazards.

Eligibility Similar

Eligibility and other requirements for this type of storage are substantially the same as for wheat in farm storage.

Further details are available from county PMA Committees.
