A TRIBUTE OF RESPECT TO THE MEMORY OF
M. D. JUDGE

Minor Davis Judge was a dependant of a pioneer Nicholas County family. He was born and spent all of his long and useful life in the Moorefield community of Nicholas County, Kentucky. He was a life-long member of the Moorefield Christian church, contributed generously to its support, was a regular attendant at its services and was an Officer of the church for many, many years.

His business interests were many and varied. He was an excellent farmer and in partnership with his two sons, Hanson D. and James C. Judge, he operated one of our larger farms and they were probably one of the largest producers of tobacco in their community. He and his sons maintained and produced the largest herd of purebred Hereford cattle in Nicholas county.

Mr. Judge, in addition to his many interests in Nicholas county, was owner of extensive orange groves in Florida.

He was one of the larger stockholders of the Moorefield Deposit Bank, a Director of said Bank for more than forty years and its President for more than thirty years, a record seldom, if ever, equalled in the history of Banking in Nicholas county.

He was a Director of the Hurst Home Insurance Company of Lexington, Kentucky, for many years. He was also one of the organizers and a Director of the Moorefield Merchantile Company through its entire existance for more than forty years.

Surpassing all of his many devoted interests in life, except his devotion to his Church and to his family, was his interest and devotion to The Christian Church's Widows and Orphans Home of Louisville, Kentucky, to which he was a regular and generous contributor.

The writer of this tribute believes that this was his devoted way of helping those who were unable to help themselves.

For nearly fifty years, I was a business associate of this quiet, unassuming man and in all that long time I never heard him make a boastful remark about any of his achievements, nor a derogatory statement about any other man's achievements or his failures.

"What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, love mercy and walk humbly with thy God?"

One mining company operating on the Caribbean island of Jamaica takes out more than a million tons of bauxite annually, says the National Geographic Society. The supply of this aluminum ore is expected to last 50 to 60 years, perhaps longer if further explorations reveal more workable deposits.

Many fishes are named for their prominent features. The pipefish sucks food through a tubular snout, says the National Geographic Society. The flatfish has a sandpaper skin. The cowfish carries horns. The spines on either side of the surgeonfish's tail open up like a jackknife. The porcupinefish, resembling its landlubber namesake, raises sharp, defensive spikes inflated by water or air, all over its body. Porcupinefishes bristle only when frightened. Normally the spines lie flat.

Sharks inhabit the lightless layers of water 2½ miles below the surface of the Atlantic Ocean 160 miles southwest of Dakar. A 6½-foot-long fish recently swam into the glare of lights shining from the French Navy's deep-sea-diving bathyscaphe. Its long body undulating lazily, the shark peered with protruding eyes into the bathyscaphe's porthole.

County Tobacco Field Meeting At S. R. Barlow's Farm

A County Tobacco Field meeting will be held Monday morning, August 16 at the farm of S. R. Barlow, according to William Sloan, county agent. The meeting will begin at 9:00 a.m. CST and will be concluded before noon.

Burley growers will be given an opportunity to inspect the tobacco variety demonstrations that is being carried on by Mr. Barlow in cooperation with the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Six varieties of burley tobacco are being grown on a test basis to determine difference in yield, quality, and incidence control and several other factors.

Russell A. Hunt, Field Agent in Tobacco will attend the meeting and will discuss with the Nicholas county Tobacco Growers current problems and productions. All growers are invited to attend this meeting.

Heavy Fines Given Drunken Driver

After a wild auto chase from the Eastern city limits of Carlisle to the Gallion Hill dirt road Saturday afternoon State Patrolman Chester Harp apprehended Kenneth Bromagen of Myers Route 1, driver of the vehicle and two others Bobby Cox of Myers Route 1, and William Hopkins of Paris Route 5.

The chase began when Patrolman Harp stopped Bromagen near the falling station of Frank Simons while making a routine check of driver's permits. Judge Taylor stated that Bromagen was chased across North street through Henryville where his auto narrowly missed hitting several children.

Cox and Hopkins were charged with being drunk in a public place and Bromagen with drunken driving and operating a motor vehicle on a suspended license.

In county court Monday Judge Spencer Taylor fined Cox and Hopkins each $10 and $9.50 costs. Bromagen was fined $150 and $9.50 costs for drunken driving plus $25 and $9.50 costs for driving on a suspended permit.

Farmers Still Show Interest In Weather Modification Plans

Interest in cloud seeding in Nicholas County isn't dead and this was attested to by the presence of some 45 interested farmers who were on hand Monday night at the Nicholas County high school meeting.

The meeting presided over by Farm Bureau President John Hamilton attempted to formulate a plan whereby the public could be educated to the advantages of weather modification.

County Agent William Straw was asked by Mr. Hamilton to give a review of the previous meeting and explain just what cloud seeding meant. Also brought to the attention of the group was an article in the August issue of Readers Digest called "They Make Rain When the Clouds Roll By." The article was a description of the work being done by Water Resources Development Corporation of Denver, Colo which is the same corporation that Bourbon county Water Run Inc. group is entering into an agreement with.

It is hoped that some prominent Bourbon county persons will be on hand Thursday night to address the Rotary club and also the South-ern States Co-op Fish Fry about cloud seeding.

Information concerning cloud seeding is being gathered, mimeographed and distributed so that various farm and business groups may become better educated with the plan.

Spray Firm Advised Spray Impotent

With numerous complaints being registered by citizens concerning the recent spraying by a Lexington firm to kill mosquitoes and other insects the Carlisle-Nicholas County Development Association President, Charles Cox, has written the following letter to Lexington spraying firm.

I think it is only right and fair that I get in touch with you in regard to the spraying of Carlisle on the Night of July 30 and July 31, and August 1, 1954.

I have been the recipient of nothing but complaints since the spraying was done and the great mass of people that have talked to me have indicated that they do not feel that the job was efficiently carried out. Not being satisfied with just verbal complaints I have gone out and visited in some of the homes of my close friends and the mosquitoes are definitely bad

Farmers Are Urged To Attend Meet Explaining State Dairy Referendum

Farmers in Nicholas County will vote August 21 on the statewide dairy promotion referendum.

The referendum sponsored by the state Dairy Commission will give farmers a chance to say "Yes" or "No" as to whether they are willing to finance a dairy promotion program in Kentucky.

Kenneth Stephenson, local chairman of the education committee has announced a meeting for Monday night, August 16 at 7 o'clock slow time at the Nicholas County high school to explain the proposals as called for by the dairy referendum.

All dairy farmers in Nicholas County are urged to express their opinions through voting according to Walter Shepherd, chairman of the local dairy committee. The voting place in Nicholas will be at the court house.

"The problem," John Moser, Oldham County dairy farmer and Chairman of the Kentucky Dairy Commission, said, "of expanding the dairy industry through sales promotion, education and research can be solved providing the dairy industry can finance an adequate program that is equal to, or better than, the similar programs financed by manufacturers and distributors of dairy substitutes."

The boards of directors of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation and the American Dairy Association of Kentucky this week endorsed this self-help program of increasing dairy sales without depending on tax-supported programs.

W. E. Lynam and Noble Gillispie are referendum officials.

Two Communities Report Thefts

Reports from the Mt. Zion and Maple Grove communities of Nicholas county indicate that thieves have not been at all particular about what they take during the past week or two.

Missing from several families gardens were chicken vegetables, others reported thefts of eggs, chickens, bush wire, gasoline, old tobacco setter, wagon wheels and farm tools.

Those having gardens robbed were Aitken Downing, potatoes and A. J. Vinson, nine heads of cabbage (only the best heads were picked) and a sample of everything else in the garden taken.

Glenn Hardin, lost a new roll of barb wire and part of another.

Jerry Brewer, 24 fryers from hen house and an axe.

Bobby Reid, all his hens with the exception of eight.

J. C. Livingood, quantity of grease.

Oliver Clavell, iron wagon wheels.

John Stagg, radio and a pair of pants.

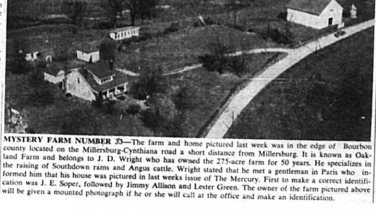
A horse pulling contest will be sponsored Saturday night by the Lloyd George VFW Post. The show will be held at the new community field at Nicholas County high school.

Can You Identify This Mystery Farm Photograph?



MYSTERY FARM NUMBER 33—The farm and home pictured last week was in the edge of Bourbon county located on the Millersburg-Cynthiana road a short distance from Millersburg. It is known as Oakland Farm and belongs to J. D. Wright who has owned the 275-acre farm for 50 years. He specializes in the raising of Southdown rams and Angus cattle. Wright stated that he met a gentleman in Paris who informed him that his house was pictured in last weeks issue of The Mercury. First to make a correct identification was J. E. Soper, followed by Jimmy Allison and Lester Green. The owner of the farm pictured above will be given a mounted photograph if he or she will call at the office and make an identification.

Veach Heads Local Ticket Sale For Shrine Circus

Shriner Howard Veach, Carlisle, has accepted the chairmanship for the Annual Shrine Circus in this county and is directing the ticket sales for this annual event which promises greater thrills than ever before.

Thirty-two thrilling acts of courage and split-second timing will be presented at the Lexington Trotting Track in eight performances four afternoon matinees and four evening performances. The matinees start at 2:30 p.m., the evening shows at 8:15 p.m.

Prices for the general admission tickets have been reduced to $1.00 for many new seats have been added to take care of the increasing crowds to this popular, clean circus. Two children under twelve years of age will be admitted to the general section for one general $1.00 admission ticket.

Reserved Seats

Reserved grandstand seats may be reserved at popular prices of box seats, $2.25 and $2.50; other reserved seats at $2.25 and $1.75. All taxes included in these prices. Tickets for all performances can be reserved by mail to the Shrine Ticket Office, Graves Cox & Co., 126 Main Street, Lexington. A general admission ticket will count as $1.00 toward any reserved seat price.

As only two requested acts of last year will appear on the program, thirty new thrilling and breath-taking acts will give full enjoyment for the two-hour program. These acts are the best that circusdom can produce and many have not been seen in this area before.

See the Great Wallenda Troupe, 9 people performing at once on the high wire; see the death-defying acts of the Geraldos, the Bogino Troupe, and the Flying Harolds on the high trapeze—and don't miss the thrilling act of Miss Eva Walker, world premier trapeze artiste.

The kiddies, young and old, will enjoy seeing the five bears perform with the Kalanders troupe—two bears will ride motorcycles; or Poly Orea with her 15 performing white spitz dogs; or three intelligent elephants with their tricks; or Jungle Monkey Man who defies gravity.

The sensational Aerial ballet of 12 girls on the spinning Spider Web and 7 girls doing tricks while suspended by their teeth will thrill all, while the acrobatic Merkys will do tricks on the bars.

Let's not forget the best-known bareback riding on beautiful horses by Poodles Hanneford and his four assistants. On the greatest thrill of all when Cresso's Rocket Car comes swooping to the ground. And clowns, clowns, clowns.

Ask any local Shriner for your tickets—and get your reservations in early for any performance of your choice.

Alabama Driver Hurt Sunday

Henry Clemmons, 35, of Huntsville, Ala., suffered a fractured collarbone and shock when the truck he was driving skidded and overturned on US 68 near Franklin Caswell's about 1 p.m. Sunday.

He was admitted to the Nicholas County hospital for treatment.

The truck was driving a new cement mixer truck from the factory to Alabama.

DOUGHERTY LODGE TO MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

James Platt, master of Dougherty Lodge No. 65, F. & A. M. announced Monday that the regular meeting of the lodge scheduled for Friday night beginning at 7:30 CDT. Work in the master degree will be held and all visiting Masons are invited to attend.

Rev. Joe Davis To Speak at Methodist Church Sunday

Rev. Joe Davis, son of Dr. Warner P. Davis, Superintendent of the Carlisle District of the Methodist church, and Mrs. Davis, will speak at the Carlisle Methodist church at the regular morning worship service next Sunday, August 15 as announced by Rev. G. W. Townsend, Pastor.

He, together with his family, returned to this country in June from the Belgian Congo, where he served a term of five years as a missionary under the General Board of Missions of The Methodist Church. He will remain in the United States for one year on furlough.

He attended the city schools of Carlisle, graduated from Asbury College and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, and in further preparation for his work, studied one year in the Kennedy School of Missions at Hartford, Conn.

His friends are invited to hear him at the local Methodist church Sunday morning.

More Pipe Shipped

Mayor William Power stated Wednesday that he had been informed by telephone that the U. S. Pipe & Foundry Co., Birmingham, Ala. had shipped 242 pieces of roll-on joint pipe and that another car load would be sent August 12. A spokesman for the company also said that a car of mechanical joint pipe was on the way.

Saturday 88 pieces of mechanical joint pipe were received and Wednesday morning 56 more were being unloaded here.

HOBART C. STALL, manager of the local Kroger Grocery on Main street since April 1954, has been named temporary manager of the Williamstown store. Stall and wife formerly came to Carlisle from Williamstown. Taking Stall's place is Jeff Shelton of Cynthiana. Mr. Shelton, who is married, plans to move to Carlisle in the near future.
