Little Rock

By Mrs. Perry Vice

Mrs. Tom Prather is spending several weeks with her aunt and uncle, the Rev. and Mrs. H. S. Saxby and other relatives at Willows, California.

A very interesting note from the past can be written relative to the above mentioned item. The Rev. H. S. Saxby was the first full time minister of the Little Rock Christian church. His services began here according to records, in January 1894, while a student at Transylvania College. He married Miss Mayme Bradshaw, a Little Rock girl, August 11, 1896. She was a sister to Mrs. Prather's mother, Mrs. Joseph Banta. Before his marriage here he lived with a family by the name of Caleb Brown and according to the record Mr. Brown was a son of Major Nathan Brown who emigrated here from Maryland 1818. The Rev. Saxby rode a sorrel horse of Mr. Browns about the community and it is said that he was a popular man and was greatly liked by the people. It was the custom then for ministers and students to stay in the homes of the community. Later a parsonage, what is now the home of Mrs. J. L. Wynson was bought and used by ministers and their families until the present parsonage was built 1913-1915 under the ministry of the Rev. Carl Agee. The late Mr. Roger Burris gave the land on which it stands.

The Rev. Saxby although advanced into his eighties is still engaged in church work at Willows, California where the couple has resided many years.

Fleming - Mason Annual Meet

The 1954 annual meeting and electric farm show sponsored by the Fleming-Mason RECC will be held Wednesday night and all day Thursday July 28 and 29. The location is the Howard Carpenter Farm, three and one-half miles south from Flemingsburg on Highway 11 (Mt. Sterling Road).

Contests which have gained great popularity will be held such as the Talent Contest, Handicraft, 4-H Tractor Driving and the very popular Beauty Contest. Prizes will be received by the winners of these contests.

Entry blanks and information on all of the contests can be obtained by contacting or writing your Cooperative office at Flemingsburg. The Talent Contest will be the night of July 28 and the other contests during the day July 29.

The Cooperative is anticipating that great interest will be shown by everyone attending the appliance and farm implement exhibits displaying the latest models. In addition there are other events of interest such as the vacuum cleaning demonstration, freezer, running water, and hay drying demonstrations.

There will be amusements and entertainment for both adults and children.

Cooperative members will hold their annual business meeting and a large membership attendance is expected. This business session will be held on the second day of the show.

Co-op members who attend and register will be eligible for prizes which will be given away at the annual meeting.

Any child 5 years through 15 years that registers will be eligible for the children's prizes. Members may register in all drawings.

Times of various prize drawings are listed on the printed program of the Fleming-Mason REA Rural Light Edition in the Cooperative newsletter, Rural Kentuckian.
