A light that never fails...

Midnight on Main Street in a thousand cities and towns—and a light in the telephone exchange burns brightly. It never fails. It is a symbol of round-the-clock service to homes, farms and businesses.

Whatever the need or the hour, your telephone is always ready to serve you—quickly, dependably, and at small cost. Its very presence gives a feeling of security and nearness to everyone.

West Homemakers

By Mrs. William Kendall

Our first picnic of the year was enjoyed by 12 members of the club bringing their packed lunch to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Neal on Elm street with Mrs. Neal and Ernestine Eades as hostesses.

Before noon selection of officers for the coming year and other business was taken care. Mrs. James Williams, president; Mrs. A. T. Gardner, vice president; Mrs. W. G. Irvin—secretary and treasurer; Recreation Chairman—Mrs. J. R. Hamilton; Citizeship Chairman—Mrs. Frank Henry; Publicity Chairman—Mrs. W. M. Kendall; Project Leaders — Mrs. Russell Shrout, Mrs. Clyde Sexton, Mrs. G. W. Irvin and Mrs. Kendall.

Mrs. A. T. Gardner gave an interesting book review of Pearl Harbor.

During the afternoon seven waste baskets and two fireside baskets were started. Some of them were finished.

Each of the members were asked to make a note of all the things they have done in their home in which the Homemakers club has been a help to them.

Miranda Homemakers

By Mrs. O. R. Cannon

The Miranda Homemakers club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Robert Tout with Mrs. W. B. Claypool co-hostess.

Sixteen members, four visitors and five children were present. The members answered the roll call with, "The first meal I cooked, as a bride."

Mrs. Edgar Dairell gave the Devotional and a book report on, "Room For One More," by Anna Perrott Rose, was given by Mrs. Ollie Cannon.

The following officers were elected for the coming year; president, Mrs. John Clay; vice president, Mrs. Lowell Shaw; and secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Ollie Cannon.

Plans were made for the annual meeting July 21. We decided to have our picnic at the lake July 30.

After lunch we worked on fireside baskets. Miss Barnes wasn't able to be with us at this meeting and we missed her.

Our next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. B. Claypool in September.

Christ Scientists Meet In Boston

Spiritual understanding alone can heal today's widespread distrust and discord and assure universal freedom and security, The Christian Science Board of Directors said today in a special statement.

About 7,500 Christian Scientists from many parts of the world heard the Directors' message at the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Stressing the universal nature of spiritual understanding, the Directors said that the healing promises of practical Christianity apply "to every human being and every group and nation.

Named President of The Mother Church for the coming year was Mr. William R. Knox of Boston, Massachusetts, a Christian Science practitioner active in the healing work of the denomination for almost 50 years. His term of office is one year.

Emphasizing the significance of spiritual healing in the work of Christianity as understood in Christian Science, Mr. Knox said, "Christian healing is the lifeblood of our Cause . . . That branch church is most prosperous and blessed where the healing work flourishes and the lives of its members overflow with thi Christ influence."

Growing recognition of the effectiveness of Christian Science healing was reflected in favorable legislative action, Will B. Davis, Manager of Committees on Publication reported. "Freedom, imposes responsibility," Mr. Davis emphasized, in referring to legal exemptions from compulsory medication.

Reports on the world-wide activities of the denomination, which has branches throughout the United States and in some 40 other countries, were made by other key officials.

Growing acceptance of spiritual healing by young people was noted by Gordon V. Comer, Clerk of The Mother Church. Pointing out that Sunday School pupils are shown how to rely successfully on prayer, he told of some of the clear-cut healings by the pupils themselves that came to his attention during the past year.

In another field, Richard H. Chase, Manager of Christian Science Activities for the Armed Services disclosed that some 365 civilian field workers were ministering to hospitalized veterans and members of the armed services. In addition, eighteen Christian Science chaplains—three of them in Korea—were on active duty with troops.

New records for circulation and advertising were noted in the report on The Christian Science Publishing Society.

Tractor Schools Attract 4-H Boys

During the past eight years, 6,119 Kentucky 4-H club boys have attended 15 tractor schools where they learned the safe operation of tractors and how to prevent costly breakdowns and fuel wastage.

The program has been sponsored cooperatively by the 4-H and Agricultural Engineering Departments of the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics and the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky. Local dealers provided tractors to be used for demonstration and instruction purposes at the school. Leaders totaling 378 were principally experienced farmer tractor-operators and representatives of implement companies.

Plans are underway for an expansion of the program for 1955 to include training in the operation and maintenance of farm implements, said T. W. Whitehouse state 4-H club leader.

Urges Care In Use Of Insect Killers

Persons using insect and weed killers should realize that such materials may be dangerous, says the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

The general advice is to read labels and know just what is being used.

Wash thoroughly after using insect and weed-killing materials. It also may be advisable to change clothes. Avoid getting the chemicals on the skin. Some persons cover the mouth and nose.

Trefoil Makes Good Silage

County Agent Chester L. Brown reports a good stand of birdsfoot trefoil on the Ashbourne Farms, managed by Morris Head, in Oldham county. It was sown in 1950 at the rate of eight pounds an acre, together with a bushel of orchard grass seed and five to six pounds of red clover. The clover was cut for hay, and the first cutting of trefoil made last year. The trefoil and orchard grass were cut for silage this spring.

County Agent Brown commented as follows on birdsfoot trefoil;

"Birdsfoot trefoil is a deep root perennial legume rather well adapted to Oldham county and appears suitable for soil somewhat low in productivity as well as for better soil. It is drouth resistant, and yet does fairly well on poorly drained land. Birdsfoot trefoil has fine stems and yellow flowers and is moderately leafy. Other than color of flowers, the plant resembles alfalfa in appearance, though the leaves are lighter green. It is palatable and nutritious. Livestock seldom, if ever, bloat when grazing this legume. Broadleaved varieties of this legume are best for Kentucky. Seedings of birdsfoot trefoil are rather difficult to establish and at best become established slowly. Stands that appear poor the first year often become satisfactory in two or three years."
