CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How we may prove experience man's God-given dominion over material bondage of all kinds—sin, disease, and limitation—will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Mater."
The Spiritual heritage of freedom which belongs to man is set forth in the following selection from the Bible (Galatians 4.6, 7): "And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ."
The following passage will be found among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (223:1: "Sooner or later we shall learn that the letters of man's laws cannot be forged by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in Soul, in matter instead of in Spirit."

Rededication Of Old Springfield Church Sunday

Social Security Increases Go Into Effect October 1

Increases in Social Security payments ranging from $5.00 to $13.50 will go into effect for millions of Americans on October 1, 1954, under a law recently passed by the Congress and signed by President John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.).
In addition, Senator Cooper says the coverage provided will be extended to approximately 10 million new persons throughout the country, including those in certain professional people".
Cooper said that the Senator that increased benefits will be awarded to 103,000 persons in Kentucky and that approximately 200,000 additional persons in Kentucky will qualify for Social Security coverage when the extension goes into effect on January 1, 1955.
He estimates that the increases will give persons now receiving Social Security in Kentucky an additional $5,750,000 per year. The new law is in line with the recommendations made to the Congress by President Eisenhower earlier this year.

T. B. Hospitals Tell Operations

Kentucky's six tuberculosis hospitals, with a maximum bed capacity of 770, closed the last fiscal year with 742 patients, three more than a year ago, Joe D. Miller, executive director of the State Tuberculosis Sanatoria Commission, has reported.
During the year there were 3,38 admissions, and 1,378 discharges from the hospitals. The average stay in the hospitals was 206 days for each patient. In addition, there were 10,903 out-patients visits from the various hospitals.
The State spent $1,874,969.33, both from state appropriations and private funds, for operation of the hospitals. The average daily cost of keeping patients was $7.07.

Stills Destroyed

Seizure and destruction of 33 illegal stills last month was accomplished by agents of the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board in cooperation with other enforcement officials. State agents participated in 13 arrests, destroyed 5,030 gallons of illegal mash and 30 gallons on non-tax paid whisky during the month.

Bridge Survey Planned

Commissioner of Highway W. P. Curlin announced a survey would be undertaken to determine feasibility of toll bridges to replace some of the State's 18 intra-state ferries, all privately owned.
Describing ferry operations generally as unsatisfactory, Curlin declared that replacing the ferries, with bridges would enable the handling of heavier traffic.

On a beef cattle tour in Lauren county farmers saw 50 Hereford-Jersey crosses on the farm of H. P. Smith and Son.

Eighty homemakers, their husbands and friends attended the first Grant county kitchen tour to note different work-unit arrangements and other improvements, following homemakers club lessons.

Sailor With Clarinet Works Way Up To Commander Rank

The heavy baton swinging that will guide the United States Navy band through its Sept. 24 concert at Memorial Coliseum in Lexington will be in charge of Musician Charles Brendler.
The Russian Navy musician, a colorful and likeable fellow, has been decorated for his musical talent and bravery, but the greatest of all came to him a little over a year ago. President Eisenhower signed a bill making the Navy Band conducted a full commander, gave an unprecedented in the annals of naval musical history.
The pen President Eisenhower used to sign the bill was presented by Brendler from the chief executive, occupies a place of honor on the wall of the Washington office of the Navy officer. Brendler, who stepped aboard the gangway of the old U. S. S. Florida 41 years ago with a clarinet under his arm, has lived one of the most colorful and unusual careers in the navy.
Enlisted At Only 15
He was 15 years old when he enlisted. He became Navy band leader when he was 40 years old. At 40, he was advanced to the rank of lieutenant, the highest rank held to that time by a bandsman.
Brendler, on the one and only occasion he was interviewed by Free World Press Correspondents Association, the recipient of a congratulation and Citation from ex-Secretary of Navy James Forrestal for outstanding performance of duty, a member of the National Press Club, an honorary member of music, an admiral in the Texas Navy, a member of the is its minority which will serve all sorts and conditions of men. These are among the findings of sport on Pigskins Churches in fourteen major U. S. cities, recently conducted by the National Council of Churches Department of the Urban Church Studies of churches minister on a city, which are "going down hill economically and socially, in their job have literally adopted "the open door policy" they are never turned and have animate contact with the needs of the community, according to Dr. Ross W. Sanderson, of the Boston University School of Theology, who conducted the study. Other findings: city pastorates should be of a long duration, successful city ministries must be cooperative, not competitive, a city ministry is more expensive than generally believed and adequate financial support is imperative, the necessity of overcoming the historic isolation of Negro churches from the major denominations is important and essential for this trained Negro leadership.

It is reported by the World Council of Churches Service to Refugees that in 1953 more than 1,000,000 European refugees left China via Hong Kong. They emigrated to new homelands in 60 countries. Of the 1,000,000 refugees left China via Hong Kong. They emigrated to new homelands in 60 countries. Of the first five months of 1954, 609 European refugees were moved through Hong Kong by the WCC. Between 4,000 and 5,000 visas were obtained by the World Council of Churches during 1953 for the European refugees in China. Hong Kong is the first stop for thousands of these refugees. The great majority are people who left Russia after the 1917 revolution, settled in China and Manchuria, and reared their families there. Now the communist tidal wave has overwhelmed them a second time. They are stateless, they have no work, and there is no government aid. The joint refugee office of the World Council of Churches and the Lutheran World Federation was established in 1952, and is conducted by Pastor Lodwig Stumpf who went to China in 1937 as a businessman and later was ordained a pastor.

Notre Dame Chapel Scene Of Nuptial Vows

Sacred Heart Church on the campus of the University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Ind., was the scene Saturday of the 11 o'clock nuptial mass and wedding ceremony when Miss Rose Marie Oppenheim became the bride of John J. Dilmeschneider.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Oppenheim of Coldwater, Ohio. Mrs. Oppenheim was formerly Miss Anna Mathias, Carlisle. Parents of the bride groom are Mr. and Mrs. S. John Dilmeschneider of Columbus, Ohio.
The bride's mother is a former resident of Lexington.
The church was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli, sprays of chrysanthemums and prayers. Fan-shaped plums flanked the communion rail.
The Nuptial Mass and Ceremony were celebrated by Father Joseph Barry, C.S.C., who was served by Robert L. Dilmeschneider, brother of the bridegroom. Preceding the ceremony, a prelude of nuptial music was given by the organist.
Mrs Virginia Ann Oppenheim of Denver, Colo., sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Her attendants were Misses Marsha Martha and Mary Louise Dilmeschneider, of Columbus, sisters of the bridegroom.
Jerome Connors of Milwaukee, was best man. Ushers were Walter Wagner and Walter Oppenheim of Denver, Colo., and Richard Cingher of Columbus.
The bride was gowned in candlelight satin, with a full circular train. Her dress was fashioned with a basque bodice and portrait neckline, forming a petal effect encrusted with pearls and iridescent paillettes. Her fingertip veil of the valley edged her bouquet of white rosebuds.
The bride's attendants were identical. champagne-colored waltz-length gowns of silk shantung and taffeta. Matching velvet champagne leaf bandeaux with circular maline veils were worn as headpieces. They carried Talisman tinted Fuji mums and variegated autumn shades of cotton, trimmed with wide brown satin ribbons.
Following the ceremony a breakfast-reception was given in the patio of Morris Inn on the campus. Bouquets of gladioli and Fuji mums decorated the bridal table. The three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature replica of the bride's bouquet.
Mrs. Dilmeschneider was graduated from Saint Mary's College, Notre Dame, with a Bachelor of Arts degree from the Dilmeschneider received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Ohio State University and his Master of Arts degree from Ohio State University.
The couple will make their home at 940 Garden Drive, Baltimore, Md.
