And deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage."

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (426:16): "When it is learned that disease cannot destroy life, and that mortals are not saved from sin or sickness by death, this understanding will quicken into newness of life. It will master either a desire to die or a dread of the grave, and thus destroy the great fear that besets mortal existence."

Weekly Recipe

Rhubarb shortcake on the dinner table is certain evidence that spring has come. When rhubarb is baked, it has a richness and body that makes it especially delicious, says Miss Florence Imlay, specialist in foods at the University of Kentucky.

Rhubarb Shortcake

Wash rhubarb and cut in inch pieces to make 6 cups. Place in baking dish and add 1 cup of sugar. If desired, 1 cup of raisins may be added. Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, until tender, about 30-35 minutes. This will make about 3 cups.

For the shortcake, you will need:

2 c. flour
4 t. baking powder
1/2 t. salt
1/3 c. butter
3/4 c. milk

Sift flour, measure, then sift again with baking powder and salt. Cut in butter or margarine. Add 1 tablespoon of sugar may be added. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn on to a bread board, and knead lightly. Pat or roll to about a half-inch in thickness. Cut with a large biscuit cutter. Brush half the pieces with melted butter and top with a second piece, pinching the edges together. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, 12 to 15 minutes. Serve with baked rhubarb between layers and on top, and garnish with whipped cream.

Menu: Pork chops, new potatoes with parsley, green beans, perfection salad, rolls, butter and rhubarb shortcake.

The No. II 4-H Club of Wautie county has had two signs made and placed at the county line, reading, "Welcome to Wagoin County."
