CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

God's inexhaustible goodness and abundance will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul" which will be read in Christian Science churches on Sunday.

Bible passages will include the admonition of Christ Jesus with regard to man's sustenance: "And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you" (Luke 12:29-31).

Also emphasizing the importance of looking to God, God, rather than to mammon for happiness a correlative passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: (60:24-31) "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind, and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping, if sought in Soul."

Nine state farms operated by the Kentucky Department of Welfare and Mental Health produced food valued at $483,598 during the first six months of 1955 according to a report issued by Charles M. Stagner, State Director of Agricultural Production.

The State Reformatory, LaGrange, led production with $137,874 worth of food and Central State Hospital, Lakeland, was second with $61,132. Other production included Kentucky State Hospital, Danville, $61,063; State Penitentiary, Eddyville, $59,944; Western State Hospital, Hopkinsville, $55,890; Eastern State Hospital, Lexington, $42,359; Kentucky Village, Greendale, $31,963; Kentucky Training Home, Frankfort, $26,476; and Kentucky Children's Home, Lyndon, $7,090.

More Employees Get Coverage

More than $3,008,000 a year is being paid by state and local political subdivisions for social security coverage on their employees, H. B. Fithian, director of the Division of Personnel Security in the State Department of Economic Security, reported today.

The first quarter of 1955 found 19,082 employees and 130 state agencies — including educational institutions and regular governmental units—upon which contributions of $516,846 were paid. In addition, 18,693 employees of counties, cities and independent groups were included on which contributions of $536,412 were made.

Employees of all state agencies already are under social security, but a number of those in other political subdivisions are not yet covered, according to Fithian.

Coverage of separate political units includes 84 of 120 county school districts; 78 of the 106 independent school districts; 49 of the 120 counties; 79 independent groups such as electric and water plant boards, public libraries, housing commissions and hospitals.

Municipal employes covered include:

Louisville, the only first class city, four of the seven second class cities; eight of the 11 third class cities; 41 of the 58 fourth class cities; 45 of the 58 fifth class cities and 19 of the 147 sixth class cities.

During the last year, 13 school districts, 11 counties, 18 cities and 6 independent agencies, such as public libraries, municipal utility plants, housing commissions and hospitals elected to place their employees under social security coverage.

Ways To Attract More Industry To Be Taught

Ways and means to attract more industry to Kentucky communities are part of the seventh annual Kentucky Commerce industrial development program and the leadership and industrial and business development conference scheduled for Lexington the State August 22-24.

This announcement was made this week by Rexford S. Blazer, Ashland, President of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

The location and dates of the conferences, according to Blazer, are August 19, Madisonville; August 19, Glasgow; August 23, Carter Caves State Park, and August 24, Berea.

The conferences are planned specifically for those citizens who are interested in the industrial progress of their community. The Director of KCC's Industrial Development Department, James C. Zimmerman, said that the conference will be divided into two parts, the first will be factual information and proven techniques on how to attract new industry to an area, and the second will be the individual presentation of the Main Street Modernization program together with a discussion on why and how to best develop a community for industrial and business progress.

The area conferences are part of a program of the Industrial Development, Main Street Modernization, and Community Development Committees of the Kentucky Chamber. Zimmerman said:

Chairman of the Industrial Development Committee is Robert M. Watt, Lexington; Main Street Modernization Committee, R. E. Mitchell, Covington; and Community Development Committee, Barney A. Tucker, London. Each conference will begin at 11:00 local time.

Wrapping Important In Freezing Foods

The choice of wrapping paper is important for the successful freezing of foods, says Miss Elizabeth Holton, assistant professor of foods at the UK School of Home Economics. Packaging foods properly is as important as freezing only foods of good quality, she said.

Good freezer wrapping should have these qualifications, according to Miss Holton: (1) It must be moisture and vapor proof to prevent freezer burn or dehydration. (2) it must be pliable so it will adhere to irregularly shaped objects, thus eliminating as much of as possible. If air is left in a package, the frost will accumulate on and on the wrapping. (3) The wrapping must be tough so it will stand the rough and tear caused in moving packages. (4) It should be pliable so it will not crack when it is folded.

Deaths

Mrs. Elizabeth Rigg Gregory

Mrs. Elizabeth Rigg Gregory, 76, widow of Judge N. Gregory and native of Nicholas County died at 9 a.m. Tuesday at Central Baptist hospital. Lexington, following an illness of one month.

She had resided in Lexington several years and was formerly connected with the YWCA staff. She was a member of the Moorfield Christian church and a daughter of the late Charles W. and Elizabeth Soper Rigg, and a sister of the late Wallace W. Rigg of near Moorfield.

Surviving are a grandson, Joe Allen Gregory, and a granddaughter, Patsy Ruth Gregory, both of Lexington, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at 11:00 a. m. Monday at the Moorfield Christian church with the Rev. Paul Crowe officiating. Burial in the Carlisle cemetery. Pallbearers Charles and Roland Durham, J. T. Soper, Raymond Lawrence, J. H. Wilson and Fred Weaver.

Mrs. C. V. Snapp

Mrs. C. V. Snapp of Jenkins, Kentucky died at Holston Valley Community hospital, Kingsport, Tennessee, at 7:30 p.m., July 29.

Mrs. Snapp had been in ill health for a number of years, and early in June had returned from Phoenix, Arizona where she had lived for several months hoping to receive relief from chronic asthma.

Four years ago Mrs. Snapp was honored by the state as a teacher after spending twenty-six and one half years in the Van Lear and Jenkins schools.

Mrs. Snapp was a graduate of Morehead State College, and lacked only one summer term of completing work for her master's degree at the University of Kentucky.

She was an active member of the Jenkins Christian church and taught in the Sunday School as long as her health permitted. For a number of years she was Secretary of Pine Mountain Chapter No. 247 O.E.S. and served as Worthy Matron of the Chapter.

Many friends spoke of her as one who radiated sunshine and happiness. They expressed their love in a beautiful floral tribute of eighty-four pieces given by various organizations, institutions and friends, and in contributions to a permanent "Student Memorial Loan Fund" which will be established at Morehead State College in her honor. This memorial will help bring to realization her desire to aid in a financial way those who would otherwise not be able to attend college.

Mrs. Snapp was the first to break the family circle of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Webb of Van Lear. Because she had lived and taught in both Van Lear and Jenkins this memorial services were conducted

Other survivors include her husband, C. Victor Snapp a nature of Nicholas County

Managers Named

Vamos Reith

Frank S. Vamos, manager of the Cincinnati branch of the Kroger Co. for the past four years, has been promoted to manager of the company's Indianapolis branch, it was announced today by Joseph D. Hall, Kroger president. He succeeds J. B. Nichols, who has been manager of the Kroger Indianapolis, Ind., branch since 1945.

Succeeding Vamos as Cincinnati branch manager will be Carl J. Reith, who headed the company's general office personnel training department in Cincinnati in 1944 and 1945. Since 1951 he has been manager of the Kroger Indianapolis, Ind., branch.

A native of Cleveland, Vamos joined Kroger in Cincinnati in 1920 as a shoes accountant. He held several merchandising and sales promotion positions with the company before being named merchandiser for the Kroger branch in the Pittsburgh branch in 1943. Two years later he was appointed branch manager in Terre Haute, Ind., and has held the same position here since 1951.

Reith joined Kroger in Peoria, Ill., 21 years ago in the accounting department. He served in the various operating and merchandising capacities there and in Terre Haute, Ind., and Atlanta, Ga., before coming to Cincinnati in 1944. Prior to his appointment as branch manager in Indianapolis he was merchandising manager of the company's branch in St. Louis, Mo.

A total of 127 stores in 11 states will come under Vamos' supervision. The northern division includes Cincinnati, Dayton, Springfield, Indianapolis, Ft. Wayne, Kankakee, Va., Madison, Wis., Peoria, Ill., and Terre Haute, Ind.

Reith will be in charge of the Kroger stores in the Cincinnati area, as well as branch offices and warehouse in Cincinnati.
