AMERICANS IN BERMUDA.

A Popular Winter Resort for Yankees With Money.

"The winter prospect for commerce." This is a query of industrial conditions common with an April's is what will be the prospect for business, either stagnate in the manufacturing and the inhabitants live on what they have accumulated in the season when the tourist arrives with money, and the hotels, shops and the whole town is overcrowded. Bermuda is the tourist's England. If he fails to find the characteristic dailies spoon or other knick-knack he can have it on arrival of the next steamer from New York. The nature of the people is such that even the military or naval service of Great Britain, is partly certain to be from the United States. In fact Bermuda is an American winter resort. The Yankee dollar is the source of business, and the attendant ill-wealth is now looking for a good winter climate.

The following pronunciation were appointed a few days ago: Zach A. Snider, Coleman Spencer county, vice D. C. Sutherland, resigned; J. E. Hunt, Bracken county, vice Wm. Wood, resigned, and W. W. Scott, Ohio county, vice W. Travis.

Jesse Arnett of Somerset, Somerset county, gave his sole brother of four months a dose of morphine and soon after died for God. The nature of the deed was discovered in time.

Chief Justice Cornelius Hanford of Washington has been appointed by President Cleveland to succeed Associate Justice Gray, who has resigned.

Mr. Fairbanks, the grand jury indicted Mrs. Lillie Belle Allen, the woman who killed Deputy United States Marshal Jewett at Millersburg.

At the Kentucky university commencement the first honor was won by Miss Mary Lee Bennett, second honor by Miss Mary Lee Bennett.

Two sons of T. Logan Hunt of Lexington, aged 7 and 9, emptied a bottle of laudanum and died in the same room. The doctors are extravagant notions in the minds of the natives of the south and the one of getting a living in America is the most extravagant of all. Many have had the fare or three days' rough water between New York and Bermuda, but the majority are those who, after spending a few days on a voyage in an other direction, are so much disappointed at the weather, or so far removed from the disturbances of modern life, that they are glad to get back. Any article in Bermuda that exposed to duty pays little more of British ordinary which may want a week to get into type, he is
