The Hon. J. W. Robertson has withdrawn from the race for Appellate Judge in the 8th district.

The nomination of Judge Lewis by the Democratic Convention was made unanimous by the casting of one ballot.

The Judiciary says: "Congressman Pugsley's speech was a masterly effort."

The Publishers Convention for this Congressional district will be held at Paris next Saturday instead Dec. 31.

The participation of the miners of the Pittsburgh coal field in the strike will end next July. Later dispatches go to show that the miners will not strike at all and the matter was done in order to frighten the operators into signing the Joseph Republic.

Rather more than a hundred "Coxeyites" passed through Lexington on the 7th and on that is a holiday. Fourth Ward Hill, Hall, made up it is said, to live in less than three months. Just as this paper goes to press the Democratic demands and Republican platform are being made. The former will be published in full next week. The latter will be found in the latest issue of the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Ratliff Bros. & Ross, the popular Clothiers, are now in their new quarters, "Schradzki's corner," on the corner of Main and Court streets. Read their ad. in this issue.

Lexington Times:

The first mid-Summer meeting given by the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association promises to be a most successful one. The purses are large and the number was done to accept the liberal premiums offered by the Lexington People.

Homestead Regulators.

The Owingsville Outlook has the following to say of the Homestead Regulators, which shows that Bath people have not entirely lost the land of brave hearts in their excitement:

The Regulators left Owingsville on the 4th inst. at 10 o'clock a. m. They were equipped with great care by a committee of gentlemen appointed for the purpose. Each man was furnished with a good horse, saddle and bridle, which cost after, in this country, $100 each. Each man was also furnished with a good rifle, pistol and a full supply of ammunition. The Regulators were under the command of Major Thomas, of Lexington, who was assisted by Capt. Hunt, of Mt. Sterling. Major Thomas was brought to the front by the people. He is a man of experience and has had charge of police duty in Lexington. Each man was furnished with a badge, which was of silver, in the center was a star, and on the star was engraved the word "Regulator." Around the star was a wreath of laurel leaves. Around the wreath was the inscription "Bath County Regulators." Each man was also furnished with a pass, which was signed by Governor Brown, and by the Adjutant General. The pass was to the effect that the bearer was a member of the Bath County Regulators, and that he was authorized to arrest any person or persons who may be found violating the law. The Regulators were also furnished with a pass signed by Governor Brown, and by the Adjutant General. Bastardville.

This community was blessed with a rain on the 12th inst. and the farmers have finished cutting tobacco.

Miss Lizzie Hall is visiting relatives in Clark, Ky., is visiting at D. D. Thomas'.

Miss Blanche Clay has returned home from Mt. Sterling, where she has been visiting for some time.

Miss Kittie Langdon will start a successful school at Bald Hill June 25th.

Miss George Taylor, of Paris, is visiting at John W. Fergus'.

R. O. Chambers, who has been in the employ of Ben Allen, has gone on a vacation, but will return in a few days.

Miss Mary Fergus, a most fascinating young lady of the Bald Knob locality, is the superintendent of Industries at the Kentucky Chautauqua, Knox. Boys will be crowded full of the best instruction and profit have been derived from the Chautauqua movement. Every school in the district should have a third ballot. The Centers of Interest—Bastardville and Bald Knob—are both in a flourishing condition. Some of the prettiest girls of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery counties are to be found in the vicinity of Bastardville. The latter has chosen to make no platform.

Mr. Jno. Bragg and wife visited Mr. Jno. Barlow, of Jacksonville.

Mr. Carlton Smith, who has been in picture gallery work, has gone to Bald Knob, where he will remain for some time.

Mr. D. D. Thomas has purchased Lowell Taylor, the new mail carrier for route 1, out of Paris. Mr. Taylor will move to Lexington.

Mr. Rafferty a Candidate

Mr. R. E. Hart

The Democrats of this the Northern Congressional district have nominated a man and a good one to send to the race for Congress next November Hon. Edwin Rafferty of Mason County. He has filled several positions of honor and trust, and has in each so well performed the duty that the people were glad to put him in a higher position. He was first elected to the Legislature, and he was brought to the front by the people. He proved to himself a candidate for the office of Judge of Nicholas County and he was elected by a large majority. He got into no scrape—came to know no regrets—and went through his term of office honored and respected by the people. He was then elected to the State Senate, and in the same manner with the people. He made a record for himself that will be approved by all good Democrats. He is now himself a candidate for the office of Judge of Nicholas County at the November election, and he is certainly worthy of your votes.

M. RAFFERTY.

Nicholas county is one of the finest counties in the world. How we know it. Because we have lived in it for a number of years. Besides it is one of the counties of the Democratic district of which we are a citizen. Besides it is one of the counties of the district whereof we are a citizen. Besides it is one of the counties of the district whereof we are a citizen. Besides it is one of the counties of the district whereof
