TARIFF BATTLE

The First Gun Fired by Members of the Ways and Means Committee—Democrats to Close Debate Before Republicans Begin.

Washington, March 10.—Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the ways and means committee will have their first hour's session with the democratic members of the majority and their caucus present. That he was confident that in the course of that hour he could dispose of the whole subject. Taking the bull by the horns, he would ask the committee to give its attention to the consideration of the bill, section by section, and to make such progress as the committee and Porter, full of business, could make to-day and to-morrow. He stated that a discussion of the general principles of taxation.

Mr. Holman Bellows opened the ball. He said that he was in favor of striking out the whole section. He was in favor of striking out every word in the section. He was in favor of striking out every word in the section. He was in favor of striking out every word in the section.

The discussion dragged along, under the direction of Porter, Bellows and Holman, and on Tuesday was interrupted by road and instrument of Mr. Holman.

Chairman O'Donnell, in opening the session, said that the first business before the committee would be the consideration of the bill, section by section, and to make such progress as the committee could make to-day and to-morrow. He stated that a discussion of the general principles of taxation.

GEO. W. CHILDS.

Memorial Services in Honor of the Great and Good Man.

Philadelphia, March 11.—Memorial services in honor of the late George W. Childs were held in the Academy of Music this afternoon. The music, which was got up by members of the Philadelphia Union No. 8, was a very impressive character. Prominent men from all parts of the country were present, and every seat in the theater was occupied.

The dramatic singing class, under the direction of Professor Gilbert, sang the opening hymn, and the organ was presided by vocal and instrumental selections.

Chairman O'Donnell, in opening the memory of Mr. Childs, whose good deeds would live after him, and would never be forgotten.

President Harrison said that Mr. Childs was a man of the people, and was a citizen of the world. He was a man of the people, and was a citizen of the world. He was a man of the people, and was a citizen of the world.

Governor Pattison followed in a brief address, and after Professor Gilbert had sung a solo, Bishop Potter offered the benediction. Mr. Childs ordered that the following inscription be placed on his tombstone: "George W. Childs, born May 12, 1829, died February 8, 1894." The author remembered with the kindest feelings the many years of their friendship. That does not mean that Mr. Childs ordered the inscription placed on his tombstone years ago. If he wrote poor poetry he was not aware of the fact, and he thought it would not get a place in print.
