What Is 4-H Work?

By Katie Lee House

Four-H Club work is that part of the Agricultural Extension Service which deals with youth. Young people between the ages of 10 and 21 in a community organize themselves into a group with their own officers and own local program with the guidance of an adult man or woman advisor (who serves voluntarily).

Each member has an individual project centering around a problem in the home or on the farm. They raise livestock, crops, make clothing, prepare foods, etc. They serve as officers and on committees of their own club. They have camps, plays, games, songs, exhibits, tours, hikes, and social meetings. They learn to cooperate by cooperating.

Concord Homemakers

By Miss Alma Hamilton

On February at 1:30 p.m. the Concord Homemakers held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Harman Hamilton. Due to bad roads it was the first meeting of the year.

Six members and two visitors, Mrs. Callie Sons, Mrs. Roger Hamilton and Miss Emma Barnes were present. We welcome our new member, Mrs. Robert Dunlap.

Mrs. Ernest Alexander, club president, presided over the business.

Miss Alma Hamilton gave the Devotional followed by the group repeating the "Lord's Prayer."

The lesson's "Assembling a Room," was given by Mrs. Ernest Alexander and personalizing the bed room by Mrs. Walter Hamilton.

Delicious refreshment were served by the hostess.

After the meeting adjourned the club members surprised Mrs. George Bell with a Sunshine Box. She received many useful gifts.

The next meeting will be March 16 with Mrs. Walter Hamilton.

Recreation, 4-H Work

By Wanda Lawrence

"Amusement, and recreation are the very things that make our working hours profitable.

The term recreation covers a large field of activities including games, sports, folk dances, hobbies, and other special features. Recreation is a part of 4-H Club work as it expands the learning process through relaxation and enjoyment. Boys and girls need to learn to play together, both for the team training it gives them and for the greater physical and all-round body development.

For club meetings when only a few minutes may be devoted to this part of the meeting, games of various kinds are especially good.

A recreation program for club meetings should be so planned as to recognize the likes of all members. Of course this cannot be done in one meeting or two, but during the year give every member a chance to play up to his or her particular interest. The recreation part of a club program may well be turned over to the person particularly fitted to handle it. The member who knows games and has a natural ability to lead should be given an opportunity to develop this talent. It not only helps the club member but relieves the leader of the responsibility.

During the past years our club members have been improving on their recreation. Last year we really went all out for recreation with every member working together, including recreation on our work we have made the club's theme 'hours more enjoyable. Although we did many things last year, I think the highlight of the year was our "One-Day Camp," held at Blue Licks State Park. We tried to make it as much like a real camp as possible. There was handcraft, hikes, nature study, games, and even a hobo bunch. This year we're planning to have another camp, for everyone enjoyed this one immensely.

Although our recreation program is good now we're going to strive to "Make The Best Better."
