A LITTLE YAPPIN'

By Nellie Crump

Business can be fun!

Taking time out for a chest x-ray Monday afternoon was some what of a "lark"—a kind of meeting place for young and old. Big commotion announced the arrival of a whole band in uniform—and did they have fun?

—yap—

A Happy Occasion.

As a prelude to the Golden Wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Rev Snapp Sunday afternoon immediace members of the family arrived Sunday morning in time to attend church with the couple. They came from Cincinnati and Dayton, Ohio; Eaton, Ind.; Newport, Louisville, Lexington, Paris and Maysville. It was thrilling—perhaps a bit tear-jerking—to see about 30 or more children, grandchildren, inlaws, etc. (two whole round all members of one family) march in (church in a body, but that is exactly what happened at the Carlisle Christian church Sunday morning.

—yap—

New-fangled contraption does it.

Thanks to the new two-way inter-communication system, the oldest member of Victory Memorial Baptist church in Louisville, attended Easter services in her home two blocks from the church, where she is ill. The system was installed between the church and the home of 93-year old Mrs. Molly Reid—the former Molly Barnett, a native of Nicholas County. The Rev. George H. Riggs extended a special greeting to Mrs. Reid and she spoke a few words to the congregation. Mrs. Reid is an aunt of Mrs. Verna Stone of Carlisle and great-aunt of Mrs. Tommie Vice of Myers.

Yapp—all.

Letters to the Editor

April 10, '56

Editor Carlisle Mercury,
Dear Sir:

Enclosed you will find P. O. money order for fifty-cents, copies of the Mercury dated April 5.

Many thanks for featuring my article about the old house in Carlisle I do enjoy the articles they bring back memories.

In fact I enjoy the Mercury and look wayward to its coming each Saturday.

Many have gone from there that I knew but your paper keeps me in touch with the few that are left.

Am rather looking forward to a trip down there during Black berry Festival.

Thanks again.

Am sincerely yours,
Mrs. C. F. Holderman

Editor,
Carlisle Mercury,
Carlisle, Kentucky
Dear Sir:

Thank you very much for sending us the returned copies of the questionnaire which we printed in the Carlisle Mercury.

We had hoped that there would be a larger response to this news release, but for some reason the people of Kentucky do not seem to be too interested in voicing their opinions.

Many thanks for your splendid cooperation in running our news release.

If we can ever be of service to you in preparing information on states in Kentucky we will be happy to do so.

Sincerely yours,
Donald F. Nemitz
Secretary

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

WE DARE YOU:

We dare you adults to take a trip to Washington with those young high schoolers from your home town. We joined one Central Kentucky group for a day and spent two days to rest up.

Some of our schoolteacher friends, along to chaperon the group, had blood-shot eyes and loud faces, but the salad set was just as frisky as ever. In fact, bedtime found a few of the boys engaging in a pillow fight before turning out the lights. Another "night" found the boys using pressed shaving cream cans before the hotel staff stepped in and called "lights out."

THE SCHEDULE:

The schedule begins at 7:30 in the morning when the students gulp down a heavy breakfast. At 9:30 a.m., they visit the Lincoln Memorial. At 8:45 they tour the Tidal Basin and the Jefferson Memorial. At 9:45 they invade the Smithsonian. At 11 a.m., it's the National Gallery of Art. Then, in rapid fire order, they see the Supreme Court, have lunch, visit the House and Senate Galleries, pose for pictures with Senator Clement Senator Barkley was in Europe). There's a chance for a rest as they drive down to Mt. Vernon before coming back to Washington for the evening meal.

EVENING HOURS:

The evening hours are the toughest for the chaperoning staff. The youngsters want to stroll the streets, go to a movie, take a boat ride, and, in general, scatter all over town.

However, a strict curfew is enforced and by ten o'clock the last roundup begins, names are counted and efforts are made to quiet the downs for the night.

It's wonderful for the youngsters but it's no picnic for the teachers who are happy to see the bus head down U. S. Highway 50 or 60, bound for Kentucky.

THIS AND THAT:

Mrs. Albert Barkley won a citation for ability to maintain a home and devote time to her civic duties. Award came from a national magazine . . . Russell Cox, a University of Kentucky graduate and an executive with the United States Information Agency, is off on a business trip around the world . . . Newest addition to the Kentucky colony in the Capitol is Colonel James Davis of Park Hills and the U. S. Air Force . . . Kentucky congressional offices are busier than ever with the boss trying to keep up with his legislative duties and the staff batting out thousands of letters to voters back home.

Henryville News

By Aurelia Hamilton

Marion Shepard of Cincinnati spent the weekend with his grandmother, Mrs. Eliza Sempson.

Raymond Curtis and Miss Marybelle Jones, of Lexington, were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jones.

Mrs. Leona Evans was in Lexington Saturday, on business.

Mrs. Norene Stevenson was in Lexington Friday.

Your pots will

call your kettles "shiny"

when you cook ELECTRICALLY

The pot that called the kettle black was probably covered with the soot and smudge of old fashioned cooking. But your pots and pans will look bright and shiny when you cook electrically. Electric heat is as clean as electric light! That's why electric cooking is "white glove" clean. Not only cooking utensils, but walls, curtains—your whole kitchen stays bright longer when you cook electrically. See the modern electric ranges at your dealer's soon!

Cassidy

By Mrs. T. H. Vice

The "Hymn Sing" will begin at 7:00 o'clock April 29, at Cassidy church. Rev. Otis Fryman, Cynthiana, will be in charge. The public is invited. Anyone who will sing and help out, will be appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Letcher and family were Sunday guests of their daughter, Mrs. Charles Crawford and family.

Friends are glad to know Herman Bretz is home from service.
