1-3 year old cow, to be fresh in March. 25 young hens, also some furniture.

But that is what has happened!

This Is It

"Great oaks from little acorns grow" and from just such a beginning the hand grain seed stripper came into its own, field by the thousand by the late R. C. King, and since 1920 by C. R. King, they seem never to wear out, and are still selling, but naturally not as many. They have been sent to nearly every state in the Union. Missouri, Kentucky, Nebraska, Tennessee and Illinois are where they are mostly in demand, in the order of the states named.

Recently an order came from the Department of Agriculture of Canada, Northern Rhodesia, Africa for a sample. The seed stripper sent $347.00 and asked the seed it is its destination.

Funny stories are always happening and there is no exception in this case. Here are a few highlights of school business transactions.

A classified ad in a Paris, Ky., paper got an order from South Dakota. The customer said he read the ad in the Paris paper.

Then there was that time an order came from St. Louis to send a sample to Grand View, Wash., and a notice came from the postoffice that it was uncalled for. Notifying the St. Louis company an apology came saying the address should have been Grand View, Wis., but a notice from that postoffice said it was not called for there. Again the St. Louis company was notified. Another apology with regrets followed with a request to send the "thing" to Grand View, Ark. By this time the grass stripping season was over and Mr. King orders were to "send it home." All that he had to say was that it got a long rake.

A man from Harrodsburg wrote on the bottom of an order for two per $347.00 and wanted to send seeds while working in Lexington.

Writing back Mr. King proved he could beat that rake with the one about the woman in Virginia who found one and wrote to County Clerk John F. Stagg to find out if it was true the patent date as it was "bharned."

After selling his last seed stripper Mr. King began thinking of retiring when last year telegrams began arriving from Kansas City, Mo., so he went to Cincinnati where he placed an order for teeth for eleven hundred.

Now he says he will retire when they get him under the wed, so when anybody orders a hand grass seed stripper, if they have the heart to swing it, he does not have the heart not to send it.

Sign Up Time Again At ASC Office

It's time to sign up again in the Agricultural Conservation Program, says H. L. Vice, chairman of the Nicholas County ACS committee. Farmers of Nicholas County have an opportunity again to cooperate with the farmers of other counties and states in strengthening the Nation by improving the country's ability to produce food and fiber, he added.

Vice said that the following conservation practices have been approved for Nicholas County for

Beef Cattle, Pasture Production Meeting Called For Friday Afternoon

A beef cattle and pasture and hay production meeting will be held at the county courthouse on Friday, Jan. 27 at 1:30 p.m., W. T. Straw, county agent announces. This meeting is a special event planned for by the committees on beef cattle, sheep and soils and crops. In recent years Nicholas County farmers have been making rapid strides in the production of livestock and the use of income producing practices in pasture and hay. This meeting will be to further expand the improvements along this line in order to make production of livestock profitable.

First speaker on the program will be Shirley Phillips, University of Kentucky field agent in Agronomy. He will discuss efficient production of alfalfa, hay and pasture including the wise use of fertilizers. Ray Hopper, field agent in Beef Cattle, will discuss the management of hay, pasture and feed in the efficient livestock production.

Nicholas County is primarily recognized as a place where pasture and hay is the most efficient in produced crop that we have. Because of the low lying topography of the county, the major part of our farm acreage is best suited to grass.

It has been authoritatively reported that an additional 500 head of sheep were purchased by farmers last fall. The county is well equipped to sheep production and this offers a real opportunity for any farmers wishing to take advantage of a needed expansion in the sheep industry.

Beef cattle numbers have been increased in a high number similar other years. Several farmers are now completing entering the dairy business. With the increased livestock expected in Nicholas County there is a need for the expansion of such crops as alfalfa, improved pasture and general hay crops. Practices that will help maintain an efficient production of these crops will be discussed also.

All farmers are invited to attend.

Muskies Draw Somerset Briar Jumpers In Central Kentucky Conference Tourney

By W. E. Woodall

Coach Ed (Tom Thumb) Wells of Somerset Jr. High school at 8:30 o'clock Thursday, February 2nd, the Carlisle Muskies will face the Briar Jumpers of Somerset in a first round clash in the Central Kentucky Conference tournament to be held at Harrodsburg.

The Muskeeters held a 10-3 win record and have floored one of the best teams in the west and lose category in recent years. Opposition throughout the season has been weak to mediocre with the Muskeeters set to test their strength.

Grapevine

According to the grapevine, the Briar Jumpers, who hold an 11-2 win record come from one of the strongest regions of the State and have had to work for their victories this year. The Pulaski County crew have only faced one C.K.C. foe to date but set favored by the coaches to advance through the upper bracket.

Irvine and Georgetown Garth will meet in the initiation Thursday 2nd., followed by the Carlisle-Somerset tilt. Lower bracket competition will find Mt. Sterling facing Harrodsburg and Henry Clay trying to hold their unbeaten record of nine games against an unknown one.

First round clashes of the Tournament will be played Thursday and Friday with the semi-finals slated for Saturday at 1 and 3:30 p.m. The championship content will be played at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

Goofed

Somebody goofed — including your truly. Monday night the Carlisle team and a host of fans travelled to Georgetown anticipating a C.K.C. clash between the Bulldogs and Muskeeters. The host team failed to appear. After some investigation it was discovered Georgetown intended to play Tuesday night—which they did. But the Muskeetes crew was perfect, as was proven by producing the contest. The game was scheduled for Monday, January 23rd. Coach Wells agreed to return to Georgetown intended to play Tuesday night—which they did. But the Muskeetes crew was perfect, as was proven by producing the contest. The game was scheduled for Monday, January 23rd. Coach Wells agreed to return to Georgetown and Coach Ward Jones the encounter was an Infantile Paralysis benefit. Until a C.K.C. rules the game could have been forfeited to the Muskeeters by a score of 2-0.

Muskies Lose

Friday night the Muskeeters suffered their third defeat of the season at the hands of Mt. Olivet, 83-78. The Carlisle team led at the end of each stop 12-10, 37-30, 63-50 but were tied in the waning minutes of the encounter 76-76. In the overtime, the Mt. Olivet crowd bested the Muskies 4-2 to take the game. Gilley set the pace for the Green and White with 34 points.

Meanwhile the Nicholas County Blue Jackets continued to notch up wins by trouncing Sharpsburg 58-47. At the rest, coach Finnell's crew led 21-14, 30-27, was tied 37-37 at the third stop, then tossed in 21 points for the victory. Jenkins led 29 points to lead the victors.

MORE CASH FOR NICHOLAS COUNTY FARMERS

Chamber Underwrites Strawberry Production Plan for Nicholas

In an effort to encourage attendance at the County-Wide Work Shop many valuable door prizes will be given following the last afternoon session.

Income High

It has been brought out at previous meetings that Nicholas County lends itself well to the growing of strawberries from the standpoint of terrain as well as marketing, being close to an established cooperative at Morehead and the Cincinnati market.

Although very few acres of strawberries were produced in Nicholas County last year, the gross cash return per acre ranged from $1200 to $2600. It is a proven fact that the income per acre of berries can equal or exceed the income from an acre of tobacco.

Man Hours

Man hours of labor required the first year are quite a bit below the average needed to produce the same quantity of tobacco and fall to less than a 100 hours during the second year per acre grown for berries sold at association. Of course, those who are afraid of work have been advised to stay clear of meetings concerning the growing of berries.

Questions Solicited

Members of the Chamber of Commerce's Strawberry Committee Joe Allen Stone, A. V. Allison, Dr. J. T. Morford, John Adams, William Straw and Bernie C. Milan earnestly solicit questions concerning the sponsorship of berry crops for tomorrow or the coming workshop program.

PLEASE CALL

Chamber of Commerce members who have not returned their cards indicating their presence at the Chamber's annual dinner meeting tonight (Thursday) are requested to call either 350 or 50 and state their preference. Guests have been promised plenty of food to be served at 6:30 at the city school lunch room. An educational film will be shown and the new officers of the organization installed.

MRS. SAGESER KASH VICE-PRES. OF CLUB

Mrs. Sageser Kash, North Church St., Cynthiana, was named Vice-president of the Greater Cincinnati Jayenettes Club at its last meeting, the annual election of officers.

A member of this organization for some time, Mrs. Kash was unable to attend the last meeting but was present to attend the Jan. 17 session at the Alms Hotel. She is the inventor of the Tote-A-Bite.

Applications For Tobacco Allotments On New Farms Must Be Filed By Tuesday

The Nicholas County ASC Committee announces that they have received applications for Burley tobacco allotments in their office and January 31, 1956 is the final date for filing.

Qualifications Listed

The applicant for a new growing allotment must be 1) the bona fide owner-operator of the farm, 2) the owner-operator must live on and be largely dependent for his livelihood on the farm covered by the application, 3) The farm covered by the application shall be the only farm owned or operated by the owner-operator for which a Burley tobacco allotment will be established for 1956 and 4) the owner-operator shall have had at least two years experience in growing the kind of tobacco for which an allotment is requested as tenant, sharecropper, or as farm operator during the past five years (1951-1955). Experience means a bona fide specific share in the crop. Day laborer does not qualify.

Forty Expect To Attend Farm, Home Meeting In Lexington

Forty or more farmers, farm women and others from Nicholas County are planning to attend the 44th annual Farm and Home Week at the University of Kentucky at Lexington Jan. 31-Feb. 3.

Two exhibits are open daily, 8:30 a.m.-5:00 p.m. The farm show in the Agricultural Engineering Building and the Household Equipment Show in the West corridor of Memorial Coliseum.

An outstanding feature of Farm and Home Week this year is the 4-H sessions all four days with the exception of Wednesday afternoon. "The Farm Family of the Future" is the theme of a joint session, Wednesday afternoon. Each session will begin on the hour, making it possible to attend many during the day. In general the educational sessions are held during the week. A home-makers chorus will sing one evening, and visitors will have an opportunity to see a basketball game between the University of Kentucky and Duke University. Many other events of high interest are listed in the official program.

The events of Farm and Home Week are open to all people in Kentucky—country and town alike. A limited supply of programs are available at your county agricultural extension office.

Anderson Farm In Mystery Series

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Anderson, Carlisle Route 3, located on the Headquarters road five and one-half miles from Carlisle was identified as last week's mystery farm.

Anderson, one of Nicholas County's progressive farmers, purchased the farm in the spring of 1951 from William Marshall and Bill Skaggs. It was originally known as the Sparks farm.

Since the farm's purchase Mr. Anderson had added a new porch and basement to the residence and is now in the process of putting in a waterworks system. On his 70 acres he raises 1.57 acres of tobacco, this year his tobacco averaged over a ton to the acre and he used a 5-10-15 fertilizer, applying about 1500 pounds to the acre. Anderson carries several head of dairy cows and raises his own grain, dairy feed and hay. He has also put in over 1200 feet of diversion ditches.

The Andersons were married in 1936 Mrs. Anderson is Miss Marion Grace Anderson and Lyle Burton Anderson, both attending Nicholas County high school and members of the high school band. Mr. Anderson is a member of the Blue Lick Christian church and Blue Lick Masonic Lodge No. 493. Mrs. Anderson belongs to the Eastern Star.

Certificate Winner

Winner of Modern Furniture Company's gift certificate was Mrs. Robert Jones, Carlisle Route 3, who winning in current identifications were Calvin Wills and Jimmie Hall.

Swing High, Swing Low . . .

by NELLIE CRUMP

Just recently the following bit of wisdom found its way to this desk and I think its attributed to history lends prestige to any sayings, so here he is.

When the late John O. King made the first hand grain grass stripper in Mexico, Mo., in 1869, after seeing the people pull the seed off the stem with their fingers little did he think that his son, Chas. R. King, of Carlisle, would be making them as a hobby in 1956—87 years later.

But that is what has happened!
