CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How faith advanced to spiritual understanding of God provides the answer to sin, lack, and other discords will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance" at Christian Science services Sunday.

From the King James Version of the Bible will be read the following (Romans 14:22): "Hast thou faith? Have it to thyself before God."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (23: 16): "Faith, if it be mere belief, is as a pendulum swinging between nothing and something, having neither Faith, nor Science, nor spiritual understanding. is the evidence gained from Spirit, which rebukes sin of every kind and establishes the claims of God."

The Golden Text is from Hebrews (11:1): "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

Southern Bell issues illustrated report

The Southern Bell Telephone Company, which serves Carlisle and 1,060 other telephone exchanges in Kentucky and eight other southern states, experienced one of its largest years of expansion during 1955, according to the Company's Annual Report received here today.

It built the largest amount of telephone facilities for the South of any year in history.

The report, distributed by Clyde Watts, manager of Southern Bell, points out that 213,000 new telephones were installed in Kentucky during the past year, bringing the total Southern Bell telephones in the state to 410,000.

This is 223,000 more than the Company total in use in Kentucky ten years ago, or an expansion of 120 per cent.

The report devotes a special section to program made in Kentucky where the Company operates 156 exchanges with 4,800 employees. The theme of the report, made by Fred J. Farmer president of the Board of Directors, is progress in the South during the past ten years, spread in which business terms in the region increased by 170 per cent and the South experienced its greatest economic growth.

During those years Southern Bell has collaborated a tremendous program program to meet the demand for telephone service. At the end of 1955, it operated 4,500,000 telephones, with about 1 in every 4 of them distributed in areas equipped with only 1,363,204 of which 60 per cent were dial. in 1955.

Grand jury report released

The Grand Jury of the February Term, 1956 of the Nicholas Circuit Court respectfully reports that it met in regular session on February 6 and February 20.

During the meeting of the aforesaid Grand Jury the following action was taken:

The following indictments were returned:

1. Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Garland Vance. The Grand Jury heard one witness and returned an indictment against Vance for carrying a concealed deadly weapon with intent to kill.

2. Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. James Neal. The Grand Jury heard one witness and returned an indictment against James Neal for failure to comply with orders of the Court by the support of his infant children.

3. Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Joe Hamilton. Assault and battery. The Grand Jury heard one witness and returned an indictment against Kenneth Sparks and Noreville Sparks, guests of Hamilton, for assaulting a storekeeper and clerk.

4. Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. James Sims. Uttering and publishing. The Grand Jury heard one witness and returned an indictment against James Sims for failure to comply with the orders of the court for the support of his infant children.

The Grand Jury not issue any other indictment against the other persons named on the docket of their second meeting on February 20. They made an inspection of some of the property owned by the County and other persons recommendations for consideration of the County Officials and Court.

That certain leaks now existing in the roof of the Jail should be repaired; that after said repairs are made the Sheriffs Court Fiscal Court consider a new ceiling for the kitchen and the re-paper of one room of the jail. Also that the wiring at the jail be carried out in accordance with ordinances.

That the courthouse and courthouse yard be kept free of all public-house beverage containers and any other debris that might constitute a fire hazard.

The Grand Jury heard reports that the Fiscal Court is planning certain additional repairs to the courthouse and recommends such work be undertaken as soon as possible. They also wish to commend the Fiscal Court and other officials responsible therefor growing.

Employers must pay to replenish funds

Frankfort, Ky., February 29—Employers must pay the cost of their payroll tax on Kentucky unemployment benefits paid to former workers. The order of the Unemployment Compensation Commission is applicable to more than 12,000 employers in the state.

Commissioner of Economic Security Virgil E. Hancock, chairman of the Unemployment Compensation Commissioner Hancock said the action was needed because the unemployment benefit fund is approximately $7,000 in bals.

Recipes for candied, fry, other methods, along with new and unusual suggestions are found in "Sweetpotato Recipes." USDA Leaflet 293, which may be from the UK Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.

The Lexington County Chamber of Commerce is cooperating in a program to encourage strawberry in the many improvements made in the past several years to all of the property owned by the County.

In addition to the above work the Grand Jury discussed with County Officials the operation and Finance in our Schools and he recommended that steps be taken to effect a closer cooperation between all persons concerned herein with and the Jury commends the excellent steps already initiated this fall for maintaining a high attendance record in this county.

The Grand Jury was prepared to know that our Trustees questions with the exception of one case had been summarily dealt with to the best interest of the school authorities of the parties of school age.

A discussion of the Dog Law was had and it was learned that there is some delay on the part of many people to obtain necessary dog tags and the Grand Jury recommended that the Dog Warden John A. McCarty be very diligent in his efforts to see that all unvaccinated dogs were either licensed or destroyed.

The Grand Jury for Dorsey Mitchell was discharged.

Watts seeks acre tobacco base, I fully realize the benefits of the restoration of the old.

I have consistently fought against the efforts of Mr. Benson to flex the farmer into bankruptcy.

While I have worked diligently in the field of agriculture, I have been just as solicitous for the welfare of our veterans, our business people, and the working people of our country.

I would against and fought against the Fulbright-Harris bill, vetoed by President Eisenhower which would have increased the gas bill of every consumer in our district.

My first duty is to my constituents. The recent change in the primary date from August to May will not afford me the opportunity of seeing as many voters as I would like to see since. Congress does not adjourn until July 1 Irrespective of this, I shall stick to the job for which my people elected me. My oath of office must come ahead of politics.

Nevertheless, within the time afforded by my duties, I shall make an active canvass. I shall call on the voters in the people by newspaper, television, radio and in person. I feel I owe it straight to my county in the district. During my service in the Congress, all of them have been in the district at one time or another. To the question I frequently placed back in the district I say—Welcome home. We're glad to have you back.

I repeat that I am running on my record and on an against the record of anyone else I have tried to do a good job for my people. I have accepted minority and majority service in the Congress. It is for them to say whether I have done so, whether this service's and experience are to be found such. In making that decision the sovereign people must be free to exercise unrestrained judgment. Representation in the Congress is not an office to be sought but a trust to be discharged in our behalf.

I close the outcome with cheerful confidence.

Leaf growers can plant same as in '55

Growers of burley tobacco may plant as much leaf this year as they did last year.

Burley Production Goals have been signed legislation. Under a 1955 amendment to the Agricultural Act of 1949 growers had growers of burley tobacco to plant the same acreage they had Mandated allotments. The new laws from the crop.

Congressman Frederick Watts, representative of Kentucky's 10th congressional district, had supported the bill stated he was pleased at the action. Watts said the measure which represented the culmination of a most strenuous effort on the part of the entire Kentucky congressional delegation and others in the Congress of the 1st of Kentucky.

The bills were rushed through Congress as emergency measures to give tobacco men the quickest possible decision on the acreage they could plant this year and still preserve the 90 per cent of parity price supports accorded tobacco.

Burley growers have been in the Agriculture Department on the 1955 acreage estimated 1955 production.

When the 1955 crop went to market the department's estimates were shown to be excessive. Congress members from tobacco states forced eliminating the 1956 acreage reductions and the department agreed.

Dear Friends

Friends you are because for many years I have read your column with great interest and considerable satisfaction. I have suggested that on some men' after Parks family grave yard on the Hiram Jackson farm, Parks Ferry road, Nicholas County, there was will find some very interesting and valuable information. Perhaps you will find it worth while to visit and see for yourself.

It has come to be my belief that the Parks grave yard is a sacred place. Not only is it the last resting place of my great grandfather, James Parks, who died in 1850 at the age of 75 years, but it is also the last resting place of my grandmother, Nancy Parks, who died in 1852 at the age of 75 years.
