Coronation ceremonies for the new Mountain Laurel Queen will be Friday, May 25, in Pine Mountain State Park. Mary Lou was born in Louisville. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
How spiritualization of thought brings man enlarged ability and opportunity will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mortals and Immortals" at Christian Science services Sunday.
Selections to be read from 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: (265-5-15): "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite.—in order that sin and mortality may be put off.
"This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for Spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into Deity and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individuality, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace."

FAIRNESS CANDIDATE in 1954, Queen candidate in 1956. This, to date, is the record of Rebecca Gays in Kentucky's Mountain Laurel Festival. There might be more to add this year because the 1956 queen won't be selected until the Festival in Pineville, May 24-26. Rebecca will represent Cumberland College, Williamsburg, in the queen competition this year. At Cumberland, Rebecca has been cheerleader for two years and was elected "Most Popular Girl" her freshman year. She is president of the girl's dormitory. After being graduated from Cumberland in May, she plans to teach. Doing housework in a home of her own is a life-long dream," she said. This may become reality in the near future for she says she has a "steady" boyfriend.

SHIRLEY ANN FEENEY, of Louisville, will represent Ursuline College in the queen's competition at the 25th birthday celebration of Kentucky's Mountain Laurel Festival. Shirley Ann attended Loretto High School and in her senior year was chosen to be an attendant in the Queen's court at the school's May Day celebration. At Ursuline, she is majoring in elementary education and plans to teach one of the primary grades after her graduation.
One of her favorite pastimes is cooking. "I love to prepare foods of all kinds, especially for a formal dinner party," she said.

FESTIVAL CANDIDATE—Clarksville, Tenn. was the birthplace of Margaret Pickens, one of the two queen candidates in the 1956 Mountain Laurel Festival not a native. Kentuckian. Margaret's home is now in Mayfield, Ky. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pickens live there and she is a 1952 graduate of the Mayfield High School. Western State College has selected Margaret to vie for the crown

Recipe of the week

A lattice-top rhubarb pie is as much a part of spring as early flowers. Strawberry rhubarb is especially desirable with its pretty red coloring and fresh flavor. In this recipe Mrs. Pearl Hask, specialist in foods at the University of Kentucky, suggests the addition of beaten eggs. The custard-like consistency cuts the acidity without loss of flavor.

Lattice-Top Rhubarb Pie
2 eggs
1 1/2 c sugar
1 1 grated orange rind
1 t salt
4 c cut-up rhubarb
2 T butter
Make the pastry of 2 c of sifted flour, 1 t of salt, 2/3 c of shortening and 3 to 5 T of cold water. Mix, press dough together and chill in refrigerator while preparing filling.
Beat eggs, combine sugar, flour, orange rind and salt and add to the eggs. Stir in rhubarb. Roll half the pastry in a circle 1/8 inch thick and fit into 9-inch pie pan. Roll remaining half the same thickness and cut in half-inch strips. Turn rhubarb mixture into bottom of pastry, add butter and weave pastry strips to form criss-cross lattice top. Trim edge, place strip of dough around edge and seal.
Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 25 minutes longer.
Menu: Pot roast of beef, parsleyed potatoes, asparagus, lettuce salad, rolls, butter and lattice-top rhubarb pie.

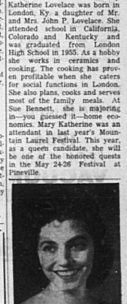
QUEEN CANDIDATE—to represent Sue Bennett College in the Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival is a daughter of the first attendant to represent London in the Festival. Mary Katherine Lovelace was born in London, Ky. a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Lovelace. She attended school in California, Colorado and Kentucky and was graduated from London High School in 1955. As a hobby she works in ceramics and cooking. The cooking has proven profitable when she caters for social functions in London. She also plans, cooks and serves most of the family meals. At Sue Bennett, she is majoring in—you guessed it—home economics. Mary Katherine was an attendant in last year's Mountain Laurel Festival. This year, as a queen candidate, she will be one of the hopefuls queens in the May 24-26 Festival at Pineville.



SAVE YOUR BREATH, BOYS, this gal is engaged. Billie Sue Click, 20, is a candidate for Mountain Laurel Queen. She is a third-year student, majoring in english at Eastern Kentucky State College. Although she will finish college, she said, "My plans for a teaching career have been postponed as plans are being made for my marriage." She attended Martin High School where she participated in the band and the dramatics, pep, crafts and glee clubs. She was graduated from high school in 1953. At Eastern, Billie Sue has been active in Campus activities. This year she was a member of the home-coming queen's court. art a hobby. As a part of that thoroughly enjoy washing dishes and cleaning house. My favorite pastime is cooking and baking—things I have been doing since I was big enough to reach the stove." This quote came from Margaret Vincent who will represent Morehead State College in the queen competition at Kentucky's Mountain Laurel Festival, May 24-26, in Pineville. She is a senior majoring in commerce at Morehead. Margaret has made honor roll grades throughout her formal education. After being graduated from Morehead this Spring, she plans to work as a stenographer during the summer and then to teach commerce this Fall.

Strawberry beds

Treat soil in strawberry beds before setting plants and give two applications of insecticide dusts or wettable powders during the blooming period of the bearing year to control insects, says J. G. Rodrigues, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station entomologist.
White grubs or strawberry root aphids may destroy plants if the soil is not treated before plants are set, he noted. To control them, Aldrin or heptachlor is recommended at four to five pounds an acre; chlordane also may be used, at the rate of eight to 10 pounds an acre. Dosages vary according to lightness or heaviness of the soil.
