HEADQUARTERS

CHAPPELL, BECK & COLLIVER

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

CITY STORE.

Have you heard about the GOLD? Have you heard about the SILVER? Have you heard how the nations are disturbed for fear something awful is about to come to pass which will take the very bread out of our mouths? How the States of our own "dear native land" are fuming and fretting? How individuals are quitting business to talk the matter over to devise means by which the awful thing may be averted? Have you been very much "skeered" and afraid that the American flag would be made into a shroud for the great American eagle, and both buried in "one common grave," or words to that effect?

NO, INDEED! Go to Work, every mother's son of us and get gold and get silver too, and let the howler howl.

Respectfully,

CHAPPELL, BECK & COLLIVER

R. C. KING, SAYS:

Mr. Keller, Please tell the people to quit grumbling of hard times, that prices on all products are improving, that our wheat crop was a good one, and is selling for a tolerably fair price; Never had a better prospect for a heavy corn crop; Tobacco is doing well; Cattle and Hogs looking up, and in place of grumbling, tell them to do as they have promised their wives and children, come in and buy a BUGGY, PHEATON, or SURRY at the LOWEST price they were ever offered, or likely EVER WILL BE, as my stock on hands was BOUGHT FOR LESS than it could be bought to-day, and every month puts them higher.

You growlers think you are cheating your wives by talking hard times, when you are only fooling yourself, for goods are certainly going up.

NOW is the accepted time. TO-DAY is the day to make up you mind to buy anytying on wheels and the harness with it.

ATTEMPTED ASSAULT.

Thursday afternoon about five o'clock, as Miss Annie Gore, of Miller's Station, was returning to her home from this city, in a buggy, Jack Gilvin, aged about fifty years, under the influence of liquor, grabbed her horse and attempted to drag her from the buggy, but she fought him off by means of the butt end of her buggy whip and knocking him down, drove over him, making good her escape.

The officers were notified and immediately started in pursuit of Gilvin, who when found was at his home asleep. When Deputy Sheriff Sparks read the warrant to him he denied knowing anything of it, but accompanied him without a word.

He was placed in jail about 2 o'clock Thursday morning and his trial set for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. During the afternoon of Thursday his attorneys fearing he would be mobbed asked that he be removed to Paris, and Sheriff Ratliff and Marshal Pumphrey took him away about 9 o'clock.

About 11 o'clock the town was full of people not in the habit of being seen here at that hour, and we are strongly of the opinion that the prisoner was not removed an hour too soon.

RELIGIOUS.

The protracted meeting at Stony Creek Christian Church was begun last Sunday by Bro. Bagley. Bro. Hales joining him on Tuesday night.

THE LAST PROCLAMATION For the Summer.

"A very warm day!" said a lady to Sidney Smith. "Yes, Madam, truly, I feel as though I'd like to slip out of my flesh and just sit in my bones awhile." We are not yet quite ready for this novel experience, and so long as we are clothed upon with this solid flesh just so long must this solid flesh be clothed upon with fabrics suited to the season. These fabrics can be found at the McMahill Store where the slaughter of prices still goes on.
