NCHS senior trip

Sightseeing Bus that took us to the points of interest in Washington, D. C. The first stop was at the Nation's Capital. The next stop was at the Printing and Engraving Building where we saw more paper money than we will ever see again. The biggest bill we saw was a five hundred thousand dollar bill. From here we visited the Whitehouse where President Eisenhower lives. By this time it was noon and time for lunch. We boarded our bus and went to Arlington, Virginia where we ate lunch at Hedgies. After lunch we went to Arlington cemetery where we saw the changing of the guards at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Next we stopped at Lincoln Memorial and from there we visited Washington's monument. By the time we travelled 900 steps to the top of the monument we were about worn out. Our last stop before we boarded the train was at the Smithsonain Institute and the Museum of Natural History. From there we went to the train depot where we boarded the Pennsylvania for New York. We arrived in New York at 10:00 p.m. (E.D.T.) We boarded a Greyline Bus for the Taft Hotel which was our home for the week. Some of the boys and Mr. Finnell walked down Broadway and rode a Subway several blocks.

We caught the next Subway and went back to Broadway and the Taft Hotel. We got up bright and early Wednesday morning and went to our favorite eating place. Longleys Cafeteria, which would be our place to dine for the rest of the week. Boy did we really eat!

We boarded a sightseeing Bus to tour upper and lower New York. Our first stop was at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and from there we went to the United Nations Building. After having lunch we went to the Empire State Building. We rode on an elevator to the top, which was one hundred and two stories. The elevator traveled three stories per second. From here we visited the Bowery and China Town. By this time we were ready for our supper. After supper we had a free night. Some went to plays, some shows and several boys went shopping. On Thursday morning we attoured Rockefellow Center. This covered two blocks and took all morning. After lunch we took a three hour boat ride around Manhattan Island. We saw several ships docked and went under the Washington Bridge which is the second largest bridge in the world. We also saw the Statue of Liberty. After supper we went to see the famous Rockettes in their show "The Swan."

On Friday morning at 11:00 a.m. we went to see "Strike it Rich". After dinner we boarded the train for home, sweet home. We arrived back in Washington at 6:00 p.m. and changed from the Pennsylvania to the Georgian Washington for good old Kentucky. We arrived in Lexington at 8:00 o'clock Saturday morning and were glad to see "Hoddie" and the Nicholas County school bus who took us to Carlisle. The trip was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Carlisle, Kentucky

Dear Mr. Fisher

This school year is fast drawing to a close. As we look back to take into account all who have contributed to making it a success, we are very mindful of the press and its willingness to let the public know what goes on in the schools.

I just wanted to take this means of letting you know that we appreciate your cooperation in covering functions of the schools both with pen and pencil. We want you to know that we feel that you have rendered all of us connected with the schools, parents, pupils and teachers a great service.

Very truly yours

ALMOST A TOTAL LOSS—This nice patch of tobacco plants doesn't look like the mess it was on May 3 following a sever attack of wildfire, and if it wasn't for the wonder compound streptomycin which brought about control, it would have been abandoned. The patch on the Whetstone road is under the supervision of James C. Lowe.—Mercury photo

ACCEPTS AG SURVEY—Ralph Shearer, president of the Chamber of Commerce receives a copy of the completed agriculture survey prepared by Champ Clarke, farm service adviser of the Kentucky Utilities Company. The booklets give an interesting opinion on agriculture in Nicholas County and ways that the County may be improved. The 200 books given the Chamber by KU have been turned over to W. T. Straw county agent, for distribution. Directors of the C of C extended their thanks to Mr. Clarke and the Kentucky Utilities Company for their generosity in producing the attractive survey booklets. At last Thursday's meeting, June 4 was set as a second clean-up day and residents of the city are requested to have their trash in suitable containers, so volunteer workers can remove them to the dump. The Chamber's annual fish fry was set for July 12. Next meeting date for directors will be June 14 at the courthouse 8 p.m.—Mercury photo

Graduation exercises were held at the school last week.

Lail takes over Gulf bulk plant

Charles Lail of Bourbon county, a graduate of Bourbon Vocational high school has purchased the Gulf distribution plant from Ben Pumphrey Jr. Mr. Lail a veteran of three years in the U. S. Army, previously operated a Gulf station. He is married and has one child.

The bulk plant has been operated by the Pumphrey's for 27 years, and has been under the management of Ben Jr. since the death of his father in 1952. Mr. Pumphrey will devote full time to his New York Life Insurance Co. agency.

Cattle thieves in Bethel area

Theft of cattle valued at several hundred dollars from the Roy Hill farm between Moorefield and Bethel has been reported by M. F. Eubank who recently purchased part of the 475 acre tract of land.

Eubank & Farris bought the farm about a year ago. Farris owning the front part and Eubank the back, where most of the stealing has taken place. In the past few months Eubank has had from $400 to $500 worth of cattle stolen. Farris has had four cows stolen in the past few weeks, Eubanks said, when advertising in The Mercury last week offering a reward of $100 for lead to conviction of persons involved.

The fact that part of the farm lies in an isolated section makes it easy prey for cattle thieves, the new owner stated.

Alumni banquet held at school

The 63rd Alumni banquet was held in the city school gymnasium at 6 p.m. Thursday night, with approximately 120 attending. Dinner was served by the Carlisle PTA members.

Trick mule act an added feature; free transportation offered patrons

SCHOLARSHIP for 4 years to Duke University was presented to Billy Gilley, a member of the 1956 graduating class, who has starred in basketball and football at Carlisle high. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Gilley of Carlisle.

One of Kentucky's finest one night equine spectacles, the eighth annual VFW horseshow will get underway Saturday night, June 2 at 7:30 o'clock CST at the Nicholas County high school athletic field.

Russell E. Alexander, chairman, Oliver Curry, co-chairman and Ring Master Keller Hughes, vice chairman have repeatedly pointed out that from all indications this year's show promises to be the best yet held in Nicholas County or in the state. Mr. Alexander said, "more premium money is to be given here than in any other one night show in the state."

Box Seats

Bus service without charge will be provided for those wishing to see the VFW horseshow. The first bus will leave from in front of the Carlisle Drug at 7 p.m. DST and the second an hour later. Additional service will be provided if conditions warrant it.

Box Seats

Plenty of box seats are available and patrons are asked to contact Billy Vaughn, phone 34 and place their reservations.

Added Attractions

Keller Hughes, ring master announced the addition this year of a trick mule act from Muses Mill in Fleming county and also presentation of the Cultom Rifle Drill team, guard and a bugler to call in the classes.

Mrs. Agnes Coatney, president of the VFW Auxiliary will present a silver cup to the winner of the five gulted stallion, mare or gelding class.

Ribbons will be presented by Misses Lena Spencer, Betty Marshall, Nicholas County high school; Sidney Crouch, Mary Catherine Allison, Claudia Hardin, city school graduates, and Jay and Michael Morford, son and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Morford, who will award ribbon presentations in the pony class. The sponsors will be escorted by Jack Dayton.

Bugler for Taps Richard Jr. who is being outfitted in correct attire according to ring master Hughes.

In case of inclement weather, the show will be held in the church services Sunday night, June 3.

YOUR GUESS—Some persons will guess correctly, others will have to turn this owl on its side for closer observation before guessing. This snakelike fish was caught by Bill Gilley in Lacking river while seining Friday afternoon for bait. It is greyish-white in color and approximately 8 inches long. The small dots along its side are the breathing apparatus, it has two tiny eyes and a pin-point nose. The owl adheres itself to its prey with a suction-cup like mouth. Mr. Gilley believes the eel to be of the type which menaced commercial fishermen in the Great Lakes region.—W. C. Campbell photo

Near tragedy marks holiday

Near tragedy occurred about 10:30 Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jolly on the Stoney Creek road, near Carlisle, when the family received an electric shock from a fallen TV antenna.

Jolly and his wife (formerly a Miss Ellison) were rushed to the Nicholas County hospital by Miss Lena Pumphrey, a neighbor, in her car. Mrs. Jolly still being in an unconscious state when they reached the hospital.

Jolly, although badly shocked had recovered sufficiently to return to the home with Paul Cameron, chief of police, for two small sons, 11 and 3 years old, who were missing. They were also treated for shock at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jolly were attempting to replace their television antenna which had fallen during the hard rain a day or so ago. The wires came in contact with the high voltage line leading into the house, Chief Cameron stated.
