Farm-City Week

such as F.F.A., 4H, Veteran's Agriculture Program, Home makers, Soil Conservation District, and other related fields. These programs do a lot to improve relationships between city and country. The Nicholas County Farm Bureau has as their guests the Carlisle Rotary Club at their annual fish fry. The Carlisle-Nicholas County Chamber of Commerce this year sponsored the 4H—F.F.A. strawberry project. This group also maintains an agriculture committee. The annual Nicholas County Youth Fair is a good example of joint cooperation between city and county. The leadership in planning the fair is done largely by rural interests while the financing is done mainly by Carlisle merchants and other business people throughout the county.

The splendid cooperation of the agricultural agencies and the civic and professional organizations contribute greatly to promoting better understanding between farm and city residents.

Farm population of the United States has been declining about 600,000 persons a year since 1949.

Higher yielding fertilizers with more nutrients and less bulky inert matter are on the way.

Joe Small Sr. hurt in car-truck crash

Joe Small Sr., of Nicholas County, was admitted to the Bourbon County hospital Wednesday morning, Nov. 14 for injuries sustained in a car-truck crash on the Millersburg road.

The elder Small was in a car, driven by his son Joe Small Jr., that collided head-on with a dump truck driven by Tracy Roberts, Irvine, Ky.

According to Deputy Sheriff James C. Pruitt, Roberts stated he was traveling south on the highway on a curve about a mile from Millersburg, when a rural mail carrier stopped at a mail box at the side of the road and in front of the truck. The truck driver said he applied his brakes, but that the left front brake grabbed, throwing the truck across the road into the path of the small car traveling in the opposite direction.

The driver of the car suffered a cut on his left knee and elbow but required no more than treatment at a physician's office.

The father suffered several fractured ribs in the accident and was admitted to the hospital after emergency treatment and examination by a physician at Millersburg.

The accident happened at 8 a.m. Pruitt said. The truck was one of several on the project shuttling dirt on the new stretch of highway being built near Millersburg.

Green and yellow vegetables averaged 68 pounds of fertilizer an acre in 1956 but hay fields and pasture fields got one pound or less fertilizer per acre in the U. S.

Predictions of rainfall cannot be made on the basis of weather cycles of wet and dry years, research shows. Cycles actually play little or no part in annual rainfall figures.

Hot water is more effective in washing cotions than warm water, about one-third more soil being removed by soaps in water of 140 degrees than 100 degrees.

U.S. farmers are taking out more fire insurance every year, says the USDA. The bloc loses about $150 million worth of property annually to fire.

The number of persons working on U. S. farms this fall showed an advance over summer figures, but the number is 4 percent less than for the same period in 1955.

TO THE VOTERS OF NICHOLAS COUNTY

After very careful consideration and with a full realization of the responsibilities and duties of the office of County Judge of Nicholas County, I have decided to take this means to announce my candidacy for that office, subject to the action of the Democratic Party at its regular primary election in May, 1957.

I am a native of Nicholas County. I have lived here all my life as a farmer. I have always been interested in the affairs of Nicholas County. I have been associated with many youth activities, such as, President of the old Soft Ball League and a member of the Recreational Council of the City Playground. I am now serving as manager of the Junior Soft Ball League at Nicholas County High School. I have been a member of the Farm Bureau of Nicholas County for many years and have served as its Vice President and Chairman of many committees of that organization. I have worked toward the rural electrification of this county in an advisory capacity with the Harrison County Rural Electrification Co-Op.

I am aware of the many needs of Nicholas County. I will work with the State Administration for the betterment of Nicholas County, especially the road system, and I will take advantage of every benefit which may be derived from the new State Road program coming out of the bond issue which was recently approved by the voters of Kentucky.

We are all proud of our Public Health Department and our Nicholas County Hospital and I will cooperate with and use my efforts for the further development of these great agencies, so that they may continue to serve the people of this county more fully. I believe in a good educational system and I will work with the school boards in all matters to improve and better their programs.

I believe in the strict enforcement of the laws and I will do all in my power to make Nicholas County a better place to live.

I have lived in the East Union Community all my life and am a member of the East Union Christian Church.

I will greatly appreciate the opportunity of serving all of you as your County Judge and I promise to be faithful to your trust.

Respectfully,
Raymond House

Muskies trounced by Cynthiana, 77-14 in losing fifth contest; Jackets defeated

By Bill Woodall

The Carlisle Musketeers dropped their fifth game in as many starts Tuesday night as the Cynthiana Bulldogs trounced the local squad by an over-whelming 77-14 score.

Led by Stout, who dropped through 32 points the Bulldogs bounced into a 20-2 first period lead. With less than a minute to play in the period, the Cynthiana crew commanded an 18-0 lead. LeRoy Hawkins kept the Musketeers from being shut out when he hit a one hander from about ten feet out.

The Bulldogs poured through 22 counters in the second period to rest at half-time on the long end of a 42-7 lead. During the period Vice and Straw hit crips for Carlisle while Hawkins added one via the foul method.

Adding 18 more points during the third eight minutes the Bulldogs increased their margin to 60-11, allowing Vice and McGuffey to hit two each.

After free substitution of the Cynthiana team continued to pull out, dropping in 17 more counters in the last period. But even with the entire Cynthiana bench seeing action, they kept at least one man of height and experience in play throughout the contest. Smart and Straw culminated the Musketeer score with a field goal and foul shot respectively.

At the foul line the Musketeers had 13 tries, hitting two for a 15 per cent average. Cynthiana went to the line 21 times hitting 13 times for an average of 54 percent.

Vice led the local squad with four points while Stout dropped through 32 for the visitors.

Last Thursday night the Nicholas County Blue Jackets suffered their first defeat of the season when they were defeated by Harrison County in an opening tilt of the Northern Section of the Pioneer Counties tournament at the local high school. Wednesday night they returned to their winning way by taking the consolation contest.

Friday the Jackets will face Bourbon County in the second game of their regular scheduled season while Carlisle will go against Maysluck there.

Postmaster thanks patrons for help during Christmas

Commenting on the volumn of mail handled by the local post office E. E. Plantiel, postmaster stated that the Carlisle post office has always prided itself in the fact that all incoming and outgoing mail has been processed the day it was received. One day last year prior to Christmas the local office handled over 14,000 pieces of mail, exclusive of parcels. This could not have been done well without the very fine cooperation of our patrons, he said.

Again we call attention to the advantages of early mailing. Letters to distant states should be mailed in advance of Dec. 10 and greeting cards as early as possible to insure delivery before Christmas Day.

Early Mailing

Early mailing of parcels is especially desirable. Parcels may be marked "Do Not Open Until Christmas." The new combination service permits enclosing written matter in packages when so endorsed and upon payment of the proper postage.

Especial care in the proper addressing of mail is urged. It is surprising in the rush of Christmas, how many patrons fail to do this. Much of this can never reach its destination. Letters are living things they are vastly important in that they deal with human lives. Prompt delivery cannot be assured unless the mail is stamped and properly addressed.

Mailings should be separated and tied into packages marked "Carlisle and Rural Routes" and "Out of Town" as well as air mail and special delivery. This avoids duplicate handling. A very wonderful assistance was given us last year in this respect. By this we were able to render much more effective service.

Latest Message!

Today's predictions that bad weather is on the way, Santa Claus' message says for all children, to get their letters in to The Mercury as soon as possible, in order that no one shall be disappointed in not having his letter printed. Friday, Dec. 21 is the deadline, so hurry, kids.

Cupboard Was Bare!

Had it not been for the kindness of Willard Sandidge and R. E. Davis, the little children at Parks school would have had no turkey for Thanksgiving. On Monday night thieves entered the cafeteria and took various articles of food, and money, but left the uncooked turkey. Tuesday the turkey was cooked for Wednesday's dinner. Tuesday night thieves returned, taking the turkey and also loaves of bread and one gallon of cranberry sauce to go with it.

Mrs. James Simons, principal, and all others connected with Parks school, wish to publicly extend heartfelt thanks to Mr. Sandidge and Mr. Davis for coming to their rescue, each with half a cooked turkey, thus preventing the disappointment of an entire school of little hungry children.

BREAKS LEG IN FALL

Much interest in Soil essay contest is shown

Interest is very high in this year's Soil Conservation Essay Contest entitled "How Fish and Wildlife Conservation Can Benefit My Community." The subject is a very appropriate one. It is expected that every school in the county and city will have students entering the contest.

The schools will select the best essays written in the schools. Judges to determine the County winners will be representatives of the following organizations: Agricultural Extension Service, Nicholas County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors, Farmers Home Administration, Fish and Game Club, Dept. of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Farm Bureau, and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office.

The name of the writer of each essay will be removed before presentation for judging. The judges will not know the writer of any essay. After determining the winning essays, the essays and the names will be reassembled to determine the writer of the winning essays.

The county winner and the runner-up will compete in the State Contest.

All essays competing for county awards must be in the school superintendents' office before midnight, December 8.

FFA chapter to help with Dimes canvass

This year the FFA chapter of the Nicholas County high school will lend their support to the March of Dimes by collecting, and selling the tobacco which Nicholas County farmers contribute to the March of Dimes.

Each year the farmers are asked at the warehouse to contribute. The money obtained in losses for the March of Dimes but Nicholas County receives no credit. In order that this county can receive credit Joe Frank Conley, Nicholas County March of Dimes Director asked the FFA chapter to collect, sort and sell the tobacco under the name of the Nicholas County March of Dimes.

Mr. Conley, said he knew that many of the farmers would be taking their tobacco to market before they were called upon by the FFA boys. He therefore asked that any farmer who is planning to take his crop to market please leave several hands of tobacco in the barn and notify the FFA chapter so they can send someone to pick it up.

Solicitation will start this week and continue until all farms are covered. Mr. Conley asks that the farmers support March of Dimes by this method and bring in as much tobacco as that it will help the Future Farmers make the project a success.

Marketing of the 1956 Burley tobacco crop began Tuesday, Nov. 27, in the eight-state area with average prices on the majority of grades considerably higher than on last year's opening. The Federal-State Market News Service reports that leaf offerings higher by $4 to $13 per hundred pounds. Tips were up $11 to $17, lugs $1 and $2 and a few nondescript grades $2 to $14. The increases were mostly $5 to $13. Flyings held about steady with low half flyings $1 a hundred along with best thin nondescript for the only declines. Auction averages on heavy volume grades of leaf and tips ranged from $5 to $20 over the year's advance levels. Lower reddish tan and red grades were from $18 to $30 above. Lugs and flyings held even with their loan rates as much as $4 above. The bulk of sales brought from $42 to $65 a hundred with a practical top of $65. Through most of the area, A few baskets of good lugs went as high as $67; a low of $12 was seen for a basket of poorest nondescript.

The Burley Growers' Associations were estimated to have received from 2 to 6 percent of today's sales at representative points. Deliveries for the first day in 1955 ran 25 percent over the entire belt.

Quality of the tobacco was lower than the exceptionally good offerings last year. There were larger percentages of low flyings, lugs and leaf. Also, the proportion of nondescript about doubled. The color ran more to the red and reddish tan side. Leaf, lugs and flyings made up most sales with low to good qualities predominating. Volume was heavy with first sales full. All warehouses, however, were not filled to capacity as they were last year.

Some of the high crops from Nicholas County sold on the Paris market Tuesday were as follows:

Tom Feeback and Edward Port in the March of Dimes by collecting, and selling the tobacco which Nicholas County farmers contribute to the March of Dimes.

Mr. Conley, said he knew that many of the farmers would be taking their tobacco to market before they were called upon by the FFA boys. He therefore asked that any farmer who is planning to take his crop to market please leave several hands of tobacco in the barn and notify the FFA chapter so they can send someone to pick it up.

Solicitation will start this week and continue until all farms are covered. Mr. Conley asks that the farmers support March of Dimes by this method and bring in as much tobacco as that it will help the Future Farmers make the project a success.
