Hon. C. M. Cyarr, of Bourbon, made a fine speech for Governor in Carlisle a short time Saturday.

Senator Rawson, of North Carolina, has been appointed Minister to Mexico vice Gray, deceased.

President Cleveland has appointed Wallace Shiflet, son of the late Colonel Shiflet, to fill out his father's term.

In London financial circles it is said that if the new bonds of the United States had been gold bonds instead of coin bonds the price bid for them there would have been 100 instead of 107.

Hon. Ben F. Dix, a well-known lawyer and politician, died at Glasgow, Ky., of typhoid fever, last Saturday, aged 37 years. He was a leading citizen of his county and section, and will be greatly missed.

Governor Brown has appointed Major Joe. B. Easton, Judge of the Court of Appeals, vice Taney deceased. The appointment of Major Easton is an excellent one and will meet with general approbation by the Bar of the State.

After balloting for ninety-three days the Oregon Legislature, fifteen members before final adjournment, succeeded in electing a United States Senator. Hon. W. McBride, ex-Secretary of State and a native of Oregon, was chosen by the combination which finally succeeded in the task of starting a stampede in his favor.

The Eastern Kentucky Republican Congressional Convention met at Ashland Wednesday. The ex-Confederate element was there in force and Hon. Thomas H. Paynter and Hinchden Hill of Lexington were nominated by acclamation for Congressman and Governor respectively. Their nomination by the county meeting was ratified by the Republican State Convention at Louisville on the 22nd.

Governor Brown is going his own sweet way to the front in the race for Governorship, and it is possible he may succeed. To raise one man's reputation, however, another failed to correctly forecast the property issue for her interests. Many of us have maintained that it can be done, and honest people must suffer if the Board yields to the Governor's wishes.

We are sorry to see some of the democratic exchanges inclined to endorse extreme President Cleveland's views. We are not always sorry with President Cleveland, but we attribute that to the fact that we do not know as much as he does and we are modest enough to admit that people made no mistake in electing him a second time to the Presidency instead of one of the United States Senators who hold up his hands in his every position.

The Covington Post says: It is gratifying to note that the Democracy of Kenton and the Hartford Republicans, two of the brightest Republican counties in Kentucky, are disposed to bind aside factional differences and work together for the one leader in the State who can lead the party strength. The one man who is dying out in Kentucky politics is the people and political combinations that they form. It is the party for service, that long will be remembered in the case of the people.

In order that the people of Kentucky may correctly understand the Republican Executive Committee of Kenton will endorse the matter as understood in Fulton City and Hickman, by the Democratic and Republican candidates respectively. The present election in Kenton made their returns where shower the election of Judge Tarvin. There were about 1,000 ballots returned as not counted, and when the count was made after the seal, as the law requires, they were thrown in the ballot boxes here, and returned to the Court in the same manner. The latter was the only irregularity in the election, and Judge Jefferson County Court, Democrat, when the returning board came to count the vote they refused to count the ballots returned in a most surprised manner, and announced that there was a howl given on the floor of the House. They declared most positively that they did not count in all the Republican votes
