Foot-and-mouth disease, and rinderpest, head the list of the worst feared of animal diseases. So far there is not satisfactory cure.

Contagious bovine pleuropneumonia came to the U. S. in 1843 when a New Yorker bought an infected cow from a sea captain.

The year just past was a good one for us and we are taking this means of extending our thanks to our many friends for making it so. Happy Holiday!

UK PROF. WILL STUDY AT U. OF MICHIGAN

Nuclear engineering at the University of Kentucky will be strengthened next year through advanced study by one of the department's professors.

James F. Lafferty, assistant professor of mechanical engineering who devotes full time to the UK nuclear energy program, has been granted a National Science Foundation faculty scholarship for a year's study at the University of Michigan.

Only the second UK professor to receive the much-sought-after grant, Lafferty will begin his studies in nuclear science next September. Most of the work he does will also apply toward a doctoral degree. There are annually more than three applications for every such fellowship given by the NSF.

Cawood Calls BASKETBALL

by Cawood Ledford

Have you thumbed through the official basketball rules lately? Well, there are 32 pages of fine print. And that's a far cry from the original simple baker's dozen rules that young James Naismith wrote when he "invented" the game 70 years ago.

Naismith, as I'm sure every basketball fan knows, devised the game game to occupy the winter time of his gym group at the Springfield, Mass., Y.M.C.A. The first game was played on January 20, 1892. Naismith had written the rules in just one evening.

And here is that original set of rules. Try playing a game by them some time.

1. The ball may be thrown in any direction with one or both hands.

2. The ball may be batted in any direction with one or both hands, never with the fist.

3. A player cannot run with the ball; the player must throw it from the spot on which he catches it, allowance to be made for a man who catches the ball when running if he tries to stop.

4. The ball must be held by the hand; the arms or body must not be used for holding it.

5. No shouldering, holding, pushing or striking in any way the person of any opponent shall be allowed. The first infringement of this rule by any player shall count as a foul, the second shall disqualify him until the next goal is made or, if there was evident intent to injure the person, for the whole of the game, no substitution allowed.

6. A foul is striking at the ball with the fist, violation of rules 3, 4 and such as described in Rule 5.

7. If either side makes three consecutive fouls it shall count as a goal for the opponent. (Consecutive means without the opponents in the meantime making a goal.)

8. A goal shall be made when the ball is thrown or batted from the ground into the basket and stays there, providing those or disturb the goal. If the ball defending the goal do not touch rests on the edges and the opponent moves the basket, it shall count as a goal.

9. When the ball goes out of bounds, it shall be thrown into the field of play by the person first touching it. He has a right to hold it unmolested for 5 seconds. In case of a dispute, the umpire shall throw it straight into the field. The thrower is allowed 5 seconds; if he holds it longer, it shall go to the opponent. If any side persists in delaying the game, the umpire shall call a foul on that side.

10. The umpire shall be judge of the men and shall note the fouls and notify the referee when three consecutive fouls have been made. He shall have power to disqualify men according to Rule 5.

5. The referee shall be judge of the ball and shall decide when the ball is in play, in bounds, to which side it belongs, and shall keep time. He shall decide when a goal has been made, keep account of the goals, with any other duties that are usually performed by a referee.

12. The time shall be two 15 minute halves with 5 minutes rest between.

13. The side making the most goals in that time shall be declared the winner. In case of a draw, the game may, by agreement of the captains, be continued until another goal is made.

How many men made up a team? Did Naismith forget that? No. You simply devided up the number of players present, no matter the number.

Maybe this game will catch on.

NEW UK NORTHERN CENTER IN OPERATION

University of Kentucky students at the Northern Center have completed their first week of classes in a new million-dollar building located on a bluff overlooking Cincinnati, Covington and Newport.

The ultramodern structure, located in a Park Hills residential district adjacent to Covington, is large enough to accommodate 2,000 to 2,500 part-time students or 2,200 full-time students. Classes are held from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The three-story building has vast expanses of glass on all four sides, all but eliminating the need for artificial light during the day.

It was a great pleasure to serve you during the past year and we hope to continue doing so for a long time to come. Happy New Year to our many friends in this fine community.
