Single vehicle fender bender is reported

A single vehicle fender bender at Crockett's car wash occurred Saturday morning according to an accident report filed by city patrolman Jim Coy.

Coy's report states that the accident occurred when a car driven by Richard C. Morris, Route 4, Carlisle, skidded on ice and hit the car wash bay.

The accident took place at 8:35 a.m. The car received only minor damage to the left front fender. Morris was not injured.

Weather Service now has call-in

The National Weather Service has inaugurated a national call-in weather report for travelers. The 24-hour service began Nov. 23, and offers two easy-to-remember numbers: 1-900-978-EAST for conditions east of the Mississippi; 1-900-976-WEST for weather west of the river.

The 50-second recording describes dominant weather — basic conditions such as rainy or fair — and temperatures for major cities. The east coast line includes weather details for Atlanta, Boston, Cincinnati, Miami Beach, New York and Washington, D.C. Dallas, Kansas City, Los Angeles and Las Vegas are among the cities in the western report.

Weather condition reports are updated at least twice daily, with additional updates made as major storms and important conditions develop.

Calls to the National Weather Service weather update cost 50 cents plus tax and are billed by the telephone company.
