SOUND MONEY IN KENTUCKY.

[New York Times.]

Among the responses to the sound money circular sent out by the banks in aid of the Chamber of Commerce movement in that line the following indicates the feeling of Kentucky bankers. It came from John H. Leathers, of the Louisville Banking Company, and was addressed to Stuart G. Nelson, Vice President of the Seaboard National Bank. It reads:

"We have received a circular, issued by the Chamber of Commerce of your city, which has your stamp on it, therefore we presume it was sent to us by you, concerning the position both parties should take in this country concerning future legislation in our national finances.

"You are of course aware of the fight we have had in this State to defeat Blackburn for re-election as United States Senator from Kentucky. It was a great victory achieved by the sound-money Democrats. Except for five sound-money Democrats in the Legislature, Blackburn could have been elected at almost any time, but these men, placing the welfare of our country above party, stood firm and unmoved, and one of them, Senator Weissinger, to use an old war phrase, 'died in the last ditch' in discharge of his duty.

"The sound-money Democrats in Kentucky elected Bradley (Rep.) Governor, who came out strongly for sound money, rather than vote for their own man, Hardin, who represented Blackburn's views. Still there is a very strong silver sentiment in Kentucky out through the agricultural districts in the State. But believe Kentucky will align herself alongside the sound money States of this Union and fight for our national credit and national honor.

"Kentucky is none the less Democratic to-day than she has ever been, but the very fact that she prefers a sound money platform to a popular ...

EX-CONFEDERATES.

The Confederate Veterans' Association of Kentucky met at Lexington Saturday week. The meeting was called to order by President Boyd and Dr. W. T. Bolling opened with prayer. Dr. Brown presented the Association a handsome gavel made of wood from the Confederate flag pole erected at Pell's Plot chapel thirty years ago, when the first Confederate cemetery was dedicated. The financial report showed the Association expended $2,649.50 during the past year, $1,500 of which went for the relief of old soldiers. The association still has on hand, invested in good securities, $3,290.

Capt. John H. Carter addressed the meeting on the subject of the "Battle Abbey," to be established at New Orleans. Charles Broadway Rouse has offered to give $100,000 to the institution provided the veterans raise a similar sum. Rouse is the blind New York millionaire merchant who is now being treated at Philadelphia by the noted Servian electrician, Nicola Tesla, who hopes to restore his eyesight by electricity. The following committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions for the Abbey: Capt. Carter, Chairman; Cicero Coleman, Judge Jere R. Morton, B. Bullock, J. M. Graves, Dr. Bolling, W. H. Castle, R. S. Bullock and W. R. Jones. The old officers were all re-elected except the Chaplain, Rev. Songhgate, who has left the city. Dr. Bolling was chosen in his stead.

Diseased blood, constipation and kidney, liver and bowel troubles are cured by Karl's Clover Root Tea. For sale at Lindsay's Drug Store.

POPULIST COLUMN.

[This column is edited by a member of the Populist Party, who is responsible for what appears herein.]

It seems as though the editor of the Mt. Olivet Tribune-Democrat wishing to give Col. Keller a little drubbing for his bravery in speaking out against a corrupt financial system, and to make it more effective, indulges in a gush of sugar-coated praise. It appears the T.-D. sought this opportunity, not only to strike Col. Keller, but to tell the people what he thought he knew about the finance question. For the benefit of the readers of this column we will notice a few of his statements in regard to the silver question. In the first place he speaks of the question as the "free-silver craze." We had free silver from 1792 until 1873—were the people crazy all that length of time?

He says "the country needs something, but it is not free silver." You seem to speak knowingly; will you be kind enough to tell a suffering people what that something is? Speak quickly.

He says:

"Supposing the mints should be thrown open to every ounce of silver in the country, how are the farmers of Nicholas and Robertson to get hold of it? They have no silver mines, so how is a silver law to benefit them."

This is too silly to deserve a reply, but will answer it this way and he can guess it out;

They have no gold mines have they? And still you seem to think a gold standard good for them. They have no National banks, have they? But we get a few of those non-legal tender dollars occasionally. Now could you guess how a Robertson county farmer could get a free silver dollar if we had the mints thrown open to silver? Ask the first farmer that comes into your office and I will guarantee he will tell you how he would get hold of it.

... which the business of the country is to be transacted has been delegated to them, and a more blood sucking corporation never existed. They can contract the circulating medium at their own will, and bring on a panic whenever they choose. Not until the government assumes the right guaranteed by the Constitution, to issue its own money and put it out to the people without the intervention of banks, will this country ever enjoy the prosperity that our forefathers had in view when they wrested it from the grasp of George III. The financial question involves not only the remonetization of silver, that we may pay our coin obligations in the money of the contract, but the abolishment of the National banks, and freeing the people from the power of such sharks by furnishing them with a sufficient supply of money with which to transact their business.

During the winter of 1893, F. M. Martin, of Long Reach, West Va., contracted a severe cold which left him with a cough. In speaking of how he cured it he says: "I used several kinds of cough syrup but found no relief until I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved me almost instantly, and in a short time brought about a complete cure." When troubled with a cough or cold use this remedy and you will not find it necessary to try several kinds before you get relief. It has been in the market for over twenty years and has constantly grown in favor and popularity. For sale at 25 and 50c per bottle by S. P. Baird.

CANDIDATES for office in Fleming county are as thick as English sparrows. A. H. Evans, Robert Marshall, John Gillmore, Charles L. Dudley, W. H. Harrison and R. S. Hudson want to be County Judge; C. D. McCartney, E. H. Kenner, John McIntyre and C. H. Ashton want the Clerkship; Andrew Fountain and James Collier would serve as sheriff; W. G. Dearing, A. O. Stanley, J. D. Pumphrey, Joseph Maher and O. R. Bright want to be ...
