FALMOUTH PLANT WILL STAY OPEN

Frankfort, Ky. — The Kentucky Development Finance Authority has agreed to help Falmouth's only large-scale manufacturer remain open and maintain 450 jobs.

The authority's executive committee recently voted to lend $500,000 to help under-write purchase of the former Dr. Scholl's shoe plant in Pendleton County. The loan, coupled with other financing, will permit four former Dr. Scholl's officials to buy the plant, its equipment and inventory. The total purchase price is about $8 million with half that total going for inventory.

Dr. Scholl's parent company, Schering-Plough, had announced last year the plant would soon close if a buyer wasn't found. The buyers are Dan McGinley, Pat Cunningham, Claudio Bardas and Jim McLelland.

The loan is for five years at 12 percent interest.

NICHOLAS COUNTY FISCAL COURT RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, on January 28, 1982, death took our friend and colleague, former County Judge Walter Shepherd; and

WHEREAS, from 1942-1966 he served his community faithfully and well in public office, and his accomplishments are many and too numerous to list; and

WHEREAS, among these accomplishments was his election in 1947 of the County Farm upon which the present Nicholas County road department was developed under his direction, which farm has also provided the land for the new Nicholas County Hospital, Nursing Home, Health Center, Armory and County Landfill; and

WHEREAS, in 1948 the Shepherds donated 3.44 acres of land for construction of the old hospital, which property is still owned by the County and now houses a Day Care Center, Head Start and other Community Action services; and

WHEREAS, Judge Shepherd's concern for the progress of the County continued all his life; and

WHEREAS, we, the members of the Nicholas County Fiscal Court, think it fitting and proper to pay tribute to his memory;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that this Resolution, we, the Nicholas County Fiscal Court, honor and pay tribute to the memory of Judge Walter Shepherd for his years of public service and his many accomplishments, that a copy of this Resolution be presented to his widow, and that it be spread upon the minutes of this body and duly published in THE CARLISLE MERCURY.

Reduced acreage sign-up had beginning last week

Farmers who wish to participate in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's reduced acreage programs for wheat, feed grains, rice and upland cotton began signing up for the programs last week.

While the programs are voluntary, only farmers who participate will be eligible for program benefits such as government price support loans and target price protection and the farmer-owned grain reserve, according to Everett Rank, Administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

County ASCS offices will handle the sign-up, which continues through April 16, Rank said.

To be eligible to receive program benefits, feed grain producers must reduce their acreage planted to feed grains (barley, corn, oats and sorghum) by at least 18 percent from an established base. Rank said two bases will be set: one will include corn and sorghum and one will include barley and oats.

Participants in the cotton, rice and wheat acreage reduction programs must reduce their acreage planted for harvest by at least 15 percent from their established acreage bases.

Rank said the bases for these crops generally will be the higher of the 1981 crop acreage or the average of the 1980-81 crop acreages. However, he said, for farmers that have been following a definite crop rotation pattern, the base will reflect such rotation.

Farmers who sign up may change their minds up to the time they report their acreage, Rank said. State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees will establish reporting dates for each crop, he said.

Paris division of Dura sold to Californians

A group of investors, led by San Jose Capital Corporation, a California-based "high-technology venture capital firm, has purchased the Paris division of the Dura Corporation from Kidde Inc.

The division (to be renamed Weaver Inc.) manufactures surface and in-ground hydraulic lifts and heavy-duty truck suspensions.

Jackets

If we play as well as we're capable, then we can win in the tournament," he said. "But you don't play the best you can every night in basketball."

Kenney thought the key to Saturday's big win was "we hit the foul shots down the stretch."

The Jackets will play regional contender Paris and face a rematch with Deming this week.

They are set to meet Harrison County in the District Tournament next Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Bourbon County gymnasium.

GIVE US TWO YEARS AND WE'LL GIVE YOU A CAREER.

To learn today the skills employers will demand tomorrow, spend two years in the Army.

For example, a 2-year hitch is just enough time to learn how to become an air traffic controller, broadcast specialist, telecommunications center operator, construction surveyor, dental technician, or one of many specialties in electronics or communications.

For ambitious people, civilian success can begin within the Army.
