Mason County is next

By Hank Bond
Of The Carlisle Mercury Staff

MAYSVILLE — Nicholas County will face unbeaten Mason County, Friday night.

The road contest will get underway beginning at 8 p.m.

Nicholas County's head coach Greg Letcher, spent his last two seasons as a Bluejacket under now Mason County Head Coach, Ben Pumphrey, who led the Jackets for several years.

In Letcher's senior season the Jackets went 11-2 enroute to a state playoff berth.

The Royals have opened the season with an 8-6 win over Scott High School and a 22-6 beating of Henry County last Saturday afternoon.

"This may be the best team Mason County has had," Letcher said of this week's opponent.

"Mason is an explosive team and has good athletes.

"We'll have to watch for the long run – as well as the pass.

"Dale McDowell and Brian Tolliver have combined for three touchdowns this year, while Mason's big fullback Gary Green, who is only a sophomore, ran all over us last year.

"We're going to have to spruce up our pass defense and make every attempt to contain the inside running game.

"Our general weakness is our overall team speed and one of our fastest players - (Jason) Brumback - will be out at least this week and maybe two weeks.

"Brumback is going to have to do some exercises to strengthen his neck - we're going to be cautious."

As far as Letcher coaching against his own high school coach, he said, "It's not a whole lot different. I respect what he's done. He's provided me with a lot of knowledge I am trying to use as a football coach, now."

On the field this week, "We're still looking for people to play in every position. We're looking for the right combination - we just haven't found it," Letcher said.

nal decision that would lock us into something we find out later we cannot afford," Ebert said.

Snodgrass said if the residents were to go ahead with the procedures for procuring the loan, a more detailed study could be made on the area and he could provide these estimates at another meeting of the corporation.

"By voting to go ahead with the application," Hall said," we are not necessarily locked in to a specific system or even having the sewer system built at all. But if there is enough interest at this time to have a plant constructed according to the limits we have set, we want to at least put the wheels in motion.

"But we have to act now because the state is not going to wait too long for us to make a decision."

Snodgrass said his figures concern three different sewer systems, an improved septic tank system, a gravity system using as few pumps as possible, and the grinder pump system.

Hall said the current system at Carnico, the septic tanks, do not work as they should because of the texture of the soil.

"The soil is clay and the tanks do not perk very well in clay," Hall said.

However, Ebert said the corporation is entering blindly into the project with no concrete information for the corporation to make an intelligent decision on acceptance of the sewer project.

After lengthy debate over several issues concerning rate assessment and cost to each individual, the corporation passed a motion authorizing the board of directors to obtain a preliminary feasibility study of the sewer project, including a study of different or alternative sewage systems, their cost, maintenance and operation and to recommend a system at the next meeting, and further, to authorize the board to proceed with acquiring the state loan application and use their discretion of acceptance of the sewer project based on the cost ceiling of $700,000
