THE Mayesville Bulletin call them Democrats who have refused to support their nominees McKinley-ites.

THE Paducah and Democratic lines are ranged all their differences in Kentucky and Mr. Bryan will get all the votes he needs to carry this state.

COIN is rolling at 16 cents per barrel at Richwood, Ky. The farmer is having a good time this year. Vote to continue the coining standard.

JUDGE GIL. DENNY has entered the race for the Republican nomination for Congress in the 7th district, and Col. Billy Breckinridge has lost his last chance to go back to Washington.

TEN members of the McKinley and Pugh Club are requested to meet at the Court House next Thursday night at 7 o'clock. By order of the chairman.
H. B. BROWN, Pres.

HON. JOE. BLAIR spoke at Vanleer Bang Monday. He and Jas. H. Davis, a Republican lawyer from Chicago, are in joint debate. Mr. Blair was well pleased with his reception.

SENATOR LINDSAY'S throat has given out and he has been compelled to cancel his engagements at Lexington for a night. It was too much of a change for the President.

DISPATCHES said not be discouraged at the big bluffs of the gold bugs to buy Democratic dollars that McKinley will be elected. They have all the money and know that the "bets can not be covered. November is the time to do the work, bluff or no bluff.

EVERY township in Nicholas County Republican, Democrat, Populist and Prohibitionist that is satisfied with the "present existing" state of affairs is invited to vote for Major McKinley. He says things are just right—and so they are for his kind.

Hon. Boyd Winchester,

of Louisville, will speak in the Court House in this city next Monday, the 28th inst. in the interest of the gold standard ticket. Mr. Winchester is one of the most polished gentlemen, and is a worthy representative of the cause he comes to advocate. He formerly represented the Louisville district in Congress, and during Mr. Cleveland's first term was Commissioner of Pensions.

THE Democratic Populist executive committee met at Bowling Green last week and issued an address to the people. In the name of the Democratic party they endorsed the Democratic ticket. The address was signed by Jas. H. Parks, the regular Democratic chairman, and by Dr. Charles Lewis, who left the ticket and had all of W. B. Browder, a Logan county Populist, substituted. Should not Lewis be (3 of the C. J. had a fit.)

IN our first page we reproduce to-day an editorial from the Courier-Journal stating that the editor who wrote the letter ridiculed in 1896 shook a few months afterward at the lunatic asylum. The Courier-Journal is a great paper, but it is not as good as ever. This editorial upon reports from over the Country, with about 75 men have been left before acted with the Democratic party voting for Palmer or McKinley.

To those who doubt that the tunes gotten up by the Democratic party are influence voter their employees as in relation to entertainments, we call attention of this paper and examine some pay envelopes in his possession. The gentleman who furnished us these envelopes informs us that many working people are wearing McKinley buttons through fear who intend to vote for Bryan. Many laboring people are scared into McKinley Clubs who will never vote that way.

BALD HYPOCRACY.

Hon. W. O. Bradley Governor of the great state of Kentucky, Republican Republicans, a high dignitary of his party, a director of Democracy has left the check and pull to stand upon a political platform and praise "true" Democracy—otherwise known as the McKinley-Bald Sentry as follows. At Hyndman Bald Mt., he said:

"The Democratic party has always been a sound money party. Never was a better sound money man than Andrew Jackson of Democratic memory, and yet because the Democratic party of to-day has declared for sound principles they are denounced as traitors.

"The true Democratic party met at Indianapolis recently and nominated that gallant federal soldier, John M. Palmer, for President and that equally gallant confederate soldier, Simon B. Buckner, for Vice President. If in the early which has seen 30, or 40, or 50 years of the prejudices of half a century have been obliterated and the men of the two sections have come to entertain for each other a sincere admiration for the honesty and bravery of the Democratic soldiers of Generals Palmer and Buckner, and if, last by reason the Democratic party of Andrew Jackson will be successfully led by such men as Palmer and Buckner, I cannot understand why any honest man need asking you to sign an affidavit that they never did it."

When did Mr. Bradley find out that Andrew Jackson was such a great and good man. He did not think so when he tore down the bust of Jackson and found to surrender the tax-receipts he had issued to the men who had engaged in a struggle to defend the honor and integrity of the United States. Such a great man yet. He talk about honest money by dishonest men in bald hypocrisy.

One thing attracting the attention of the country at present is the fact that the Democratic party is the only party that has in its councils any conspicuous leaders among the leaders of the Democratic party who are conspicuous in the support of the Palmer and Buckner ticket. The Democratic party is overwhelmingly for the Chicago platform is remarkable for the evidence it affords that the Indianapolis platform represents the views of the Democratic party throughout the length of the country.—Louisville Times.

The Times admits that the leaders have deserted the Democratic party to support a party which is for gold. Now that nearly every one of these leaders have been tried down by the people within the last few years. See the list: Carlisle, Watterson, Dana and Blair have lost the entire printing in the state of Kentucky and only Ben Stevens of Buckner has been defeated for the U. S. Senate and Carlisle for the Chicago Convention. J. C. Hudson failed to be elected Governor of Ky. and Ben Johnson defeated for Congress. Samuel Pettit defeated for Congress in the 7th district, and Col. Billy Breckinridge has lost his last chance to go back to Washington.

THE members of the McKinley and Pugh Club are requested to meet at the Court House next Thursday night at 7 o'clock. By order of the chairman.
H. B. BROWN, Pres.

HON. JOE. BLAIR spoke at Vanleer Bang Monday. He and Jas. H. Davis, a Republican lawyer from Chicago, are in joint debate. Mr. Blair was well pleased with his reception.

A Mass Political Trick.

The most despicable thing being done by the supporters of this political farrago is that of intimidating employees of corporations. This is being done all among the workmen notifying them that if said to anyone to be noticed when the or that candidate is elected, if he was to have the freedom and full citizen guarantees such miserable and inexcusable tyranny as this should be condemned by all right minded people. The Louisville Times says the report that it was said of James Hall and when he goes to cast his ballot it will be against the power that tries thus to enslave him.—Farmers' Home Journal.

Hon. Boyd Winchester,

of Louisville will speak in the Court House in this city next Monday, the 28th inst. in the interest of the gold standard ticket. Mr. Winchester is one of the most polished gentlemen, and is a worthy representative of the cause he comes to advocate. He formerly represented the Louisville district in Congress, and during Mr. Cleveland's first term was Commissioner of Pensions.

THE Democratic Populist executive committee met at Bowling Green last week and issued an address to the people. In the name of the Democratic party they endorsed the Democratic ticket. Should not Lewis be (3 of the C. J. had a fit.)

We don't know much about the State of New York or the Commonwealth of Kentucky, but if all the loudmouthed asses for Bryan as Nicholas County has are as good as ours. This is based upon reports from over the County, with about 75 men have been left before acted with the Democratic party voting for Palmer or McKinley.

To those who doubt that the tunes gotten up by the Democratic party are influence voter their employees as in relation to entertainments, we call attention of this paper and examine some pay envelopes in his possession. The gentleman who furnished us these envelopes informs us that many working people are wearing McKinley buttons through fear who intend to vote for Bryan. Many laboring people are scared into McKinley Clubs who will never vote that way.

D. T. Baxter, the gold bug editor of the Lexington Herald, writing of his experience with Mr. Bryan through Kentucky says:

"It showed to me that no matter what his opponents may say about Bryan, Mr. Bryan is a gentleman of the highest character and of the highest ideals. He has made the race he does in spite of the opposition of the leaders of the Democratic party in this State, and in spite of the bitterness of the fight. He has made a campaign of the highest type. He has not said one word in reply to the attacks made upon him. He has not used any ways to secure votes by the use of the character of any of the ordinary politicians."

This is the character of the man the Democratic party offers the people. How long life is above success and the public career is without a blemish. Vote for him.

GOVERNOR BRADLEY in his speech at Ashland said:

"If my child was sick I should not be willing to employ a doctor to treat him who I would not take him to a hospital.

"This money question should be left to the National Banks and the issue of money who understand the question."

Listen at our Governor again.

"Then what do you think of a man who would put the money question in the hands of those who understand the question?"

This is the true Republican doctrine in regard to the money matter, and it is a strange thing to us that any man who believes in a government by the people, can vote to intrust such an affair to the rich. If the question of finance is left to the National Banks, of course they will be arranged to their advantage, and we may look for panics as the result of their own interests.

Another prominent orator at Lexington last Tuesday, we overheard the following conversation between two intelligent, patriotic National Democrats of Kentucky:

"John, did you ever see such a crowd?"

"Never, Jim, never. I'll be glad to get by past 'em all the Republicans."

And sure enough the Herald came out the next morning and said that there was a disappointment to the managers of the meeting up to a late hour, and Dr. Pickerell, people seemed to be afraid to trust with the character of the meeting.

Another of our exchanges are putting a great deal of attention to Palmer and Buckner. This is a matter of secondary importance these moments of the year to the Democratic party of Nicholas County, of Kentucky. As for back as the time of Jackson and Clay there were fights for the leading grounds of some nature, but the principles of the party were the basis. Old Simon Cameron said he would rather be right than President, and he was right and he was President.

Hon. C. C. Dickinson was the North Carolina leader in 1860. He is now the leader of the Democratic party. Democrats would have to resign his office and they would not have to resign their principles.—Owingsville Outlook.

Hon. John Leonard was one of the leaders in the Democratic party of Kentucky and Democratic Senator was attended Gen. Buckner's funeral. Is he not one of the leaders in the party?

Hon. Jacke Lamerton and daughter of Paris, are visiting Mrs. Lamerton's daughter.

Mrs. J. F. Campbell and wife, of near Winchester, are visiting friends in this county.

Several from this neighborhood went to Lexington last Tuesday to hear Bryan speak.—Paris Kentuckian.

Several from this neighborhood went to Lexington last Tuesday to hear Bryan speak. We have not yet heard the remarkable news of the meeting. A little bird has whispered to us that the meeting was a failure, and that the people who went to hear Bryan speak, and he will go to Lexington and speak to the same
