YOU MAY BE RICHER THAN YOU THINK!
Lost money could be waiting for your claim at the Kentucky Departmen of Treasury. Funds go unclaimed each year.
Did you know that cash, property and other unclaimed assets are constantly being turned over to the Kentucky Department of Treasury because the rightful owners can't be located?
It's true.
Every year, the Kentucky State Treasurer's unclaimed property section takes in unclaimed property stock certificates, savings and checking accounts, uncashed dividends and overpayments, gift certificates and lay-away deposits, money orders and paid-up life insurance policies - - even cash, jewelry and artworks.
How so?
Maybe the rightful owners have moved away and can't be found. Or someone forgot to cash or close out a bank account he or she opened years ago. Sometimes it happens that a relative now deceased never mentioned long-forgotten property.
It's our job to give your property back to you.
After a certain period of time, such assets are legally presumed to be abandoned. But the property still legally belongs to the rightful owners, and it's part of our job to try to give it back to them.
Here's how to claim it.
Giving your unclaimed property back to you is a free public service the Kentucky Department of Treasury provides.
State law requires anyone holding money or other personal property for another person, to turn it over after a certain amount of time to the Kentucky Department of Treasury. The property is kept in custody by the state until we find the rightful owners, or until they step forward to claim what's lawfully theirs. Besides keeping these assets safe and secure, it's also the state's job to try to find the people who have unclaimed property coming to them. So once a year we publish a list of missing owners - along with their last known address. We want them to write to us so we can verify whether they own any abandoned property.

IS YOUR NAME ON OUR LIST?

REPORT OF PROPERTY PRESUMED ABANDONED AS OF JULY 1, 1994
If your name is on the following list, please write the company listed above your name to obtain your property.
Contact the company before January 1, 1995 or the company is required to turn over your money or other items to the Department of Treasury as being presumed abandoned.
If the company has already turned your money over to the state, the company should refund your money to you and seek reimbursement from the state.
The following letter is a sample you may wish to use in writing the company to obtain your property.

SUBJECT: CLAIM OF ABANDONED PROPERTY

CARLISLE - A Kentucky State Police investigation concerning an eruption of burglaries in Nicholas and Bourbon counties is still underway.

KSP Detective Tim Layne of Dry Ridge Post 6 said most of the burglaries occurred between July 14 and Sept. 14 and have somewhat dissipated since the arrest of three persons.

Arrested by Layne and Trooper Steve Auvenshine in September were Jason Kelley, 22, William Bretz and Thomas Hilander, all of Paris. All three were charged with burglary in the first degree.

All are incarcerated at Bourbon County Jail.

The maximum penalty in Kentucky for burglary is 20 years. The minimum penalty is 15 years.

"Kelley had confessed to 20 odd burglaries in Nicholas and Bourbon counties," Layne said.

The KSP arrest was in Lexington.

Of the 20 burglaries, five occurred in Nicholas County.

The amount of vandalism in the recent burglaries ranged from victims coming home to see overturned refrigerators to potted plants dumped on the floor. They (the perpetrators) destroyed property. They overturned refrigerators and tables.

If they had a lot of jewelry, they took the good stuff and they tried to burn the costume jewelry," Layne said.
