OBITUARY

[Arenzville (Ill.) Independent.]

Milton Ham and sister, Mrs. John Ratliff were called to Curran Friday by death of their sister, Mrs. Hezekiah Houston, (nee Miss Virgie Ham) who is well known in this vicinity. Deceased was born January 12th, 1860, in Carlisle, Ky., and departed this life December 18th, 1896, at her home near Curran, Ill., after an illness of one short week, of heart trouble. The funeral services were held at Pleasant Plains in the Christian Church, Sunday, Dec 20th, the services were conducted by Rev. Rider, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Pleasant Plains cemetery. She united with the Christian Church in Carlisle, Ky., at the age of seventeen years, under the ministry of Rev. Brooks and has lead a true Christian life, working faithfully for her Master. She lived in Kentucky until at about the age of 20 when she with her sister Mattie (now Mrs. John Ratliff) came to Illinois. She was married a few years later to Hezekiah Houston. Seven children were born to them, namely, Myrtle, wife of John Bixler, of Berlin, Ill; Dallas, Ida, Etta, Thurman, Grover, and one child having preceded her to the grave. Besides her children, she leaves a husband, two brothers, Milton Ham, of Concord, and Robert Ham, of Lee, Kansas; three sisters, Mrs. John Ratliff, of Concord, Mrs. Emily Morrow, of Owenton, Ky., and Mrs. Mary Taylor, of Carlisle, Ky., and a number of friends and relatives mourn her departure. She will be missed among her many friends as well as in the home, but we sorrow not as those who have no hopes, for we have the blessed assurance that we will meet our loved one beyond if we are faithful here; also the thought that we will never say good bye in heaven. WARNING.

We wish to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—perhaps their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator learn that customers are often deceived by buying and taking some medicine of a similar appearance or taste, believing it to be Simmons Liver Regulator. We warn you that unless the word Regulator is on the package or bottle, that it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes, or ever has made Simmons Liver Regulator, or anything called Simmons Liver Regulator, but J. H. Zeilin & Co., and no medicine made by anyone else is the same. Called Down By Judge Cantrill.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 28.—A sensation was created in the Circuit Court here this evening, when ex-Governor Brown argued the motion for a new trial in the case of ex-Auditor Norman and Agent Max Barker before Judge Cantrill. It was the first time Gov. Brown had spoken in the case. Judge Jacobs, who is employed with him to represent the Commonwealth, made the arguments when the case came up for trial. Gov. Brown had no one to assist him this evening, and in outlining the political issues back of the case took occasion to refer to the political issues involved, and it was on becoming warmed up on these that he grew very bitter and vindictive in speaking of his old time enemy, Auditor Norman. It was said by some that the Governor was on the border of losing his temper.

Judge Cantrill stated to the Governor that he had already passed on the question back of this argument.

"I am employed and represent the tax payers of Kentucky, and in their behalf have a right to be heard," he rang out in a clear, positive voice.

"If you come properly into court and confine yourself to the issue involved, you have the same right as other citizens," replied the Judge.

Gov. Brown spoke for nearly an hour. At the conclusion of his argument the court overruled the motion for a new trial, and Judge Jacobs and Governor Brown will now probably take the case to the Court of Appeals.

WHEN '49 WENT OUT.

"You fellers has been a tellin' a good many yarns," said old Monte, in a self-satisfied way, "but they 'pears ter be purty much offen th' same pattern. They's millions what watched th' old year out an' th' new year in jist as you has done, but that's durn few left what was in the Californey diggins ter see '49 winked out to make way fer '50.

"Yes, sir. I war one of them forty-niners, an' I won't make no denial as how I felt mighty pensivelike 'long 'bout th' holleredays. Th' homesickness what got hold of us out thar was terrible bafflin' if yer ever commenced fer to give in. Big Bud war my pardner, an' seein' me a weakenin' muster put it into his head. Leastways he passed 'round word as how we'd have'r dance as would begin in '49 an' end some time th' next year.

"You never saw no ball like that war. Bigfoot Larry war th' orchestry, and every time he lickered he'd git a little more noise outen his fiddle, till jist as we checked off '49 you couldn't a heerd a brass ban' fer th' noise Larry was a makin' a-yankin' that bow an' a-callin' off.

"Course, it was a stag dance, but we put coats on th' littlest fellers, an' they war th' ladies. And you kin jist bet that was no mincin' an' takin' short steps. We war a reguler flyin' squadron. Every coat tail stood straight out when th' dance war on. If a man's hold slipped a lady would go through a winder or a door, ...

THE NEWEST DANCES.

Society has turned against its old favorites. The latest fad among opera goers is not so much to come late, as to come for the enjoyment of some special scene or duo or aria, and then go right away. From this it would seem that music is failing to soothe the ennui of the too highly civilized beast. And the joys of the dance are no longer what they were. The german has been set aside to make way for a new series of what are called morris dances, lately become very much the mode. For example, in place of standing up to the lancers in the usual fashion, a tall, golden pole is placed in the center of the drawing-room, and couples to the number of eight, ten or even sixteen, each take a ribbon dangling from the pole's top. At the end of every ribbon is a bouquet, and then, by following a series of simple and pretty figures, the ribbons are alternately braided about and unwound from the pole. The figures are in no sense a regulation may-pole dance, but adaptations, in the grand change, dos a dos, etc., from the lancers and quadrille. Another charming ball-room recreation is what society calls a Spanish fandango, but which in reality is a long step mazourka. The women all carry tambourines or castanets in their hands, and keep time to the music as they revolve around about the room. Of course, morris ribbons and bouquets, tambourines and castanets are all carried off as souvenirs of an evening's amusement; and, for the sake of attracting young business men, no ball holds later revelry than one o'clock in the morning.—[From "Society Fads," in Demorest's Magazine for February.

Nourish Him.

That's the whole secret in a word. We can cure no disease unless we can keep up the patient's strength. And there's only one way to do that—feed him. But if the system refuses food? Then use SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites. It goes STRAIGHT TO THE BLOOD, stops the wasting, rekindles the vital fire, makes new flesh and so renders a hopeful fight possible against ANY disease. Especially is this so in bronchial and lung troubles, in the relief and cure of which Scott's Emulsion has won its reputation. Book about it free.

Altgeld Thinks We Were Cheated.

A dispatch from Chicago, Jan. 23rd says: "Ex-Governor Altgeld was tonight given a complimentary banquet by his friends at the Tremont House, and in the course of his speech he made a wholesale charge of fraud in the late election. He said among other things:

"In Ohio there are nearly 200,000 more votes counted in 1896 than there were in 1892, which would indicate an increase of population in that State during four years of nearly 1,000,000 of people, whereas in reality there has not been an increase of a third of a million in that time. In other words it is clear that in Ohio over 94,000 fraudulent votes were counted, and as the returns show that Mr. McKinley had only a majority of 40,000 in that State, it is certain that Mr. Bryan carried Ohio by over 40,000.

"In Illinois in 1892 practically every legal vote was cast, yet in 1896 there were 243,000 more votes counted than there were in 1892. During the whole past history of Illinois our population had not reached 4,000,000; in ten years, from 1880 to 1890, during which our growth was greatest, the population of this State increased only about 750,000; yet, according to the late election returns, the population of this State increased in four years, from 1892 to 1896, nearly 1,200,000. This shows the monstrously fraudulent character of the whole proceeding. It should be said that notwithstanding these fraudulent votes McKinley did not carry Illinois, but only by a small majority, and not by 143,000, as reported, but it is certain that he did not carry Ohio, or Indiana, or Kentucky or California, and it is doubtful if he carried a number of other States credited to him."

Lot of Widows.

The Harrodsburg Democrat says: Lawrenceburg has more than 2,000 inhabitants, but has fifty-two widows. Mr. Harry Crain, of that place, but who once lived in Harrodsburg, whose sympathies have been aroused at the large list, will, it is said, give them a Valentine Dinner, that is, a sumptuous repast at the Central Hotel, Lawrenceburg, on February 14th. He will prepare the courses himself. Mr. Crain is one of the fairest type of the "coming man," if the "new woman" does not come as prophesied. Two years ago he took the prize on the best cake at the Anderson county fair and last year captured the award on best vinegar, etc. Since that time he has had offers of marriage from six to eight different points in the State, but he declined to take this startling step in the development of the "coming man."
