FOR STATE SENATE.

We are authorized by Judge A. J. Harris, late candidate for Circuit Court Judge, to announce that he will be a candidate for State Senator from the counties of Harrison, Nicholas and Robertson, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Tax Legislature adjourned last Friday. This is the first indication of the return of good times we have been enjoying for months.

In any of our readers have ever engaged in toll-gate raising we advise you to shun the same. The new anti-mob law will cut you into trouble sure!

How Bascom Pannell, the Democratic nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney in the Bourbon-Woodford district, was beaten by Hon. Jas. Sullivan Friday night, and stayed over until Monday.

We are authorized by Judge A. J. Harris, late candidate for Circuit Court Judge, to announce that he will be a candidate for Judge, and Thos. F. Fitzpatrick, of Bourbon, for Chancellor, to state that they are not candidates before the approaching primary to be held in Union precinct next Saturday.

Our Circuit Court should meet and never all take what it may be wanted in the county, and make arrangements to keep them in regular session. If we have no jails, work unless something is done at once. Gentlemen don't be afraid to act!

J. C. Gillespie, our popular Representative, came over Monday and remained with his host of admiring friends and assisting to the claims of the State Normal school. He is not likely to have any opposition for re-nomination, as his popularity seems to have grown almost to the point of unanimity! All Democrats seemed to like the place and spot of appointment, and we would doubtless win in a canter.---[Mt. Sterling Advocate.

The editor of the Mercury is fifty years old, and he knows enough of the world to make a good-sized living. He has served seventeen years in the Kentucky Legislature and gone through a civil war, suffered defeat many times and won his victories; still he has no grounds for complaint, but hopes to have lots of the good things of this life yet. We seek every reader of the Mercury's health, wealth and happiness, and the last of which we have had in abundance, while we have never sought after the second.

The dispatch from Cynthiana to the Louisville Courier Journal about the obstruction of toll gates need have been written to the Louisville office by a Bourbon man. It was a friendly letter to Bourbon and Nicholas people, and the gate "near Cynthiana" was the Bourbon gate, and the gate "near Cynthiana" was the Bourbon gate, and the gate "near Cynthiana" was the Bourbon gate
