VOL. XXXIII. CARLISLE, NICHOLAS COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY, JAN. 27, 1898. NO. 4.

AN OPEN LETTER To MOTHERS.

WE ARE ASKING IN THIS COUNTY ONE RIGHT TO THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF THE WORD "CASTORIA," AND "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," AS OUR TRADE MARK.

I, DR. SAMUEL PITCHER, of Hyannis, Massachusetts, was the originator of "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," the same that has borne and does now bear the fac-similate signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on every wrapper. This is the original "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," which has been used in the homes of the Mothers of America for over thirty years. LOOK CAREFULLY at the wrapper and see that it is the kind you have always bought and does now and has the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the wrapper. No one has authority from me to use my name except The Centaur Company of which Chas. H. Fletcher is President.

PRAISED LEE.

Among other things President Andrews said of Lee:

"He had the faith of the crusader; his letters would make a guide to battle for any young soldier-reporter impatient to throw off set, terse prose lines of chivalry and fire. Next to Grant, as did Grant, Sherman, or Phil Sheridan, and when he lost a fight it was never said of him that the defeat was due to a habit which makes men's heads' into muddles. He was never out generaled by Grant in all the campaign from the Rappahannock to James' River, never trapped and never caught napping. I had to find in the books any such masterful generalship as this here showed, holding that army, gun, hair starved, with no prospect of reinforcements, and no hope that any one was ever hurrying to his aid the rebs were only seven miles off. His courage was sublime. He was the great exclusive Antiphon. Napoleon, Wellington, or Von Moltke. His cause was not the best cause so much as we supposed. All that was good in his cause has gone into the laws and our constitution.

"The doctrine of State's rights, as now interpreted by the Supreme Court, is in exact accordance with his claims and his cause. The United Law for all Instruments between the Federal troops and the citizens of the seceding States, through whom power on one hand—General Hancock. He also honored Meade's men were fighting on Union soil—almost within hearing of the prayers of their wives and children for victory. Yet he showed perfect humaneness. Men strangers when wives and families are fighting for his way.

"It was not until the Federal army found itself at the very mouth of Richmond that Gen. Lee was sent to the front. Grant had fought his way to the very heart of the rebellion, and had such command of that 50-lb rapidity, and had begun a siege by so much as hailed a writer. He outwitted McClellan in a day. The world had never seen such generalship, and the world has not since had it since.

"Lee successively defeated, out generaled and routed four of the best Generals that Washington could send against him. Pope, Burnside, Hooker and Meade, each with the finest army of veterans that the world has ever seen, were defeated against him that Lee's marvelous success-pleases evidenced a military genius. Even against Grant Lee fought as probably no other General ever fought against odds that would have driven Napoleon to despair.

"It was a great death struggle when Grant faced Lee, and Lee from beginning to end fought like a tiger. He kept that thin, gray line of ragged, starving, fighting demons and bore-grim onto day, together. His courage was sublime and his generalship was the wonder of the world. Grant's great and renowned men in battle array, and Lee's men in the last drill, practically only when he realized that it was all over and could strike up the victory."

"General Lee's name is not lost. All that is good of it remains, all that was bad has been buried out. Our country is better and grander to-day because Lee lived and fought and died for the lost cause. Lee's memory is fondly cherished, and perhaps no one at least that man's name is dearer to Robert E. Lee than he fought for."—New York Journal.

Perseus who are troubled with indigestion will be interested in the experience of Wm. H. Penn, chief clerk in the revenue office at Red Oak, Iowa, who writes: "It gives me pleasure to say that I have used one bottle of Burdock's Blood Bitters and found great benefit from it. I have been troubled with indigestion for two years and have used many remedies without relief before using Burdock's Blood Bitters. For two years I have suffered from indigestion, and was only able to eat a little toast and tea. I am now on my third bottle and can eat anything I want without any distress. I have recommended Burdock's Blood Bitters to many of my friends and shall continue to do so, as I believe it to be the best medicine for indigestion in the market."

Burdock's Africa Salve.

Mothers whose children are troubled with bad colds, croup or whooping cough should be well to read what Dr. E. S. Ridley, of Utica, Miss., says on this subject. He writes: "I have never found a Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. I have used it in my family for years, and it is regarded in our family as a specific for all cases of coughs and colds. Hosiery Never So Gay.

The little ones, writes Lady Violet Greville in the Queen, have never dressed the stocking institute. It has become a fashion to wear gay colors in the matter of hose and socks this year before. They have become, for the time, hints of sun rays in the streets, dragonfly, and there if any one missed and jingled until they are out. Instead that time they have being homeward bound, they are wearing red or green, because the rich in made of the poor, they have pattern, they chose one another, they play blind man's-buff, they have their own games, and they are not to be seen in the park. Next American children, mentioned, are not familiar in private logs.

For how requires them to go to the common schools when six years old and they must still they are twelve. Every village has its schools, and there young men, people will say, "How" boys are dotted in military tactics and their manoeuvres are regularly taught and all the pupils in the kindergarten are drilled in military tactics. Boys and Girls of Japan.

Japanese babies are mainly like all other babies in the world. They must be amused, they must have their toys. They have the native love for flowers and they have their own games, and the table is their child toy. When the time comes for the boys to go to the dragonfly, and there if any one missed and jingled until they are out. Another Good Man Gone Wrong.

He failed to use Foley's Kidney Cure and is now a physical wreck. Don't be another victim of neglect. Foley's Kidney Cure makes well people well. Sold by S. P. Baird, Druggist.

The action of the Methodist missionary board in condemning Gov. Stephens for allowing dancing at his inaugural ball strikes a blow at many of the Governor's pastor, in whom he has done more than one fine thing. Perhaps as his pastors have they would have done better to have kept still in view of character to the gubernatorial chair.
