The bombardment of the forts about Santiago has done great damage. It is believed that the city must soon fall. If it does the Spanish fleet must surrender.

It is said Col. Colson will not resign his seat in Congress. He will draw $5,000 a year there, and $1,500 a year as Colonel.

Wm has written us how lessons thus far, and they are very satisfactory. We remain that Lucile Locker will be sent for $1.25.

We bought Le Cocq had gone to work to-day.

A Lewistown boy has whittled out a watch, and the Lexington Herald thinks it is an accomplishment. What a shame to whittling for a living or have an entire or two to make. We consider our whittlers as useless gentlemen.

The Madison county fiscal court has levied a tax of 50 cents on the $100 worth to take on the matter of issuing bonds to pay for the turnpikes acquired by the county.—Richmond.

Nicholas county fiscal court has done the same thing, and the question is one of the most important that has been before the people for many years. The assessment of the county is $5,000,000 in favor of the county fund the million dollars of bonds desired upon the correct decision of the matter. The question is a plain one and should be decided in a reasonable manner.

Pugh's Sewing Wood.

Cynthiana Democrat: "The Maysville Public Ledger has Mr. W. H. Cox strongly for the Republican nomination for Congress. Mr. Pugh can use a good deal of wood, judging from the amount he has consumed in the past few years, and great success to the Republican management of that district if they can get Mr. Cox to run against him. Mr. Cox is a splendid gentleman and would make a good Congressman, but he is not the man to run against Pugh's sewing wood."

Mr. Pugh is a member of the Democratic party, and is not allowed even to be mentioned in the Democratic press of the district. Why don't they have the courage to do as they please?

THE EFFECTS TO FOLLOW HIGH TARIFF.

It is natural among the plug tobacco manufacturers that the deal for the control of the Kentucky crop will be a failure. It is natural that the farmers will refuse to contract. It is natural that the farmers will realize considered that the trust has been formed to control the crop for the benefit of the manufacturers. As a result of this, all arrangements are now being made to increase the acreage. Farmers and all others interested in the crop should bear this in mind and govern themselves accordingly. Next year the crop will be large. This makes the following paragraph from the Louisville Courier-Journal very significant indeed: "The Democratic party has fallen through, but it is not dead. Its principles are unchanged and unchangeable, the schisms will be accomodated. The same effort will fail for tobacco that followed the whisky trade when high taxes were put upon it, and when the manufacturers consolidated to control the business of the country, and the producer will be at the mercy of the trust. Now if we are not a prophet—

WE ARE ONE

Judge Moore says that he is mighty glad that this war came when it did. The North smoked just such a democratic situation as is now being made by the Democratic party in Kentucky. The entire devotion to the old flag and the country. Federals and Confederates fought each other for four years in common error and we with each other in patriotism and loyalty. Had the war been postponed a few years the bitterness would have been made so much more lasting that it does to-day, that every feeling of hostility has left the breast of those who were once arrayed against each other in battle. Let us be one people one and inseparable.—Interior Journal.

That we are one and inseparable is the most marvelous thing of a marvelous age for who can deny that it is the most marvelous age of the world's history.

Men who are living to-day have seen greater changes than those of any age of which history tells.

Walking the earth for fifty years they have witnessed the passing of the world and the coming of the steam and the steamer and railroads, the passing of the old "Ground Thrasher" and the coming of the Sewander; they have seen the old stage coach give way to the palace car, they have seen the sailing vessel and the steamboat, the slow mail route pedal to the greyhound express train, the forty hand to the telegraph and telephone, the weekly paper, once a month to be watched for, now once looked to for the local news; and so on, and so on.

In the equipments for war the changes have been great indeed but in the art of wars of state the changes have been tremendous. Those men of Lee's army of heroes witnessed the revolution in the manufacture of guns from a flint lock musket and made only one change, the reload half of the contest—changing from the muzzle to the breech—and the last and brightest sons, and then have witnessed in rapid fire a change from the famous, and lastly they see a hooded nation, so strong that the world stands in dread of its powers on land and sea. They witness and boast of the States to furnish the soldiers for the war, and are allowed to name the every part of the country. A Major of the Northern army is now a Major of the Southern army and men who fought rebel brigadiers' to both commanded in their turn of the Union a division or brigade on the staff of a hero, and the whole nation standing for the Union and waving the red, white and blue.

If history has a line record we have failed to read it.

A FIERCE BATTLE,

Bombardment of the Forts at Santiago de Cuba.

The Americans Kept Up a Terrific Firing For Two Hours.

Their Projectiles, of Enormous Size, Did Tremendous Damage to the Defenses.

AN AUXILIARY CRUISER WAS DAMAGED.

The Masonry of Morro Castle and Socapa Was Battered Almost Into Dust.

Number of Killed and Wounded on the Spanish Side Not Ascertained, As the Dons Decline—It Is Not Thought Any Were Killed Outright.

NEW YORK, June 1.—An Evening Journal special from Cape Haytien says: The bombardment of Santiago de Cuba by the American fleet began on the land and brightest sons, and then last Monday morning at 8 o'clock. But before going to sea the following noted nation, so strong that the entire world stands in dread of its powers on land and sea. They witness and boast of the States to furnish the soldiers for the war, and are allowed to name the every part of the country. A Major of the Northern army is now a Major of the Southern army and men who fought rebel brigadiers' to both commanded in their turn of the Union a division or brigade on the staff of a hero, and the whole nation standing for the Union and waving the red, white and blue.

Wheat Certain to Bring a High Price.

The Courier-Journal, in reviewing the wheat situation, says: "With regard to wheat, it is only necessary to say that the world's crop is the light crop of the past month, and that it is plain the next crop must bring a great price, since the world's reserves are completely exhausted.

The European demand has not yet ceased, the exports of wheat and flour from this country are enormous, and new markets are completely exhausted.

Millers Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to see that millers are willing to do what they are not afraid to be generous to the consumers of their product. The Lexington New Era, Democratic for consumption, 5 cents a pound, and the Lexington Leader, Democratic for consumption, 6 1/2 cents a pound, are both giving away their product.
