The Cincinnati Enquirer of Thursday contain the following interview with regard to the great electrician: Nicola Tesla who is trying to produce artificial lightning of such magnitude as to explode a powder magazine. Mr. J. D. Hanes, the electrician, returned yesterday from Carlisle, Ky., where he has recently purchased the electric light plant in that place. Mr. Hanes is much interested in the belief entertained by Nicola Tesla that he can produce artificial lightning of such magnitude as to explode the powder magazines in a hostile ship. "While Mr. Tesla does not as yet say he has perfected this thing," said Mr. Hanes, "if he ever says that he has accomplished it, it will be a fact, for he will not say so unless he has actually done it. I am inclined to the belief that such a thing is in the range of possibility, and I would not be surprised to see the great electrician's belief become a realized fact."

PENN GROVE.

Rev. L. G. Wallace informs us that the date for the next meeting at Penn Grove Camp-meeting grounds has been fixed for July 23. The management cannot state for awhile just who will address the people during these services, but assure us that some of the ablest talent procurable will be heard on this occasion. Rev. Wallace has again been given the supervision of Cherry Grove camp meeting in Fleming county, which will begin Saturday before the second Sunday in August.—[Mt. Olivet Advance.

PRINCE HOHENLOHE, Germany's Prime Minister, says: "It is proof to one of the political immaturity of the German people and especially of the press that they are loudly and almost unanimously on the side of Spain in this fight." It has struck the people in America that way and worse, too. There is something remarkably stupid in the general German animosity to the United States. This nation is not a political rival of Germany—only a commercial one. Germany almost ...

HAVANA AND YELLOW FEVER.

Dr Hamilton, former Surgeon General of the Marine Hospital Service of the United States, is no doubt correct in the statement he made last week that yellow fever could be driven from Havana with the Spaniards.

It has been long well known that sanitary regulations whatever are enforced in the city. It is badly drained. It hardly has any sewer system. Most of the filth is thrown in the narrow streets; and under a tropical sun, this would cause a disease anywhere. Even in private houses little or no effort is made to avoid foul accumulations.

But Havana, and indeed the entire island of Cuba, is swept by constant and refreshing currents of pure sea air. Were New Orleans or New York exposed to the same pestilential influences as would result from the total disregard of all sanitary laws, they would become centers of yellow fever germs, as well as of cholera. There is no reason whatever why Havana, freed from Spanish misrule, Spanish negligence and Spanish greed, which exacts so much from the people and pays out nothing for their health and comfort, would not become one of the healthiest cities in the Western hemisphere. Under different rule it must become also one of the wealthiest. It has now a population of over 250,000. Within three years after the expulsion of the Spanish that population will be doubled. There are millions and millions of dollars, not only in this country, but in the hands of the agents of European capitalists, ready for investment there, waiting only for the freedom of the island. There will be business opportunities such as never have been presented to the United States—such as will discount any ever offered by California or Alaska. The city will become the winter resort of the wealthier classes of Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. The harbor will be crowded with yachts. Winter racing will take the place of bullfights. Hotels rivaling the handsomest in New York will occupy sites now dotted with small smoky cabins. The city will surpass Venice in its palmy days. There will be brilliant equipages, dazzling opera houses, splendid streets, beautiful suburbs, and more than all, the most fascinating women to be found on this side of the Atlantic, if not in the world.

Make no mistake about Havana. Make no mistake about the entire island. It is the most fertile and lovely spot on the globe.—[Louisville Times

FRANKFORT TO PARIS.

Millionaire and Clerk.

Girard, the infidel millionaire of Philadelphia, one Saturday ordered all his clerks to come on the morrow to his wharf and help unload a newly arrived ship. One young man replied, quietly:

"Mr. Girard, I can't work on Sundays."

"You know our rules?"

"Yes, I know. I have a mother to support, but I can't work on Sundays."

"Well, step up to the desk and the cashier will settle with you."

For three weeks the young man could find no work but one day a banker came to Girard to ask if he could recommend a man for cashier in a new bank. This discharged young man was at once named as a suitable person.

"But," said the banker, "you dismissed him."

"Yes, because he would not work on Sundays. A man who would lose his place for conscience's sake would make a trustworthy cashier." and he was appointed.
