SEE A WATERSPOUT.

Citizens of California Enjoy a Beautiful Sight.

Water spouts are one of the most interesting and beautiful sights that can be seen in California. They are found in all parts of the State, and are especially numerous in the mountains. They are caused by the water being forced up by the heat of the sun, and falling back again, and striking the rocks, and being broken up into small drops, which are carried up by the wind, and form a beautiful shower.

A HUSBAND SAYS:

My wife is a good and kind woman, and she is the best of mothers. She is a good and kind woman, and she is the best of mothers. She is a good and kind woman, and she is the best of mothers.
