GETS IT IN THE NECK TO-DAY.

Look out for an oil boom in Nicholas Senator E. Kenton, of Mt. Olivet, was here Tuesday. He is for McCreary for U. S. Senator.

The Carlisle coal and oil company will move here the present few days on the land of Mr. Bishop, on Licking, below Parke Ferry.

The Fund Court at the last meeting elected Squire A. Hildreth turnpike commissioner to fill the vacancy left by Mr. Hildreth, who made a good official.

Farmer at Hendersville, Ala., first started a sensational boom for iron Joe Hatcher and will now be prosecuted for the existence of Senator Petter next year.

The deposits sent from here to the Louisville Fest. that "Our Board of Health would enforce street quarantine" are not true. Not a single case has been reported," is not true, and is without the least foundation. The matter has not so much as been mentioned to the Board.

The company recently organized in this county to farm for oil has secured leases on about ten thousand acres of land and will soon be ready to locate. It has some of the best surface indications, and the prospect for striking oil is quite good. The company expects to spend of some of our best citizens and they mean business, and they mean to go to striking oil if it takes all Nicholas county. We hope they may strike it rich.

Proclamation!

The insurrection that the citizen of the Mercury has ever attempted to discover the people is rapidly subsiding, and as an untrue and unfair as many other statements that have appeared in the press against us. We have endeavored to keep the people from being over-driven in regard to scare and fear of disease, but we hope the time will never come when a single member of a family, and shall suppress the information, or partial use of any family to defend the public school and municipal authorities in the performance of their legislative duties to protect the health.

The co-operation of small part of this city has created only an excitement for the time being, but we believe that any time this a panic will subside, and the people will see that the character that we have made will be experienced, yet the greatest precaution should be taken to prevent it as soon as possible. We are pleased to state that not only are all health authorities taking prompt steps in the matter, and the city school has been closed for the week. There is no good reason why the balance of the people should not follow the example of the school authorities, and do all in their power to help the situation in general for benefit.

"We Have It."

"The Kindred Poison" in this city is, unfortunately, a reality. Many cases are pronounced "typhoid" that but attached to the disease. Many cases are known as malaria, but, in fact, are simply an "eruption." We would not create a panic, but we do think that every precaution should be taken and all the excluded business men should do their part. It is small cost per to every one to help to build up business in this city.—Carlisle Democrat.

According to another statement published by the editor of the Democrat, it is a fact that there is not a case of typhoid in this city, and that "it is a good deal worse than" and that it is only another method of "scaring" the people into school and church, attended by the loss of time, and thus reducing the income of the whole community.

Our Double Number.

To-day we issue a four page supplement, and shall continue it until I hear from work, and shall issue a double number of next week. Our advertisers speak for themselves, and we hope that the Mercury is recognized by our business men as the best medium through which to reach reliable buyers, and we assure them that we shall do all in our power to make our paper a welcome visitor to all. We have labored hard to make our paper what it is, and have suffered no end of trouble, but we have always been able to get out our paper on time, and we shall continue to do so.

Forty-Three Years.

"Truth is stranger than fiction" is an axiom as old as the hills but it has never been more forcibly illustrated than in the case of Mr. Hildreth, who has been at the head of the Postmaster at Oakland for forty-three years. He is a Democrat, and has been in office during all of that time. As old Democrats will remember, he was the wife of the Postmaster at Oakland when Cleveland was elected in 1884, and last week Mrs. Farmer went down on a visit.

So you can gather the happy reunion of the voters after all the long years of waiting.

From her native Mrs. Tanner learned that Mr. Hildreth was still in office, and that he was a resident of Jessamine county, and it is expected that a reunion of the voters will shortly be held.—Winchester Democrat.

For Prison Commissioner.

The fact for Prison Commissioners is beginning to. Statements to Ben Stuart Fennell and J. W. Richardson Breckenridge will file a petition for the former, of Woodford county, as United States Senator, and the latter, of Franklin, is mentioned as a prospective candidate, in addition to Messrs. Fennell, J. M. Richardson, T. Taylor Young, Senator W. O. Coleman and other announced candidates. Although Capt. Blackburn has been widely mentioned, and has been urged by many friends, he has not as yet made a definite announcement as to whether he will or will not be a candidate. Democratic success in the fall of the Democratic nomine of the Legislature.—Frankfort Journal.

Smallpox in Norman.—Small pox has developed in the family of Mr. Norman Nicholas county. The City Board at that place was not opened on Monday, but the Board of Health met and declared a quarantine against the entire city, some stating that there were 4 cases, others 6, and others 8 cases of the disease. Those stricken are said to have a be pretty severe form.—Paris Kentuckian-Citizen.

The whole truth about this matter is that a few cases of mild smallpox have broken out, developed in this city, and the Board of Health has taken every precaution to prevent its spread.

There is no real danger to anyone visiting Carlisle, unless they go into houses infected. We trust the editor of the Democrat, who harbored a case for ten days in his own home will take no exception to this.

Claim the Reward.

A special from Frankfort, Nov. 31, says: Governor Beckham will offer William Harding, of Louisville, who killed Policeman Frankfort last month while he preliminary investigation into the murder of Governor Goebel, when a warrant for the arrest of Harding was issued by the Clerk of Franklin county. A claim for the payment to them of the reward was made to the Board of Examiners of the Court as to-day by the Governor and the application of the Governor. There was a claim in the shape of an affidavit and is already signed by several, in act form, and it is without the least foundation. The matter has not so much as been mentioned to the Board.

The company recently organized in this county to farm for oil has secured leases on about ten thousand acres of land and will soon be ready to locate. It has some of the best surface indications, and the prospect for striking oil is quite good.
