Cattle at $6.85.

Fourteen head of 1021-pound bullocks sold and sold well on the Chicago market for $6.85. This is the highest price for cattle for many months, and higher than anything else sold yesterday. The bullocks were fed and shipped by Messrs. Hubbard and Hutchinson, Garrison, Ind. The entire shipment of 37 cars averaged 1,021 pounds, and the total weight was 1,000,000 pounds. The lowest bid price for cattle sold at the yards was $3.50 per hundred.—Chicago Inter-Ocean, Nov. 6.

A report from Boyd J. C. (black) Jackson School, Powerstown, W. Va., says: "Your Cuticura Remedies have advertised enough anywhere to have a large sale in this section. I have used Cuticura in the Agricultural School. I find it the most effective, and I have used all kinds."

Mr. Stanley Allender.
