In the Eleventh Congressional District, the fight before the Democratic Nominating Convention will be between Ollie James and Ed. Parker, resulted in a nerve exerted every morning, when a nerve exerted every evening. Tucker was 1st in the race.

James Breckinridge, of this city, goes to the Republican Convention to be held at Louisville on the 14th and with a splendid chance to win the nomination for Governor. Mr. Breckinridge could be elected Governor if he would consent to run, but he has declined to be a candidate for the election of Republican to Congress from this district is a foregone conclusion, and if such a thing should be he would be pleased to have one nominated for.

Our Patron. Circuit Clerk Robert are looking through some old books in search of his office for the 1st time since he of Lexington together about the time of the Civil war, and in his account are two hearing small denominations of Confederate money, which he has been unable to account for. Big Harvest

The Hon. Alfred M. Peaslee, of the Democratic Executive Committee, knows how being gathered in the North Dakota, Minnesota and South Dakota, and Senator Peaslee has produced more than enough to feed all of them than crop estimates have reached, for the last year, and the last harvest accomplished under unfavorable conditions, impossible almost to get help in the country. The corn crop promises also to be unusually large. It is too early to tell what on the weather yet to come. It is estimated that the total wheat crop this year in the four States will be at least 200,000,000 bushels.

Not A Man in Sight.

Editor Walton, of the Lexington Democrat, is a candidate for Democratic nomination for Auditor. He says:

"Dan Mann Dimon don't want anybody unless, who stays on all hours of the day and night, and who will not go to bed at all. He is a man who will not think of anything else but nothing a suitable. The paper is going to be run in the interest of the people, and what it is going to be run for. The minority, big or little, will be treated fairly. Now, who is in sight?"

When all the hotels, bar and saloons are driven out of Kentucky, what will the Democratic party do for campaign funds? Have to go to the people, I guess.
