Trimble.

Hon. South Trimble, Congressman from this district, was in Lexington Sunday on private business and attended the Elks Lodge of Sorrow in the afternoon. He came to Frankfort from Washington last week, primarily to be present at the inauguration Tuesday. He will return Wednesday.

Mr. Trimble is sanguine in the success of his bill for the relief of tobacco growers. The measure is in the hands of the Ways and Means Committee.

This bill permits a grower to twist the tobacco he raises and to sell it at retail and by agent without paying the tax of six cents a pound and the license imposed on manufacturers.

Under existing requirements a grower may not dispose of his tobacco except in bulk and in the leaf. Mr. Trimble's purpose is to put tobacco on the same footing as wheat or corn so long as it is not adulterated. The benefit to the producer would be great as to privileges, and the indirect benefit that would follow license to compete with the trust would ensure to even greater advantage. Kentucky is the premier tobacco raising State and the success of this bill will mean much to her interest.—[Lexington Herald.

A letter from James Daily, at Loutaba, Oklahoma, says: Please change my paper from Union City to above address, as I will be here throughout the Winter. This is what is known as the new country, and I am right in Devils Canon, one and one half mile from town. There is plenty of quail and chickens and a good many turkeys, and a few deer. This is said to be the most beautiful and picturesque spot in the Territory. I have been here 3 days and have certainly had a taste of Western life. Remember me to the Office crew, and "Bones."

James Redford sold to Simon Weil, of Lexington, 57 head of export cattle, average weight 1,450 pounds, at $4.30 per hundred.... Jeff Parton sold John Leonard 10 head of cattle that averaged 1,150 pounds at 3½ cts.—[Harrodsburg Herald.

Your Subscription.

You should look at the label on your paper and see how your subscription to The Mercury stands. One of the most deceptive things that a man has to deal with is the flight of time, especially after you get along in years. You pay your subscription to a paper and the first is out before you realize it. Come in and settle up, and take a receipt. We don't want anyone to pay for The Mercury without taking a receipt. It saves lots of trouble and misunderstandings. If you want any of the City Weeklies we can get them for you at reduced rate. Come in and see us between now and Christmas.

Confederate Daughters Indorse Roosevelt.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 11.—Following the initiative of their sisters of Texas, the Lexington chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy at their regular monthly meeting passed resolutions commending the President for his indorsement of the principles of the Southern Confederacy, his recognition of the new Panama Republic being considered by the Daughters as such.

Mrs. James H. Mulligan, wife of Judge Mulligan, read a paper before the session on "Recollections of the Civil War." At the conclusion of her paper, Mrs. Mulligan moved that the chapter indorse the resolutions passed by the Texas chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy as being the sense and feeling of the Lexington body.
