Most Popular Line to the West. Great World's Fair Route for 1904.

The Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern Railroad has in the past few years spent millions of dollars in double tracking its line, letting in the interlocking and automatic block signal system and equipment and in new passenger depots, so that the public all the comforts at home while patronizing over this line. The company will be a big factor in the coming World's Fair and is making great preparations at this early date in order to handle the large crowds that will go from this section of the country.

The B. & O. S. W. has three solid trains daily to St. Louis, leaving the row from Cincinnati in early and three quarter hours. The service is unexcelled. The new depot at St. Louis is a gem, and every convenience and courtesy is shown Passengers over this line. Ticket Agents or address Thos. Eurtis, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati.

The Coming Neckwear.

The stitched neckgear has just completed product from its mother, and is much newer than the battery's fabric.

Tiny silk crocheted rings in black are used to finish the ends and fabric of many of the new neckwears in both white and colors.

Small and effects, rather than very large ones, are the comfort of fine opera neckwear, as room is keeping with the fashion.

White is far in the lead for any and all such wear pieces. If a touch of color is given, black and accordingly light tints are used.

Some of the brickback collars that are so very swagger now, when done in white muslin in silk of several tints is a notable beautiful piece of oriental embroidery.

The still hallowed collars of white linen that are so rigour now of a great low and made of the very finest of linen cambric, are edged with a delicate edge with French needlework of various kinds.

Quite lovely Lower Fashion—playfully adequate for spring—is that worn low in the back to vest, and the vest is all elaborately white.

Natural Gas In Estill.

Richmond, Ky., Jan. 19. There is trouble in Estill county, and the end of the trouble is not in sight, either. Natural gas was struck in the county in the early part of the week, and the excitement over the discovery of the fuel has not abated. The gas has been struck in three different places, and the excitement is at an end. The latest strike was made on the farm of Dr. Estes Brown, two miles south of Irvine, and after the completion of the well the gas was piped to the engine. It is said it was the strongest flow of natural gas ever struck in Estill.

The sum of prosperity exists without doubt.

Better permit your friends to offer you their faith.

Better be thought to be unfortunate than self-suffering also.

Better be unable to make murderer than to be one yourself.

Better be poor and nearly related to princes than be rich and wealthy.

Better be unable to make money than to spend and lend it to the unworthy.

Society in Manila.

Manila has a big army and navy, and every one. The army officers are very much in evidence, and they live here. It has such an interesting army that one is apt to forget that there are people who ought to attract by reason of their wealth. But it is hard to keep the simple fact that they want to be seen in mind. The army officers manage to discount that a little and, of course, the navy officers, who are also called soldiers, so far as their social life is concerned, are quite overshadowed. WATCH OF GOLD NUGGETS.

The Crude Metal Purchased Into Coins, Plate and Bonds by a Klondike Miner.

A. L. Dellden, a Yukon pioneer and miner, who recently arrived in Seattle on the Dirigo, has a watch which is somewhat unfamiliar to the average person. Mr. Dellden dug out the gold himself, and he had it made into a watch. Without stock or trimmings the watch and chain are a peculiar combination of gold and nuggets. The watch is a large one, and the nuggets are of all sizes, from that of a pea to that of a walnut. The chain is made of nuggets strung on gold wire, and the watch charm is a large nugget, with a hole drilled through it. Mr. Dellden says he has had the watch for two years, and that it has been a source of much admiration wherever he has shown it. He has been offered large sums for it, but will not part with it. Mr. Dellden has been in the Klondike country for over two years, and has made a good stake. He says he has had a very pleasant time, and that he has enjoyed himself as much as he could in any country. He will return to the Klondike in the spring.

"Have you ever had any trouble in getting your gold dust coined?" he was asked.

"Not a bit of it," he answered. "I have had no trouble at all. I simply took it to the mint and had it coined into money. I have had it coined into eagles, half eagles and dollars. I have had it made into plate and into bonds. I have had it made into watch cases and into watch chains. I have had it made into rings and into pins. I have had it made into anything I wanted, and
