Most Popular Line to the West. Great World's Fair Route for 1904.

The Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern Railroad has in the past few years spent millions of dollars in rebuilding it's line, laying 85 lb steel rails, building immense steel bridges, eliminating bad curves and adding new and elegant equipment and is now prepared to offer the traveling public all the comforts of home while journeying over its line. This company will be a big factor in the travel to the coming Worlds Fair and is making great preparations at this early day in order to handle the large crowds that will go from this section of the country.

The B. & O. S. W. now has three solid trains daily to St. Louis, making the run from Cincinnati in eight and three-quarter hours, and even faster time is contemplated. These trains leave Cincinnati at 9.00 a. m., 9.00 p. m. and ... and carry ... Pullman Drawing Room Sleepers, Observation Parlor Cars and Company's own Dining Cars. The Dining Car service is the best in the country, as meals are served on the "a la carte" plan at popular prices. Direct connections are made by B. & O. S. W. trains at St. Louis Union Station for Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, San Francisco and all points in the West, and Northwest.

NEW ENGLAND THRIFT.

Careful Management Is a Part of the Temperament of the Massachusetts People.

The proportion of men and women who retire on small competencies is doubtless greater in Massachusetts than in any other state in the union, unless it be Pennsylvania, which is the other state of Dr. Benjamin Franklin's residence. But a man who has even the most robust respect for the thrift of the people of Massachusetts must be surprised to learn from the report of the state's bureau of labor statistics that there are more than 41,000 such persons—28,000 men and 17,000 women. Two-thirds of them are native-born, too. The making of such an investigation was characteristic of Massachusetts, says World's Work.

But it tells volumes about the careful management that is a part of the New England temperament. The New Englander studiously saves and he invests prudently, and when old age comes, or he has a wish to rest, he is willing to stop work and to adjust his life to his income; and he generally leaves a legacy also to his children. Anyone who has lived in different parts of the United States has had many occasions to observe what this official report confirms—that the native New Englander has learned the art of living considerably below his income better than any other man among us.

WANTED HIS CLIENT HELD.

Lawyer Who Defended a Hard Case Was Afraid He Might Meet Him on the Road.

Almost any lawyer will undertake the defense of a prisoner accused of crime and will use his best endeavors to secure his acquittal. Assistant District Attorney Osborn, of New York, tells of a North Carolina attorney who was practicing in a backwoods mountain district.

While he was waiting for his case to be reached the trial of a notorious highway robber who had been caught red-handed was called. The prisoner had no counsel and the presiding judge requested the distinguished lawyer to defend him. The trial lasted two days and to the court's astonishment the jury returned a verdict of acquittal. As the prisoner was about to be discharged the lawyer stepped up to the judge and requested a few words in ...

BABY'S FUTURE

Something for Mothers to Think About.

Lives of Suffering and Sorrow Averted

And Happiness and Prosperity Assured by

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills When All Else Fails.

Every child born into the world with an inherited or early developed tendency to distressing, disfiguring humours of the skin, scalp and blood, becomes an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering, but because of the dreadful fear that the disfiguration is to be lifelong and mar its future happiness and prosperity. Hence it becomes the duty of mothers of such afflicted children to acquaint themselves with the best, the purest and most effective treatment available, viz., The Cuticura Treatment. Warm baths with Cuticura Soap to cleanse the skin and scalp of crusts and scales, gentle applications of Cuticura Ointment, to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent Pills, to cool the blood in the severer cases, are all that can be desired for the alleviation of the suffering of skin tortured infants and children, and the comfort of worn-out parents.

Millions of women use Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening and soothing red, rough and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchings and chafings, in the form of washes for annoying irritations and inflammations, and for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves.

quiver of the old poetic provencal heart. "Ah," she cooed, "and it is very beautiful, this water darkening softly and the stars slipping out slowly up there. And see, some one has lighted a lamp over there on 'Cajun island. Do you not love a lone light in the darkening distance, mon ami? That line of Mrs. Browning's, 'Exaltation in the far light where some lonely cottage is,' shall I tell you a story about that light, mon ami?"

"Yes," he said, quickly. The thought seemed sweet to his softened mood. To lie at her feet in the tender light with her dear voice pulsing in his ears, calling to eager life his dormant manhood.

Madeline nestled easily against the root of the cottonwood and began to speak with the abandonment of a pleased child—but there were hard lines about her mouth, could he have seen them in the dusk.

"Shall we say that it is an old man who has lighted the lamp? An old man, bent and bare-footed, with white hair straggling long about his ears? Or, shall we say it is an old woman, in a skimpy skirt, who has put on an apron as though expecting company? There are plenty of both over there on the island, aged men and women, but this old woman appeals to our imagination because she is expecting something or someone. What? Nobody quite knows. Not even herself does she know clearly what it is she is waiting for while she sits there on her lonely doorstep, with her old bare feet tucked decorously under her skirt and her toil-twisted hand folded patiently in her lap. She has worked hard for many, many years, has this old 'Cajun woman with the scant hair and skinny neck. Worked hard in the home and in the field, and has reared a dozen or more of sons and daughters to wear out their lives in patient toil, even as she has worn out her own. And, mon ami, it is a sad sight, this worn-out old woman, sitting all alone in that feeble ray of light, peering into the darkness with her wistful old eyes. But she was not always old, non! You would never dream it, but once she was young. Mais oui, younger than you or I could have ever been—even in our babyhood. Young and fair and sweet, this old, old woman. And she was ambitious, yes. She would learn to read and write her name in clear, bold letters, even as the priest had written it in the parish register. ..."

Hair Falls

"I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor to stop my hair from falling. One-half a bottle cured me." J. C. ...

Ayer's Hair Vigor is certainly the most economical preparation of its kind on the market. A little of it goes a long way. It doesn't take much of it to stop falling of the hair, make the hair grow, and restore color to gray hair.

Anarchists Now Barred.

Anarchists cannot be naturalized in this country or become citizens of the United States, according to the announcement issued by the State Department calling attention to the provisions of the act of March 3, to regulate the immigration of aliens. This act became effective July 3.

The State Department interprets the law to provide that to render a court judgment of naturalization valid the court record must show that the person naturalized is not hostile to organized government or connected with any anarchistic or revolutionary body.—[New York Herald.

The blackberry season is about over. From what we can learn many gallons of jam and cordial have been put up by the good housewives of the community. The small boy who takes his lunch to school may expect a liberal supply of jam on his biscuits next Fall and Winter. Blackberry jam seems to have been invented especially as a filler for school lunches, and we know of nothing on earth that will satisfactorily take its place. We suppose that in the lives of all our greatest men there have been many moments devoted to the eating of this favorite preserve.—[Midway Clipper.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Tureman & Son, druggists.

Under the present law 5 cents of the State tax goes into the State Sinking Fund. This has been necessary in order to accumulate an amount sufficient to pay the interest of the State debt and to retire the bonds at their maturity. Nearly the entire State debt was recently discharged with money obtained from our war claim. It is now no longer necessary that so much be turned into the sinking fund. An effort will be made before our next Legislature to secure the passage of an act to so change the apportionment that at least 2 cents shall be transferred from the sinking fund to the school fund. This would not increase the people's taxes but would add about $18,000 to the school fund.

State College of Kentucky.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) College of Kentucky, offers the following courses of study, viz: Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Physical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post Graduate studies are also provided, leading each to a Master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty numbers nearly fifty professors and instructors.

County appointees receive tuition, room rent in dormitories, fuel and lights, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses.

The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped comprehensive and modern.

The legislature appropriated $60,000 for a College home for young women and $30,000 for drill and gymnasium for men. The latter is completed and in use, the former will be ready for occupancy in October.

Military tactics and Science are fully provided for as required by Congress.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the College to supply. Last year the matriculation list was 604.

Summer Schools are provided for Pedagogy, Engineering and instruction in Science.

Specialists with the necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of Natural Science.

The State College of Kentucky, though bearing hitherto the title of College, is the only institution in the Commonwealth doing, in any proper sense, University work.

The completion of the College home for young women will provide facilities for good board and lodging. It is equipped with all modern conveniences including bath rooms and rooms for physical culture. It will be heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is afforded to them of a thorough education in Classics, Modern Languages, Literature, Science, Mathematics, Logic, Metaphysics, History and Political Economy. No other Institution in the State offers advantages for the education of women at all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky.

Big Kentucky Tree.

The largest poplar log ever taken out of Letcher County has just been taken from the farm of Isac Potter, a Boone's Fork farmer, and floated down the Kentucky River. The tree in question contained three sixteen-foot cuts, and the tip cut contained 3,500 feet of lumber and was nearly seven feet in diameter. It required four yoke of oxen to pull the logs from the mountain side. The tree netted the owner nearly $300. There are several other mammoth trees farther up in the mountains of Boone's Fork which are soon to be taken out.

Whither are you drifting? Some time ago a wise fellow discovered that it is unhealthy for two people to occupy the same bed. Later another found out that it was unsafe to ride on a car with other people, to attend church where other people attend, later an association of physicians decided that to kiss was to tempt death and all manner of hideous diseases. The very latest is the discovery of a French scientist that the practice of handshaking is a prolific source of spreading disease. If things keep up it will soon be unhealthy to be buried in the same graveyard with other people.

$10,000 to Child Wife.

Richmond, Ky., July 23rd.—The last will of General Clay was to-day filed for probate.

It is dated May 12, 1900, and John C. Chenault and Daniel Bates Shackleford are named as the executors of the estate, under the will.

To the executors is left $300 a year from the death of the testator.

The will directs that the executors shall receive 10 per cent. of all moneys handled by them in the settlements of the estate and form a company with the Clay county coal mines, as a basis, and that it be divided into 100 shares and that Dora Clay Brock, the former wife of the testator, receive one quarter of the dividend of the company, and that at death it shall go to C. Marcellus Clay Brock, the son of the former wife, and that if there are other children it shall be divided among them.

The will after making a number of bequests leave to his former wife $10,000 cash and to J. C. Chenault, who, the will states, was the friend and adviser of the testator, $5,000. The will directs that the funeral be of a decent kind, not to cost more than $100. Two thousand dollars is left to the Methodist church at Pinkard. Small bequests are made to a number of servants and the entire landed estate is disposed of.

Spain is still the largest cork wood producing country in the world. Nearly all the cork wood used the world over is grown on the Mediterranean littoral, with the exception of Portugal, Spain, Algeria, France, Tunis and Italy being the countries that produce it. None is grown in Syria or Asia Minor and an inconsiderable quantity in Turkey and Greece. Several of the Mediterranean islands, and notably Corsica, produce it in considerable quantities. The cork trees will produce cork in continually increasing quantity until they are over 200 years old. The trees are stripped every seven years. On an average a cork tree produces 675 pounds of cork in sixty years. The exports of cork wood from Portugal, Spain, Algeria, France, Tunis and Italy amounted in 1901 in value to nearly $14,000,000.—[Ex.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded, when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called the Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Good Manners.

We could never understand why some people, after securing some little 2x4 position, would immediately think they owned the earth, and believe it smart to give abrupt answers to people who are forced into their presence. A man of this character is soon spotted, and let severely alone by the public, but sometimes one is compelled to have business with him. The other day we heard a certain gentleman "chewing the rag", so to speak, and asked the whyness of his wrath. "Well," he replied, "I just came out of so-and-so's place and if it were not for the fact that I have determined to keep out of trouble, I would have stamped his infernal head into the floor." He then went on to say he had almost been insulted for asking a civil question. Such pugnacious people live in every town, and while it is true they are very disagreeable, a gentleman cannot afford to "mix up" every time he receives a short answer. As we advised the gentleman the other day, if you fly off every time you meet a damned fool, you will be in a scrap all the time. Good manners prohibit unpleasant transactions, and a gentleman will act a gentleman under all circumstances. A soft answer turneth away wrath, but if a fellow tries to rub it in on you, that's a different proposition.—[Central Record.

No town will become a good business center so long as the majority of its business men rely upon a few merchants to make the efforts to bring trade to town. Too often the men in a few lines of the trade are about the only ones to reach after custom.
