In the Kentucky Mountains.

TORRENT, KY., JULY 20th, 1903.

Dear Mercury:

Accompanying the excursion given by the Washington Mining and Manufacturing Company I arrived at this delightful Mountain Resort yesterday at company of a large number of the most charming people gathered here for a noon, and am enjoying the pleasant season of pleasure. I was just thinking of the contrast of this and last Sunday and this day forty years ago. Last Sunday I was sitting in a lonely mountain cabin reading old magazines and waiting for night to come on; to-day I am in the midst of a gay company who make one forget troubles forty years ago to-day, I was one of about four or five hundred of Morgan's rapid riders, surrounded by armed enemies and submitting to the most humiliating experience that comes to a soldier: the Capitulation. Although that was near ly a half century ago, and I a lot just [illegible]

Making Fun of Us.

H. A. Stitt, the old blood and thunder of the Paris Gazette, uses this slanderous language about our best people. He says:—

The primary in Nicholas County is over. Tom Sharp, for Representative, defeated Dr. C. W. Mathers by vote of 1,012 to 500—which the mathematically inclined reader will notice is just two to one.

It is said Dr. Mathers put his money into the hands of men who were so bewildered by the color of it that they forgot to use it, and that flies era got some of the swag, then went in and voted against him. Of course, this kind of talk always follows an election, and the Gazette is almost certain that Dr. Mathers didn't put up a cent except for necessary expenses. During the progress of the campaign the enemies of Doctor were telling around that he was too close to have his horse shod, and that he wouldn't allow hunters to walk across his farm for fear they would carry some grass seed on the soles of their shoes. Dr. Mathers is an educated gentleman, and a man of too much intelligence to be voted for by the average Nicholas county voter. Tom Sharp has no "book larnin" and is just the type of a man that the blackberry stained hands of Nicholas voters would drop in a ballot for.

About the only diverting incident on the day of election was Cute Rankin celebrating Tom Sharp's election by hitting Dr. Mathers on the head with a stick. The Doctor had a pencil in his hand, keeping tab on the returns as they came in, and when he started toward Cute for the purpose of getting upon more intimate terms than they had ever before been, Cute took him a rap on the capot, which caused Doc to see more stars than is found on a dollar of our daddies. Cute swore that he thought the pencil was a great big horse pistol with a bayonet on the end of it, and that if he didn't take Doc a rap he would be in danger of losing his life, or of great bodily harm.

That is what Cute says.

Independent Line.

The Lexington Morning Herald of the 21st says:

Mr George S. Shanklin, president of the Fayette Telephone Company, is going to Louisville this morning to meet the officers of the Independent Long Distance Telephone Company and consult with them about the extension of the long distance lines. There is increased activity in the telephone field in the past few weeks one result of which has been the organization of a company for the erection of an independent company at Carlisle. The work of erecting the plant and installing the exchange will be begun within a few days. The same construction [illegible]

A sensation from Carlisle, to the Lexington Leader, July 23th, says: Reese, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roberts, was out playing with some pla mates yesterday afternoon when the little folks thought they would have a hanging, as they had heard so much about O'Brien and Whitney. They selected Reese as their victim, procured a rope, tied it to a limb, lifted the little fellow up, put his head in the noose, drew it tight and let him swing. Logan Anderson, a carpenter, happened along just in time to take the little fellow down just as he began to strangle.

Drank Carbolic Acid.

At Millersburg, Thursday afternoon, Benj. Duvall, of Ruddles Mills, formerly of Paris, drank a mixture containing carbolic acid. He immediately became unconscious and only by heroic efforts of attending physicians was he resuscitated, and he is yet in a dangerous condition. Duvall was in the employ of T. A. Vimont as bar keeper. He was removed in an ambulance Thursday to his home at Ruddles Mills.

The old reliable Parks' Hill Camp meeting will open its gates next Thursday. If you want to enjoy yourself, hear good preaching, lecturing and singing, now's your time. The Schiller Quartet, of Chicago, has been engaged for the entire meeting and if you appreciate fine music don't fail to attend the meeting. This will be the best meeting in many respects that has ever been held on these famous grounds.

The ball game here Thursday was well attended and pretty closely contested. The score was Clintonville 7, Sharpsburg 5. Two of the Clintonville players were hurt during the game and one of the Sharpsburg team, but nothing serious. The game was umpired by W. V. Shaw, of Millersburg, who, while he came in for his share of cussings from both teams, did the clean thing.

The farmers say the thistle is pretty plentiful this year and getting more so every year, and our advice is to cut them before they get too ripe and stop their spread.

LECTURE.—Prof. Buffington, who is here instructing the Institute will lecture at the Court house to-night on "Kentucky Educational Needs."

AUGUST 18 to 20 is the date of the Morgan Men Reunion in place of 13 to 20 as stated in our last issue. Please note the correction—18 to 20th.

WHITE ROSE FLOUR—Is good for three meals a day, it makes the best of food for working men and women, and for children. It has no equal. Why? because White Rose Flour is made from the choicest part of Selected Wheat grown on limestone soil, in the Blue Grass region of Kentucky which imparts to it peculiar properties which no other wheat has. Ask your grocer for it, and if he hasn't it, write or see us.

Giving
Them
Away?
Oh No!

Just letting them go at prices lower than usual. A lot of nice Summer things. Rather have the money than carry them over. That's easy to see. Come then and help us clean up this balance. The goods are just as good, just as saleable, except the time is getting away, and the demand is not so great, so to even up and get trade we turn them out at a less price. And then we are receiving some new goods to keep the mill going. New Shoes, Calicoes, Percales, Notions, and our General stock is all you can ask for Mid-Summer. A Bargain Table full of usefuls is giving satisfaction to the people and getting us ready for the move we are to make Sept. 1st to the new building one door below the Post-office.

Thanks for the past, hopes for the future.
