CARLISLE MERCURY.

G. R. KELLER & SON, Pubs.

CARLISLE, KENTUCKY

IMPORTANT NEWS NOTES OF A WEEK

LATEST HAPPENINGS THE WORLD OVER TOLD IN ITEMIZED FORM.

EVENTS HERE AND THERE

Condensed into a Few Lines for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Latest Personal information.

PERSONAL.

John Anderson, a resident of Chicago since 1844 and publisher of the Norwegian daily, Skandinaven, since 1866, died at his residence of heart disease.

James R. Garfield, ex-President Roosevelt's secretary of the interior, declares he is willing to lead the Republican party in Ohio against Gov. Harmon if there is popular demand for his candidacy.

William Averill Harriman, son of the late Edward H. Harriman, was tossed over the historic Yale fence by sophomores during the annual Washington's birthday cane rush, and sustained a blackened eye and numerous cuts and bruises. The Yale freshmen, however, of which he is a member, were victorious over the sophomores through superior numbers.

LeRoy Percy of Greenville, one of the most brilliant lawyers in Mississippi, was nominated as United States senator from the state of Mississippi to fill out the unexpired term of A. J. McLaurin, who died September 22, last.

Dr. Robert Schneider of Berlin, who is the discoverer of a new cure for tuberculosis, arrived in New York on the steamship Umbria. Dr. Schneider employs a combination of sulphuric acid, charcoal and eucalyptus, which is burned in a lamp placed in the sleeping room of the patient.

GENERAL NEWS.

Amassing a fortune of $160,000 by toll as a farmer, only to lose it through the irregularities of relatives, is the story of Byron L. Church of Holyrood, Kan., made public through the old man's arrest on a charge of wrecking the Bank of Holyrood. Harwell Church, his son, and F. W. Thomas, a nephew, are being sought by officers on complicity of the state bank commissioner.

The heaviest blow yet struck the beef trust by way of punishment for arbitrarily raising the price of meat and poultry, came in Jersey City, N. J., when the grand jury of Hudson county filed a blanket indictment charging a criminal conspiracy in restraint of trade. Six corporations, including the parent organization, the National Packing Company and 21 individual directors, were named in the conspiracy charge.

The curfew bells rang for the entire negro population of Memphis by order of Edward H. Crump, Memphis' "Boy Mayor." All members of the black race on the streets after 12 o'clock were arrested.

Testimony by Louis D. Glavis in his charges against Secretary Ballinger and the general land office, was concluded and cross-examination began. Glavis, the special agent of the land office, took the witness stand before the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee. Glavis proved to be as good a witness, if not better for the prosecution than Mr. Glavis himself.

Following the publication of a sensational statement alleged to have been made by John J. Murphy, president of the Central Labor union of Philadelphia, a warrant was issued for him, charging "inciting to riot." The statement attributed to Mr. Murphy is that "a general strike should be called immediately. I think it is inevitable. There are men in the steel industry who would go straight as any trooper who ever drew a saber."

New York detectives are searching for the two men, both old crooks, who early to find Jacob Greenthal, a former theatrical worker and who had been beaten and all but severed his tongue from Greenthal's head by a band of thugs Friday.

Charles Smith, a painter in deeper water trouble than New York physicians he was in now, has been arrested in Minneapolis, to be arraigned down and run down by police on the charge of murdering Mrs. Caroline Smith, over him divorced husband.

Rioting broke out in Paris, Ky., in front of City Prosecutor Denis Dundon's office, when a crowd of negroes attempted to break down the door and storm the office. Dundon had refused to file affidavits charging a number of negroes with disorderly conduct. Several negroes were injured in the fight.

Eighteen Edmond Jayne James of the University of Illinois will be arraigned before the house committee on agricultural expenditures in the Postell bill appropriating $41,000 or thereabouts for the Washington university. He criticised Justice Harlan of the supreme court sharply, and he rapped the presiding officer of the committee from one end to another.

According to the decision of Prof. I. B. Taft of Michigan Agricultural college, the Kansas-Oklahoma boundary dispute between the two states will be settled in favor of Kansas. Taft made a survey of the territory in question and his decision will be final. The territory has been in dispute for years.

Secretary Nagel says $100,000 to $200,000 a year for the next five years would be well spent, in recommending a better immigration regulation appropriation to the house committee on labor.

Seven hundred American tourists reaching Yokohama, Japan, on the Manchuria were taken from the boat and quarantined by Tokyo and Yokohama officials.

Eight directors of the New York Consolidated Railroad company, the institution which is said to be responsible for the recent high price of coal, and in this city were indicted by the grand jury, charged with conspiracy in the control of siding in the restraint of trade in violation of the state law governing trusts and monopolies.

The international peace supreme court of Illinois, at a meeting in Chicago, issued an order directing that all further proceedings in the Zane case, which resulted in the parole law of Illinois, be suspended by the court until the April term of court.

Mrs. Caroline Smith of New York Charity Leader Johann P. Alds to the stand in defense against him by Senator Benjamin Cooper of having accepted a bribe of $1,000, his counsel, Martin W. Littleton, announced that Senator Cooper had fixed with the governor the senate his resignation as president pro tem