

The GRL and the BILL

BYRONIA

I remember the first time I saw you. You were sitting on the porch of the great plantation, and you were looking at me with those big, blue eyes. You were so beautiful, and you were so kind. You were the only girl who ever looked at me like I was a person, and not just a slave.

You were so different from the other girls. They were all so proud, and so full of themselves. But you were so humble, and so sweet. You were the only girl who ever talked to me like I was a friend, and not just a slave.

TRAINING WILD ANIMALS

By LEWIS EDWIN TIBBS

It is not so long since that the wild animals of the world were considered as creatures of a different order from those of the human race. They were seen as beasts, and not as intelligent beings.
