CARLISLE MERCURY.
G. R. KELLER & SON, Pubs.
CARLISLE, KENTUCKY

EPITOME OF A WEEK'S NEWS

Most Important Happenings Told in Brief.

PERSONAL

The annual meetings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Chemical society and other organizations of scientists opened in Minneapolis.

Legislation and public health were the chief topics on the program of the meeting of the Illinois State Teachers' association, which began in Chicago.

In Columbus the Ohio School Improvement association took up the betterment of rural schools.

Death took Frank Worthing leading man for Grace George in "Snare for the Groom," as he stepped upon the stage for the opening act at Detroit. The curtain was just about to rise. Hemorrhage of the lungs was the immediate cause of death.

Admiral George Dewey celebrated the seventy-third anniversary of his birth at his home in Washington.

The American Society of Agricultural Engineers met at Purdue university, Lafayette Ind.

Jack Colsky and his wife, according to friends in Kansas City, have become reconciled at Pasadena, Cal., and a remarriage is probable.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., saddened the hearts of all the school teachers at the Pocantico Hills and Tarrytown Hall Hollow schools by sending them ten dollar gold pieces.

Charles Bartell Loomis the author and reader, is seriously ill at his home in Loomis, N. J., and has been compelled to postpone indefinitely all his engagements.

Carrie A. Thompson, secretary of state of Ohio announces the acceptance of the office of assistant secretary of the interior. Thompson's term expires January 9.

GENERAL NEWS.

The most damaging blow ever inflicted upon the "Black Hand" was that dealt by Judge Fawcett in Brooklyn when he sentenced Mrs. Maria Reppe and Stanislaus Patienza, kidnapers of Michael Rizzo and Guiseppe Longo, to not less than twenty-five years nor more than forty-nine years of hard labor in prison, the limit of the law.

The Northern bank of New York, which has several branches in Harlem and the Bronx, was taken possession of by Bank Superintendent Cheney. The institution has deposits aggregating over $5,000,000. The Northern bank formerly was known as the Harlem bank, which had difficulty during the panic of 1907.

Following their indictment by the Cook county grand jury, Mayor Thompson E. Krotts, Chief of Police Joseph D. Mc Kinnis and eight others of the police force were arrested by deputy sheriffs.

Following the arrest of Mayor Krotts and Chief of Police McKinnis, Acting Mayor Hoyt announced the dismissal of the entire police force of Chicago.

Harriet Alberta Bliss appeared before Judge Kohlsaat in the United States circuit court of Chicago and asked that the dissolution of the Standard Oil company by the Supreme Court be continued indefinitely. The petitioner has devoted her entire fortune to the effort to dissolve the trust, and says the company is doomed.

Charles Nagely, assistant cashier of the Bank of Commerce, Kansas City, Mo., committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart. Important recommendations in the report of Examiner Bird to the Missouri bank commissioner and treasurer of the Commerce bank, which failed, are said to have caused Nagely's act. Nagely was 30 years old and married. He was a member of the Masonic order.

Two million people are slowly starving from famine in the Kiang-Su and An-Hui provinces, China. The international relief board of Shanghai and other charities in Shanghai made an appeal for $1,000,000 at once.

Following the arrest of Frank Wendling, foreman of the Kentucky Hide company, charged with the murder of Joseph Wendling, his father, and the arrest of Gregory, charged with instigating the murder, Wendling's attorney filed a motion for a change of venue. Judge Grubbs overruled the motion.

Wendling's attorney filed a motion for a change of venue. Judge Grubbs overruled the motion.

Judge Grubbs overruled Attorney Cleveland's motion for a change of venue in the case of Frank Wendling, charged with the murder of his father, Joseph Wendling, and instructed the jury to proceed with the trial of the case. Wendling's attorney filed a motion for a change of venue