VOL. XLVI. CARLISLE, NICHOLAS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 26, 1911 EIGHT PAGES—NO 4

W. C. T. U. Column

Edited and Paid for by the Women's Christian Temperance Union, at Carlisle, who are responsible for what Appears Herein.

THE CARELESS ATTITUDE TOWARD THE SALOON Of Some Good People.

It is from the churches that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union receives its greatest assistance. There are, however, many church members who feel no responsibility about driving out saloons. They let year after year go by without making any effort to exterminate the great liquor traffic. They people ought to be told of the sad, needless deaths that are caused by the degenerating drink traffic.

An incident recently brought to our attention, should move to action the most thoughtless. It is the true story of the downfall of a gifted young man who had been an ardent, temperance worker. He used every opportunity to help secure the prohibition of the local liquor traffic. Unfortunately, the young man inherited an appetite for drink. He longed for the sale of beer and whisky forbidden so that he might fall into temptation. The voters allowed the saloons to stay. The young man fell, and later died in delirium tremens.

In a local interval, just before he passed away, he said to his pastor "I am dying, I am lost. You know how I have been with me, I have tried to be sober and to live a Christian life. My appetite was too strong, the temptation too great. I have one request to make of you. I want you to get a copy of the names of those members of my church who signed a petition for license to be given to that traffic which has been my destroyer, and place it as my breast when I am put into my coffin. I wish to refer it at the judgment seat of Christ, as one reason why I am lost."

We ask the members of churches who are in favor of temperance to enlist with the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, help save the tempted young men and, by utterly annihilating the traffic in intoxicating liquors, hasten the coming of God's kingdom on earth.

The methods of the W. C. T. U. in handling the liquor question is not by personal abuse of any one but they have pledged to work against the saloon as an enemy to God, to home and the good of the community.

We hope to bring before the citizens of this county each week some facts showing why we do not want the saloon back in our midst and ask all the voters to please read and consider before they sign their name to a petition asking for saloons to be voted back in our town and county.

Any person who may have signed the petition now being circulated asking that an election be called upon the local option question; that is, whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquor shall be sold in Nicholas County, Ky., may have his name withdrawn from the petition at any time before the petition is acted upon by the County Court.

This question has been determined by the Court of Appeal of Kentucky in the following cases: Simpson vs. Commonwealth, 30 Ky. Law Reporter, 122.

O'Neal etc. vs. Minary, 30 Ky. Law Reporter, 389.

Davis etc. vs. Henderson etc., 32 K. L. R.

In the case of O'Neal etc., vs. Minary, the Court of Appeal used this language: "The County Judge could not order an election on a petition signed by less than the statutory number of voters, and although a voter had signed the petition, still he might at any time before the petition is acted upon, withdraw his name, and if this left less than the statutory number, no election can be ordered."

So, if any person has signed the petition and desires to withdraw his name, he may do so and should do so.

Letter From China.

Batang, W. China, Oct. 3 1910.

Dear Home Folks:

We are living rather fast these days here in Tibet. We were wondering what is really happening around us. We wrote sometime ago that Tibet was open as far as Chamdo, 17 days west of here, but now no Chinese have come down "light as Dick's hat band," and won't allow us to go and look for them. We believe this is the last struggle before the death of this policy. We believe any hope that Tibet will be open before long. Of course, we can't say now.

We are making a deal for land now, and we hope the transaction will soon be brought to a close, but as the officials here do not like to have to do and no more, this point cannot be spoken of as certain here. We have the land question will be settled in this month.

It it real funny how the people in power, most of them, are willing to help us in every way themselves are for us. I wish you could have been over with me yesterday. It was a complete jam of Tibetans and Chinese, women and children and men all there for the purpose of getting cotton be used, and the dressings to be blocked, and with something about the dire need of the sick and of alcohol and tobacco. A boy will read it for us. It is all needed.

Dr. Keller's mission out the state Board of Health to co-operate with the Board of Health next best in permitting to health, was readily and unanimously adopted.

Louisville Herald.

To Breed Cavalry Horses Here.

A Frankfort special says that Judge Dallam, of the Circuit Court of Appeals of Kentucky, is in the city on official business connected with the Department of Agriculture. He is one of the Commissioners appointed by the Supreme Court of the United States to settle the litigation between the State of Kentucky and the Louisville Herald. It is understood that the Government will establish a remount station in this State. Judge Dallam is one of the three Commissioners appointed to look over the ground with a view to the selection of a site. He may go to Washington at the end of the January term of court to present facts and figures to the Secretary of Agriculture and Secretary of War. Congressman John W. Langley, of Pikeville, has the matter in hand and is pressing it. Judge O'Rear says the farm should be established in Montgomery county on one of the counties bordering on it.

Judge O'Rear being a thorough-bred Republican believes in the Government doing every thing possible along the raising of horses. It will be a cold day when the Democratic Congress authorizes the government to go into raising horses in opposition to the farmers who make it a horse business.—Ed. MERCURY.]

Editorial and Otherwise.

A man at the Old Crow distillery near Frankfort fell through the elevator shaft six stories and did not seriously hurt. He must have had the wings of the Old Crow.

The editor of the MERCURY is gradually swinging around toward "women suffrage." At Louisville Presst meeting we voted in favor of women being given the right to vote in school elections, and this will gradually lead to general suffrage for women. That's what God will be dead by the time homes are broken up, and women become politicians.

The Good Lord told Mrs. Eddy, so she claimed, how to establish the Church of Christian Science, but neglected to inform her how to write her will. According to the best legal authority she violated the laws of her state when she undertook to give the "Mother Church" two million dollars.

George Peters, who defeated the Editor of the MERCURY for Clerk of the Senate last Winter, is now in the freakest newspaper wire in Kentucky. He is writing for the Louisville Herald under the non de plume of "Argus," and is raving out straight some good Republican ends to. He is not hampered with "orders" and consequently is not afraid to say any thing that needs saying.

Cost of Primary

The sub-committee in charge of the arrangements for the Democratic State primary proposes to permit the candidates for Governor to name the election officers, going on the idea that the only candidates will be Beckham and Johnson. The cost of the primary is estimated at about $10,000.

Another U. S. Senator charged with securing his election by bribery. We are fearful that the "good ones" will be all gone before this Senate. Burkett, Lorimer, Stephenson, Guggenheim of the view four more to go. Next month will soon have it in we can't eat or drink anything for fear it contains injurious or nasty stuff.

The Salt Lick Correspondent of the Owingsville Outlook says he has learned that the L. & N. will be brought to the Licking Valley railroad, the narrow gauge running from Salt Lick into Menifee. As this road has no connection with the L. & N. the line must be rebuilt and we contemplate extending its line to Salt Lick promptly from Poplar Plains in Fleming county.

Up To Two Thousand.

In ordering our print paper for last week's issue we estimated that 1900 would be enough for our subscribers, and no one outside of a newspaper office can imagine what a feelings it was to found ourselves two hundred short. Of course we were compelled to send out a small sheet to that number of subscribers. We know that some who received this small sheet got hot in the collar, but we assure them that we were as much put out as were they, and to make good we are going to send them one of the brightest little monthly magazines they ever saw, and we are going to make good all the promises made by "our girls" or go broke

To Be Frank

We wish to say that during the threatened contest between the "Drys" and the "Wets" we are going to be strictly impartial, and all matter will be published under the head of "interesting," and said for. What we wish to say anything in the Editorial it will be found in the Editorial column. We are just placing ourselves upon an equal footing with other people who are in business for a living. There is not a merchant in town who would hang a rag in his window saying that he was "for prohibition and did not want the patronage of any one who was not for prohibition." If there is we have some printed cards of this kind which we will furnish free.

One of the things that has at last dawned upon us, and that is that we have been "used" for forty years as a free horse, and in our old age, after years of hard work, we find ourselves without a competency to retire upon, and people who have ridden us free for forty years are ready to turn us out as a "broken down horse." If you use us now you must pay.

There is another important phase of the question. Every prospective candidate for the United States Senate will give his time, labor and influence to the success of the whole ticket, and thus make more certain Democratic victory in November.

The action of the committee has already resulted in the tentative candidacy of a number of able democrats and in fact every district in the state shelters a potential senatorial possibility.

Hon. Ollie James is already announced from the First district. Hon. Chas. K. Wheeler, of Paducah, has been mentioned.

Hon. John S. Rhea, in the Third district, might be induced to enter the ring.

In the Fourth district the Hon. David R. Smith is already being groomed. Judge Parks is an announced candidate.

Col. W. B. Haldeman and Col. Harry Weissinger of the Fifth district, are probabilities.

Judge John M. Lassing, of the Court of Appeals, will leave the backing of the Sixth district.

Hon. John R. Allen is the hope of the Seventh district.

Senator Thomas H. Paynter, of the Ninth district, wants to succeed himself.

Mr. John C. Mayo, who has made Kentucky known like a rose, is very prominently mentioned as is Hon. Thomas A. Castle another mountain man.

Kentucky will not be deprived of an able Senator.

Let us first elect a Democratic Legislature, and then the factions can know themselves in an effort to secure the Senatorial prize.

As wise and patriotic a Democrat as Gov. Judson Harmon has utter Con...ittee did not include the Senatorship in the primary call. It is natural that the partisans of individual candidates will condemn the committee, but the sober second thought of the people will approve the course that has been taken.

A fight for the Senatorship precipitated at this time might...ered in Ohio in the Senatorial contest of last winter, but it can be secured for less if taken in connection with the MERCURY, one of the greatest monthlies published in Kentucky, and is most desirable.

Tobacco Turned Down.

Nearly a Million Pounds Thrown Back on Local Farmers by Kirkpatrick & Clay.

Of the tobacco bought in this section by Kirkpatrick & Clay, of Mt. Sterling, they refuse to take a million pounds. Our farmers were filled with consternation Saturday when it wes learned that these people had decided to not receive any more tobacco bought for them by T. H. Talbert and C. H. Grannis.

These gentlemen had bought a million pounds on the authority of T. J. Daugherty, the recognized representative of Kirkpatrick & Clay in this county. Mr. Daugherty in person also made a large purchase. They now say they will receive the tobacco bought by Daugherty, but repudiate the contracts made by Talbott and Grannis.

A big law suit may grow out of the matter as Robt. Harper and a number of other local growers say they will go to court to try to enforce their contracts.

We never believed these people would take this tobacco, which they bought through sub-agents, whose authority they could deny, in order to break the back of the pool last fall. They succeeded and now they will resort to every legal dodge to avoid the contracts.

No blame attaches to Messrs. Talbott or Grannis. They acted in good faith and did what they thought was best for their home people. Nor does Mr. Daugherty seem to be to blame; he also appears to have acted in good faith, but his regrets don't pay for this tobacco.—Ewing Inquirer.

The Senatorial Situation

There may be disappointment in some quarters that the Executive Committee did not include the Senatorship in the primary call. It is natural that the partisans of individual candidates will condemn the committee, but the sober second thought of the people will approve the course that has been taken.

A fight for the Senatorship precipitated at this time might...ered in Ohio in the Senatorial contest of last winter, but it can be secured for less if taken in connection with the MERCURY, one of the greatest monthlies published in Kentucky, and is most desirable.
