POULTRY

SECURING EGGS IN AUTUMN

Hens Penned in Large Dry Shed and Fed on Small Grain and Seeds Do Well.

All during the spring, and the early part of the summer, we fed our hens on a mixture of pure wheat bran and corn hearts meal—about equal parts, with grain only three or four times a week—and they thrived on it, and laid well. But, as the autumn season came on they seemed to get tired of it, and to scratch the mixture from the bins as much as possible, and to seem to be going into early moult—stopping laying almost entirely, says a writer in the Desert Farmer. Especially has this been true of our Leghorns; and so we put our thinking caps on to devise a plan to hold them up to the laying scratch to some extent at least during the early autumn. And so, with this object in view, and a large dry shed that was slatted up around available, we corraled a dozen or two of our Leghorn hens, and put them in the shed enclosure, with roosting provided therein. That we littered the ground well with straw and other trash, and began feeding them with small grain such as we do in there for them to work out, and of a morning and evening we give them a good feed of fresh white clover gathered with the dew on it.

Standard Brown Leghorn Male.

This system we find is rallying them greatly.

CHICKEN ROOST IS SANITARY

Made Round Without Any Groove to Harbor Insects and Can Be Quickly Removed.

The roost is made round without any groove to harbor insects. It can be quickly removed, cleaned and replaced, writes W. A. Jaquith, in Popular Mechanics. Two screw eyes are turned into the wall in a vertical position, from ½ to ¾ in. apart. Each end of the roost is provided with a hook or nail as shown.

Sanitary Chicken Roost.

Eggs in Cold Weather.

The trouble with most people who keep chickens is that they wish to get some sort of talisman by means of which chickens can be induced to do during cold weather without very much trouble and no planning in advance.

POULTRY NOTES

A broken egg left in a nest is a dis ease breeder.

Get all the leaves you can for the scratching pens.

No person or six months isn't half better than the breeds to take.

It is a mistake to suppose that eggs cannot be secured by farmers.

There is undoubtedly great room for improvement in the egg industry.

The first is that one breed will do about as well as another if given the right care.

Some bodily defect, one usually must reckon to incur production in the line laid out with success.

How here do the layers appear? Good for nothing, like straw thing between the hens and the eggs.

Poultry like everything else has its best time. It all depends upon the point of view from the human one.

Too many farmers and poultry men are prone to feed whatever they have the most of, particularly grain.

With the open front poultry house, or the house be reasonably dry, the first to look with the roosts to the rear.

Half-shelled eggs usually indicate that hens have not ever fat. Also that the grain feed, and need more green food.

All of the various forms in which poultry is put on the market, the greatest gains are to be obtained from the fattening of roosters.

If you are successful in getting the birds to laying during the autumn you will stand a good chance of having them keep up the performance.

If your chicken house faces north, board up the windows and transfer them to the south side and make them big enough to allow the sunshine to feed the floor.

In some of the German egg depots a quarterly of quality is made by which if a new-laid egg should lay a bad egg he will be entitled to receive 10 good ones in exchange.

SQUIRRELS RANG TELEPHONE

Max Examines Box Where Wires Were Converged and Finds It Nearly Full of Nuts.

A lady in Englewood, N. J., was called to the telephone one day by the operator, who inquired, "What do you want?"

"Nothing at all," she responded.

"Your bell rang," insisted the operator.

"None of us rang it," replied the lady.

The next day a man appeared from the telephone office.

"I have come to see what makes your telephone bell ring most of the time," he remarked.

But none of the family could enlighten him, and he saw nothing about it which was out of order.

The next day he came again, took the telephone entirely to pieces, examined the full length of the wire and still he could find nothing amiss, and still at the central office the little flame kept burning in the niche designated to this particular family. This indicated that their bell was ringing.

At last it occurred to the authorities to examine a pole box, of about the size of an ordinary mail case, which was nailed up against a large tree close by the house.

In this box several telephone wires converged. It was a sort of neighborhood switchboard.

What was the cause of the telephone men in that pole box nearly filled with nuts. They took out three peach baskets full, such one holding at least two quarts.

Blotting among the nuts were the youthful members of a promising squirrel family.—Christian Herald.

BACHELORS 2 CENTS A POUND

M. Casey, Wealthy St. Louisan, Weighing 267 Pounds, Is Bid In for $5 as Price.

St. Louis—St. Louis bachelors are worth less than 2 cents a pound, according to the market established at the St. Vincent de Paul's church, when 267-pound Martin Casey, the wealthy head of a bronze manufacturing concern, was bid in for $5 after the young woman who had won him as a prize in a church celebration refused to accept him. The winner of the prize was Miss Dora Kohler of St. Louis.

"Do you want to take him home with you?" said Father Hugenin, who had charge of the affair.

"Really," replied Miss Kohler, "he's very nice, but I don't think I want him."

"Very well, then, I'll have to sell him to the highest bidder, and I'll start the auction with a bid of $1."

As no one made a higher bid, Father Nugent handed to Miss Kohler a $5 bill in lieu of 267 pounds of Casey.

What Was the Matter With Moses?

Percy—Miss Jane, did Moses have the same after-dinner complaint my uncle's got?

Miss Jane—Gracious me, Percy! Whatever do you mean, my dear?

Percy—Well, it says here the Lord gave Moses two tablets.—Lippincott's Magazine.

The Sculptor Philosopher.

The sculptor had just finished the Apollo Belvedere.

"I am satisfied," he cried. "Every man who passes thinks it looks like himself."

Some Suspicious Persons

Enquired if we were "hiring" a certain "weekly" paper to abuse us.

Of course every time a spot light is turned on from any source it offers a splendid chance to talk about the merits of the products, but 'pon honor now, we are not hiring that "Weekly."

The general reader seldom cares much for the details of "scraps."

A few may have read lately some articles attacking us and may be interested in the following:

Some time ago a disagreement arose with a "Weekly." They endorsed our foods by letter, but wanted to change the form of advertising, to which we objected.

The "Weekly" discontinued inserting our advertisements while they were negotiating for some changes they wanted in the wording and shape of the advertisements, and during this correspondence our manager gave instructions to our Advertising Department to quit advertising altogether in that "Weekly."

Quite a time after the advertising had been left out, an editorial attack came. We replied in newspapers and the scrap was on.

Then came libel suits from both sides, and some harsh words, Generally tiresome to the public.

That "Weekly" has attacked many prominent men and reputable manufacturers.

Our Company seems prominent enough for a sensational writer to go after, hunt for some little spot to criticize, then distort, twist and present it to the public under scare heads.

So an attorney from New York spent more or less time for months in Battle Creek hoping to find impurities in our foods, or dirt in the factories. After tireless spying about he summoned twenty-five of our workmen and took their testimony. Every single one testified that the foods are made of exactly the grain and ingredients printed on the packages; the wheat, barley and corn being the choicest obtainable—all thoroughly cleaned—the water of the purest, and every part of the factories and machinery kept scrupulously clean.

That all proved disappointing to the "Weekly." There are very few factories, hospitals, private—or hotel and restaurant kitchens that could stand the close spying at unexpected times and by an enemy paid to find dirt or impurities of some kind.

In any ordinary kitchen or factory he would find something to magnify and make a noise about.

But he failed utterly with the Postum Works and products.

Twenty to thirty thousand people go through the factories annually and we do not inquire whether they are there to spy or not. It makes no difference to us.

He next turned to discover something about our advertising that could be criticized.

An analysis of the methods and distorted statements of the "Weekly" in any interest some readers, so we take up the matter one by one and report them on request. We will "chain up" the harsh words and make no reflection in this article to the birth, growth and methods of the "Weekly" but try to confine the discussion to the questions now at issue.

"It gets in the eyes and it gets in the ears, it gets in the hair, it gets in the coffee and it gets everywhere" is the way the old jingle runs, and it applies to the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., which did not have behind it a genuine letter signed, and believed to be an honest statement.

To the best of our knowledge and belief the Company has recently circulated regarding its products or its methods.

M. K. HOWE, Treasurer. (With Company about 14 years)

L. J. LAMSON, Inspector of Advts. (With Company about 9½ years)

F. C. GRANDIN, Advertising Manager. (With Company about 13 years)

R. M. STERRETT, M. D., Physician in charge of Scientific Dep't, (With Company about 3 years)

CHESTON SYER, Advt. Writer. (With Company about 3 years.)

CHARLES W. GREEN, Advt. Writer. (With Company about 3 years.)

HARRY E. BURT, General Sup't. (With Company about 13 years)

H. C. HAWK, Assistant to Chairman. (With Company about 7 years.)

C. W. POST, Chairman. (With Company 16 years, from the beginning.)

Some Facts

Battle Creek, Michigan, December 30, 1910.

We the undersigned certify that never to our knowledge has a testimonial letter printed by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., which did not have behind it a genuine letter signed, and believed to be an honest statement.

To the best of our knowledge and belief the Company has received no upwards of fifty thousand ($50,000) genuine testimonial letters.

This company has never knowingly made nor permitted an untruthful statement regarding its products or its methods.

Physiological Chemistry, by Hammarsten

Biochemic System of Medicine, by Comby.

The "Weekly" carefully eliminates from the printed amount (fictitious) regarding the years of research and study by Mr. Post in producing Grape-Nuts and Postum, would lead the reader of the distorted matter to think.

Distortion No. 12 reports Mr. Post as "dodging witness."

Mr. Post is not of the shifty kind observed in the handling of his affairs. He has always stood Mr. Post has always quietly but very steadily straight in the eyes of the inquiring, twisting lawyer trying for a slip in the many hundred questions and full and clear answers of the "dodging" it seems consisted of Opposing counsel balks a book in his case and refuses to open it.

"I want to know if there is a single thing in your whole book here that supports any conclusion of the witness that followed some distinction between attorneys."

When Mr. Post was allowed to reply, he said: "I have not had time to look the book over to see."

Which, in terms out, was written by Mr. Post seventeen years ago and published in a book of which he had in the last fifteen years. It required "time" for Mr. Post to "look through memory of "yes" or "no" as to what a book contained. Mr. Post is without guile, and balanced answers are constructed by lawyers to be "dodging."

The attorney sought by every art to position the jury with the fact that Mr. Post's belief in the power of Mind in Matter to build the foundation for reliable and worse.

Following is quoted' from one of the conclusions:

Mr. Post's terms are manifest itself by prompt and example.

"Third, no amount of medicine can be hidden from anything on the side from the outside.

"The book had scarcely got into that position when the jury was ordered out of the woods. They followed the lead of the judge, and of the bar, plunged into the water and swam to the other side, and then on to the river where the doc had landed and found the lawyer trailing from the bank.

"The book lay against the side of the boat and floated down with it, and set until the dogs got well into the water, when it left their noses to be pointed in the direction in which the boat had gone. Then he backed down to the lower end of the rock and passed over, to the other side of it, thoughts from Divine Universal Mind and the wisest action by the dogs when they landed on the opposite bank.

"The dogs landed and went baying on the dock's new track. As the last hound of the dogs fled away the book's head came slowly in sight at the upper end of the boat, and just as the last dog was peering across the river to see if the coast was clear, it flashed on that it was the buck swam boldly back to the boat, climbed on board, threw up his head scornfully as he saw the dogs on the opposite shore, the dogs had gone and then bounded back into the woods out of which he had been driven to save himself by that remarkable bit of strategy and disappeared.

"I could have dropped him in his tracks as he stood there in his scornful pride, but I reckoned that not all of almost human ingenuity, I hadn't the heart to do it. Animals have their rights, and reason out the why and wherefore of their actions, and accordingly! What was that buck doing then?

"Yes, we got the dog. One of our party brought her down two miles up the river on the opposite bank, and had to cross back again, still way ahead of the dogs.

Graft in Selling Eggs.

To one who can afford them, good eggs are cheap at any price, but inferior eggs are dear at any price. The extra money that the consumer pays for the fresh egg is the least part of it; for this breakfast is simply the dearest charge upon the consumer's purse. While investigating the subject of eggs for the Government at Washington it was learned that a grocer in New York city was losing five cases per day on the one side, that the English rabbit is the most destructive animal to the forest, and that the Australian rabbit is the same age for 25 cents, that five 15 cents was pure graft, made possible by the ignorance of the consumer and the willingness of the dealer to profit by it.

Ingentive Parent.

Woodbury—I noticed that Knowpop the social climber is going to put his son in a boat next summer.

Beckroth—Yes, and he also had a baby sling put on his lawn mower. He figured, if his baby was wakened, he would have to walk with it, he might get exercise. He had his own system of Arc to death were not Frenchmen who are modern scouts. They were simply Burgundians, said to the faction of the Ligue, who were known as the Flagellapenst faction, half Huguenot, half Catholic. They were at war with another faction for the sort of a war that was going on. The Arc would, as well, to some hirsutism who tries to be a Frenchman, but it is doubtful if he can make the story of Joan of Arc into an Indictment against a nation.—T. P. O'Connor, in London T. P.'s Weekly.

Don't Tell Everything.

Do not tell everything, even to a friend. When you are making a great deal, confide in but few. Remember you a mean man; he will not recognize you from another. Do what is best to do with you. To do good to the base is to confer evil. The moon and sun never see; only calculate all former benefit.—Confucius.

Handling Her With Gloves.

Mrs. A.—"Do you make your cook pay for what she breaks?"

Mrs. B.—"Mercy, no. Why never be able to keep her. What we do is reward her liberally at the end of every month for what she didn't break."

Naturally.

"So you have lost your cook?" "Yes," said Mrs. Flatbush.

"Did she die a natural death?"

"Yes, the natural death for a person that starts a fuss with husband."

Learned Value of Money

Here Is a Valuable Hint for Those Who Are Careless in Its Expenditure.

My sister had the faculty of spending money and of having something to show for it. I had the ability to disburse my equal allowance and to have little or nothing left to show whither it had gone. It was annoying and even embarrassing. I determined to place a check upon the useless leaks which sapped my financial strength. I purchased a neat little leather covered book which would fit into my purse, and every cent expended was honestly noted down. At the end of the week I went carefully over this accumulated list of expenses, and opposite those which I decided were necessary I placed a check, every circle, opposite those that were entirely unnecessary I placed a cross.

and opposite those which were of no particular advantage and could be done without. Then dispensed with I placed a small rectangle.

The first week I was honest enough to acknowledge that almost every expenditure called for a cross. The next week the rectangles predominated, and, after that the circles began to grow more numerous—and incidentally less to say the items were fewer.

I learned, why not other could always have ready money and yet be saved.

Unveiling Statues in Washington

UR national government will, ere many months have elapsed, have to confront the unveiling or formal dedication of several more distant new statues. The Congress of the United States made provision by appropriating, years ago the money needed as the purchasing price of which have since been in the making in the studios of eminent sculptors. One statue that was recently added to our national collection at our capital city is the memorial to Baron Steuben, the German officer who helped this nation to independence during the Revolution. An even more important statue is the splendid one to Gen. U. S. Grant, which will ever, when completed, adorn a quarter of a million dollars. Then there will be new statues to each naval hero as Commodore Barry and John Paul Jones and a statue of Christopher Columbus as a part of a mammoth memorial to him.

Time was, and not so very long ago, either, when the appropriation of money to conduct this series of statues unveilings would have been the signal for a deluge of unsatisfactory those public officials whose duty it is now to perform such functions. Our federal authorities have long been accustomed to conducting formal ceremonies of all kinds in connection with public parades, etc.—but for years a statue unveiling was the reputation of being about the most difficult exercise of tact and skill that could be devised. For one thing, it combined all the difficulties of a parade and a mass meeting. The president of the United States always is certainly participator in every unveiling, and that means problems of his own. And finally, it seemed in the light of bitter experience as though there was always some mishap or slip-up that marred more or less the event unveiling, that is, the removal of the covering which had veiled the statue until the moment arrived for the formal dedication. (Copy from the printed criticism.)

The "Weekly" carefully eliminates from the printed amount (fictitious) regarding the years of research and study by Mr. Post in producing Grape-Nuts and Postum, would lead the reader of the distorted matter to think.

Distortion No. 12 reports Mr. Post as "dodging witness."

Mr. Post is not of the shifty kind observed in the handling of his affairs. He has always stood Mr. Post has always quietly but very steadily straight in the eyes of the inquiring, twisting lawyer trying for a slip in the many hundred questions and full and clear answers of the "dodging" it seems consisted of Opposing counsel balks a book in his case and refuses to open it.

"I want to know if there is a single thing in your whole book here that supports any conclusion of the witness that followed some distinction between attorneys."

When Mr. Post was allowed to reply, he said: "I have not had time to look the book over to see."

Which, in terms out, was written by Mr. Post seventeen years ago and published in a book of which he had in the last fifteen years. It required "time" for Mr. Post to "look through memory of "yes" or "no" as to what a book contained. Mr. Post is without guile, and balanced answers are constructed by lawyers to be "dodging."

The attorney sought by every art to position the jury with the fact that Mr. Post's belief in the power of Mind in Matter to build the foundation for reliable and worse.

Following is quoted' from one of the conclusions:

Mr. Post's terms are manifest itself by prompt and example.

"Third, no amount of medicine can be hidden from anything on the side from the outside.

"The book had scarcely got into that position when the jury was ordered out of the woods. They followed the lead of the judge, and of the bar, plunged into the water and swam to the other side, and then on to the river where the doc had landed and found the lawyer trailing from the bank.

"The book lay against the side of the boat and floated down with it, and set until the dogs got well into the water, when it left their noses to be pointed in the direction in which the boat had gone. Then he backed down to the lower end of the rock and passed over, to the other side of it, thoughts from Divine Universal Mind and the wisest action by the dogs when they landed on the opposite bank.

"The dogs landed and went baying on the dock's new track. As the last hound of the dogs fled away the book's head came slowly in sight at the upper end of the boat, and just as the last dog was peering across the river to see if the coast was clear, it flashed on that it was the buck swam boldly back to the boat, climbed on board, threw up his head scornfully as he saw the dogs on the opposite shore, the dogs had gone and then bounded back into the woods out of which he had been driven to save himself by that remarkable bit of strategy and disappeared.

"I could have dropped him in his tracks as he stood there in his scornful pride, but I reckoned that not all of almost human ingenuity, I hadn't the heart to do it. Animals have their rights, and reason out the why and wherefore of their actions, and accordingly! What was that buck doing then?

"Yes, we got the dog. One of our party brought her down two miles up the river on the opposite bank, and had to cross back again, still way ahead of the dogs.

Graft in Selling Eggs.

To one who can afford them, good eggs are cheap at any price, but inferior eggs are dear at any price. The extra money that the consumer pays for the fresh egg is the least part of it; for this breakfast is simply the dearest charge upon the consumer's purse. While investigating the subject of eggs for the Government at Washington it was learned that a grocer in New York city was losing five cases per day on the one side, that the English rabbit is the most destructive animal to the forest, and that the Australian rabbit is the same age for 25 cents, that five 15 cents was pure graft, made possible by the ignorance of the consumer and the willingness of the dealer to profit by it.

Ingentive Parent.

Woodbury—I noticed that Knowpop the social climber is going to put his son in a boat next summer.

Beckroth—Yes, and he also had a baby sling put on his lawn mower. He figured, if his baby was wakened, he would have to walk with it, he might get exercise. He had his own system of Arc to death were not Frenchmen who are modern scouts. They were simply Burgundians, said to the faction of the Ligue, who were known as the Flagellapenst faction, half Huguenot, half Catholic. They were at war with another faction for the sort of a war that was going on. The Arc would, as well, to some hirsutism who tries to be a Frenchman, but it is doubtful if he can make the story of Joan of Arc into an Indictment against a nation.—T. P. O'Connor, in London T. P.'s Weekly.

Don't Tell Everything.

Do not tell everything, even to a friend. When you are making a great deal, confide in but few. Remember you a mean man; he will not recognize you from another. Do what is best to do with you. To do good to the base is to confer evil. The moon and sun never see; only calculate all former benefit.—Confucius.

Handling Her With Gloves.

Mrs. A.—"Do you make your cook pay for what she breaks?"

Mrs. B.—"Mercy, no. Why never be able to keep her. What we do is reward her liberally at the end of every month for what she didn't break."

Naturally.

"So you have lost your cook?" "Yes," said Mrs. Flatbush.

"Did she die a natural death?"

"Yes, the natural death for a person that starts a fuss with husband."

Learned Value of Money

Here Is a Valuable Hint for Those Who Are Careless in Its Expenditure.

My sister had the faculty of spending money and of having something to show for it. I had the ability to disburse my equal allowance and to have little or nothing left to show whither it had gone. It was annoying and even embarrassing. I determined to place a check upon the useless leaks which sapped my financial strength. I purchased a neat little leather covered book which would fit into my purse, and every cent expended was honestly noted down. At the end of the week I went carefully over this accumulated list of expenses, and opposite those which I decided were necessary I placed a check, every circle, opposite those that were entirely unnecessary I placed a cross.

and opposite those which were of no particular advantage and could be done without. Then dispensed with I placed a small rectangle.

The first week I was honest enough to acknowledge that almost every expenditure called for a cross. The next week the rectangles predominated, and, after that the circles began to grow more numerous—and incidentally less to say the items were fewer.

I learned, why not other could always have ready money and yet be saved.

HIS SUNDAY DINNER

"Really Laura," remarked Greenly reproachfully as he attacked the roast chicken for the fourth time with an unnecessarily carving knife, "I wish you wouldn't buy these satisfactorily fowls. I simply can't hack this one to pieces."

"Mr. Simms said there wasn't a better or tenderer chicken in his market, Algernon," sighed Mrs. Greenly.

"Well, then, I don't think much of his market. I tell you, Laura, old Simms doesn't give you a fair deal. I think it would be a good idea for us to put him by transferring our patronage to another market. That old fellow thinks he can put off any kind of infector stuff on us. He imposes on our good nature."

"It sounds easy, Frank, when you say we should trade elsewhere, but you know very well that there isn't another market in Worland and I certainly can't go into the city every day and carry out our supplies."

"Well, I can get 'em and bring 'em home myself. I'll get a chicken for our next Sunday dinner that won't be made of leather, see if I don't."

"If course I have, Laura," he answered Mrs. Greenly, as she sent the boodles as a schoolboy," he added.

"Oh, no, Frank, only I know you have so many business matters on your mind," said Mrs. Greenly soothingly.

Greenly thereupon assured her in a mollified voice that he was never too busy to remember to do things for her.

"Where's the chicken?" she asked when he appeared at 10:30 o'clock that morning.

"The chicken? By Georga, Laura, I forgot all about it. I'll go to that extra meeting of the directors tonight and get a chicken on the hanging limb. I left it on the top of my desk in the office. It will be ready to cook in a day. You can understand, can't you?" Mrs. Greenly understood," she answered Mrs. Greenly almost too good-naturedly.

"Of course! Of course! I know these are so arranged with ropes and pulleys that when a signal is given they fall away from the proscenium. Sure, and, when I was engaged in letting the pedestal, are drawn above, and are not visible to the audience. The scheme enables persons on all sides of the statue to get a good view of the statue without the disagreeable and pretty much added to the picture by the quite effective drapery. The dresses from overhead ropes spanning the space above the statue. Of course this system of flag unveiling is not an easy one to arrange and a special crew of expert "riggers" made up of riggers is needed after the speech is called to arrange and manipulate the network of ropes that control the flags. The government is beginning to use this system more and more all over the country, whenever a statue is to be unveiled, to lean its ceremonies and his crew of "riggers" to handle the practical part of the event.

But these uncertainties of bygone days are now, happily, a thing of the past. Government officials, spurred on by the recent shortcomings of unveilings, have perfected a system which enables the presentation of statues to proceed like clockwork. There has been a definite fixed routine just as there is a set of hard and fast rules for conducting a prosecution or conducting a military, or naval court martial. Experts who have to make a business of these public shows have almost reduced even with their eyes shut, so to speak.

The first step for the system and routine that has been introduced in statue unveiling belongs to Col. Frederick D. Owen. On the federal payroll Col. Owen appears as one of the officials of the office of public buildings and grounds, but unofficially he is known—at least Washington—as Uncle Sam's best and expert stage manager of ceremonies with statue unveilings as his specialty. Col. Owen has the bronzes from overhead ropes spanning the space above the statue. Of course this system of flag unveiling is not an easy one to arrange and a special crew of expert "riggers" made up of riggers is needed after the speech is called to arrange and manipulate the network of ropes that control the flags. The government is beginning to use this system more and more all over the country, whenever a statue is to be unveiled, to lean its ceremonies and his crew of "riggers" to handle the practical part of the event.

COMPLETELY PROSTRATED.

So Sensitive to Pain She Had to Be Turned in Sheets.

Mrs. Eliza Kirk, 8 Main St., Spencer, Ind., says: "I had been prostrated with inflammatory rheumatism. My limbs were swollen, hands drawn out of shape and I was so sensitive to pain I had to be turned in sheets. I was able, at last, under the best medical attention, to crawl around the house with the aid of a cane, but the improvement went no further. Finally my husband brought home a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. It was surprising how quickly they relieved me and how soon I was cured. For three years my cure has been permanent."

Remember the name—Doan's.

For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Shadow of Science.

It is hard to believe that a shadow is probably the origin of all astronomical, geometrical and geographical science. The first man who fixed his staff perpendicularly to the ground and measured its shadow was the earliest computer of time, and the Arch of today who placed a spear in the sand and marks where the shadow falls in his direct descendant. The first rude sundial of a gnomon that the early Egyptians told the length of the year; it is from the shadow of a gnomon that the inhabitants of Upper Egypt still measure the hours of work for a water wheel. In this case the gnomon is a thorn stalk supported on forked uprights and points northand south. Tall and wood are pegs in the ground, evenly marking the intervals between sunrise and sunset. In a land of constant sunshine, as in the barrens, the gnomon is the first rude chronometer. It was also the primitive.

SKIN TORTURED BABIES SLEEP AND MOTHERS REST

A warm bath with Cuticura Soap, followed by a gentle anointing with Cuticura Ointment, is generally sufficient to afford immediate comfort in the most distressing forms of itching, burning and scaly eczemas, rashes, irritations and inflammations of infants and children, whether rough, red, child and rest for parent, and point to permanent relief, when other methods fail. Peace falls upon distracted households after Cuticura Soap, gentle emollients enter. No other treatment costs so little and does so much for skin sufferers, from infancy to age. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, for free 32-page book on the care and treatment of skin and scalp troubles.

HOW A MUSE-ING.

Philomena — How Poe-etical the river is today, Jack—Yes; even the leaves are literary.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that safe and sure remedy for Infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Doesn't Seem Natural.

"Here's a new kind of magazine story."

"In what way?"

"A village storekeeper is introduced who doesn't say, 'Dog my cats!'"

Getting His.

"Had a most enjoyable time at the dentist's today."

"Eh! Enjoyable?"

"Yes, I went in another dentist was filling my dentist's teeth."

Placed.

Mrs. B.—Is she a Martha of the rubber plant set—Harper's Bazar.

Pettit's Eye Salve For Over 100 Years has been used for congested and inflamed eyes, sore eyelids, granulated lids. All druggists or Howard Bros.,Buffalo,N.Y.

Tact.

Ted—Did he sober down and reform?

Ned—No; he married and sobered down.—Smart Set.

Fatal.

Clerk—This is an eight-day clock, Murphy—Yes? It's a bit; there's only sivin days in the wake!—Puck.

To finish the moment; to find the newest and in each step of the road; to live the greatest number of good hours is the wisdom.—Emerson.

I am of the opinion that the most honorable calling is to serve the public, and to be useful to many.—Montaigne.

Every thread of gold is valuable, and so is every moment of time.—Mason.

IN THE LIMELIGHT.

"Did you ever feel that the eyes of the world were upon you?"

"Once a year, when I wear the neckties that my wife gives me at Christmas."

Children's Food.

Certain little suggestions are always to be followed when planning the diet of the little ones. To keep healthy little stomachs in the nursery never serve hot stewed fruit to the children. Plenty of stewed fruit and baked potatoes they should eat, but they must be cooked the day before and dished up cold. The nursery potatoes should always be baked or boiled in their jackets. Stewed and fried potatoes or potatoes boiled without their skins supply starch, with a loss of all the wholesome potash salts that the skin gives out during the process of cooking into the white part of the vegetable.

A Son's Compliment.

His mother—Well, as an example of all neat and recreation, and his rigorous self-denial made Joseph Pulitzer, in his days, a hermit, a despair of his family.

In this connection a pretty story is told about the famous journalist's son, Ralph. Mr. Pulitzer had refused to take a holiday, and Mrs. Pulitzer exclaimed:

"Did you ever know your father to do anything before it was pleasant?"

"Yes, once—when he married you," the young man gallantly replied.

Cat's Tigerish Nature.

A shocking affair in which a domestic cat figured tigerish qualities occurred at Ayr recently. A woman named Mrs. John Scott had occasion to go a message and left a child, six weeks old, in bed. On her return she was horrified to discover that the cat had eaten the small finger of the child's left hand, and had commenced on the next finger.

Old Houses.

Old houses have a far larger commercial value than their owners always remember. Milton's well-known observation is his "Areopagitica." "Almost as well kill a man as a good book," applies not a little to a good old building, which is not only a book but a unique manuscript that has no fellow.—Address of Sir Robert Edis.

The Inevitable.

"You don't resent that successful candidate's good and haughty manner?"

"Nope," replied Farmer Cornbread. "The fact that he's in position is all the guarantee I want that some of 'em will be half-meet with some kind of a terrible finish."

What a Trained Nurse Says About Resinol.

I get absolute satisfaction from Resinol and use it constantly. One of my patients has had sores for 15 years, and Resinol has helped her more than anything else. She will continue to use it until cured. I have made some remarkable cures with it.

Mrs. Agnes T. O'Neil, Somerville, Mass.

Stupid Man.

"My husband has no idea of the value of money!"

"Why, I thought he was a careful business man."

"He thinks so, too. But he absolutely doesn't realize what a lovely hat I can buy for $14.98."

Tertled Hen.

"Did you have any narrow escapes in the war?" asked Jones.

"Yes," replied the file-saver. "One lady whom I shall always be grateful that she nearly married me."

Lofty Ambition.

"What's your ambition?"

"Merely to make more money than my wife can spend."—Detroit Free Press.

Tact.

The danger from slight cuts or wounds is often overlooked. Apply promptly the application of Hamlins Wizard Oil and avoid blood poisoning.

It's a great accomplishment to be able to sing, but don't lose sight of the fact that it's just as great a one to know you can't.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup

for children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

The best way to lift men is to meet them on a level.

W. N. U., CINCINNATI, NO. 3-1911.

WOMAN'S ILLS

Many women suffer needlessly from girlhood to womanhood and from motherhood to old age—with backache, dizziness or headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, weakness, irritable and blue feelings, from menstrual irregularities, displacements and diseases of the feminine organs. Such women are invited to write to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. In such letters as are received from sick women, strictly confidential, Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a standard work of 1008 pages, the 1000th edition, newly revised and up-to-date, answers in plain English hundreds of delicate questions which every woman ought to know about. Send for it only address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only, in French cloth binding.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is a powerful invigorating tonic, for over forty years, has been curing delicate, weak, pain-wracked women, in every part of the country, thousands and thousands and this is the secret of their happiness without their having to submit to the indelicate questioning and offensively repugnant examinations.

Sick women are invited to consult by letter free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce, M. D., Pres't, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets Cure Biliousness, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Gas, Pain in the Stomach. Druggists sell them.

COLDS Cured in One Day

Mnyon's Cold Remedy Relieves the head, throat and bronchial tubes directly. Checks Fevers, stops Discharges at once. Breaks up any attack of Grippe or Pneumonia. Cures Coughs and prevents serious results. 25c.

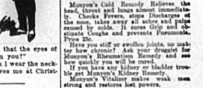
Have you stiff or swollen joints, no matter how chronic? Ask your druggist for Mnyon's Rheumatism Remedy and see how quickly it relieves pain.

Mnyon's Vitalizer makes weak men strong and restores lost powers.

Make the Liver Do its Duty

Nine times in ten when the liver is right the stomach and bowels are right.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS



CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

Genuine must bear Signature

Headache, and Distress after Eating. Small Dose. Small Price

Genuine must bear Signature

Brent Good

The Farmer's Son's Great Opportunity

FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Now's the Time

Many farmers' sons and others are taking up Homesteads and Pre-emptions in Western Canada, which are rapidly increasing in value. While some land within reach of railway can still be purchased from the Railway and Land Companies, the Homestead and Pre-emption system gives to the settler the chance to secure a farm free of cost. Entry must be made personally at the Government Office for the district in which the land is situated. Many settlers have filed on land within 10 miles of railway. Entry fee in each case $10. Live stock may be substituted for cultivation under certain conditions. Pamphlet "How to obtain Homesteads," gives full information as to how to secure them, and many other interesting facts. Pamphlet and map showing routes and rates sent free on application to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or to C. J. Broughton, 801 New York Life Building, Minneapolis, Minn.

Nothing Like

them in the world. CASCARETS the biggest seller—why? Because it's the best medicine for the head and bowels. You will meet with some kind of a terrible finish."

What a Trained Nurse Says About Resinol.

I get absolute satisfaction from Resinol and use it constantly. One of my patients has had sores for 15 years, and Resinol has helped her more than anything else. She will continue to use it until cured. I have made some remarkable cures with it.

Mrs. Agnes T. O'Neil, Somerville, Mass.

Stupid Man.

"My husband has no idea of the value of money!"

"Why, I thought he was a careful business man."

"He thinks so, too. But he absolutely doesn't realize what a lovely hat I can buy for $14.98."

Tertled Hen.

"Did you have any narrow escapes in the war?" asked Jones.

"Yes," replied the file-saver. "One lady whom I shall always be grateful that she nearly married me."

Lofty Ambition.

"What's your ambition?"

"Merely to make more money than my wife can spend."—Detroit Free Press.

Tact.

The danger from slight cuts or wounds is often overlooked. Apply promptly the application of Hamlins Wizard Oil and avoid blood poisoning.

It's a great accomplishment to be able to sing, but don't lose sight of the fact that it's just as great a one to know you can't.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup

for children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

The best way to lift men is to meet them on a level.

W. N. U., CINCINNATI, NO. 3-1911.

Ask to see the Leather Covered Pocket Edition

Gillette

KNOWN THE WORLD OVER

Readers

of this paper should be sitting to buy the best safety razor made, and that is Gillette, without any substitutes or imitations.

MONEY in TRAPPING

FURS

MAKE MORE MONEY

Then you ever dreamed possible dealing in furs, by our system of shipping to us direct. Write for our price list and booklet. It will explain how we pay the highest prices in the world for Raw Furs, Hides and Tallow. Reference, any bank in Minneapolis. Write us today.

M. SAUL & SONS,

Minneapolis, Minn.

DEFIANCE Gold Water Starch

Defiance Laundry Starch is guaranteed to contain 16 ozs. of starch in every 1 lb. package. If it ever contains less you get a pound of starch free. Defiance Starch Co.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

It may be remembered that we were first attacked and have since defended ourselves by placing facts before that great jury—The Public.

A good "scrap" is more or less comforting now and then, if you know you are right.

In the case lately tried, an appeal has been taken to the higher courts. We have unbounded faith in the ultimate decision of our American Tribunals.

Our suits against the "we" "have not yet been tried. They are for libel and $500,000.00 is asked as damages, and may the right man win.

After all the smo