There Was Frank, Open Admiration in His Glance.

The RING and the MAN

WITH SOME INCIDENTAL RELATION TO THE WOMAN

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY

ILLUSTRATIONS BY GEORGINNA MELVILLE

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY STREET & SMITH

SYNOPSIS.

A foolish young cowherder becomes fascinated with the bold, artful wife of a drunken, prosperous farmer and neighbor. Under the influence of her charms he is induced to steal and embezzle the money of his employer. Off North Dakota way he plans to meet the lady and elope upon their ill-gotten gains. Their flight to the railroad station the woman's home is interrupted by the husband