Stock, Crops, Land, Etc.

The combined receipts of live stock at six western markets last week, including Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, St. Joseph, and Sioux City, were 128,000 cattle, 491,500 hogs, and 147,000 sheep. On the corresponding week of last year the receipts at these markets were 113,000 cattle, 222,400 hogs and 139,200 sheep. From January 1st, 1911, to close of last week the receipts at these markets were 2,502,000 cattle, 7,531,000 hogs and 2,586,000 sheep. For the corresponding period of last year the receipts were 2,279,000 cattle, 6,662,000 hogs and 2,916,000 sheep.

The average price of live stock on the Chicago market last week, as compiled by the Drovers Journal, were: cattle $5.70; hogs $6.12; sheep $4.91; lambs $6.00. The averages on the corresponding week of last year were: cattle $7.65; hogs $7.65; sheep $6.15; and lambs $8.35.

Simon Well, Lexington, Ky., who has been shopping a large number of cattle at Silver Creek, Madison county, this season, sold the lot to Nelson Morris, at $7.50 per cwt. There were 120 head in the bunch, and they averaged 1,365.

According to those who know, there were about 40,000 sheep and cattle in Kentucky this year, and the shippers will lose the profits they made last year. This has been anything but a cattle year.

At the sale of Shorthorns at the Elmendorf Farm, Lexington, Ky., Betty Bine Pearl averaged $50. The highest price was brought by Longmeil Beauty, who sold for $825. A large crowd attended the sale and the bidding was brisk.

Mules.

Do not expect your young mule to develop perfectly on a ration of corn and timothy hay or straw. Use a liberal ration for calves and do it.

The mule should have some oats, wheat bran, or a ration of a pound and a half daily of cottonseed meal or oil meal with timothy hay or straw. The cheapest ration for calves is corn.

Corn, oats, bran, alfalfa and cottonseed meal are mule and horse feed rations for the work stock.

Mules need salt. It is good to have a block of rock salt where they can reach it every day.

Mules need water. Water is really for the mule all they always be ready for work, too.

It is an important fact that the mule has a ... of the oat it is in that he have good breeding.

Won't Send Letters

Nick Carter, the famous blood-hound of Kentucky, is dead, but there will be no letters of regret written by the criminal element of Kentucky to Carter's Sunday Post News-Journal.

He seems to us the newspapers will miss "Nick Carter," more than the Criminal element, for they will have to throw away their old expression "the dog failed to pick up the trail."

Must Important.

Next to knowing when to retire or, especially, the most important thing in life is knowing when to forgive an offender.—Beecroftfield.

Couldn't Take the Time.

Superintendent on Sunday school scholars after an address by visiting minister: "I was going to ask the school to sing one hymn by request, but I see by the time of Tuesday we can't take the time now."

One on the Agnostic.

A city slicker taught an agnostic a lesson with simple inoffensiveness and kindness. "I believe," said the agnostic, "that the small mule is the most intelligent animal." The child unexpectedly replied: "Did it ever bray?"

Uncle Jerry's Tribute.

Uncle Jerry Peebles was returning from the funeral of an acquaintance. "Well, I'll say one thing for old Josh McGlothlet," he remarked, with an effort to be cheerful; "he lived a consistent life, anyhow. He always took his liquor straight, and in all his 75 years he never drunk his coffee any other way than out of his saucer."
